Freshman Dents.

Toby Organist, Get Acquainted and Propose to do Some Singing and Athletics.

On Wednesday morning the freshman dents held a meeting for the purpose of organizing. P. D. Carrey was elected president and W. H. Smuts their secretary-treasurer. It was decided to choose a committee to look after athletics and also another committee to see about forming a glee club. These committees will be chosen at a later date. The class is asked to watch for a button, so that members may recognize each other.

A plan is yet to be set up to get the members acquainted with each other. Each one wrote on the board his location in Iowa, address and home address. This gave the class an opportunity to associate the names with the faces.

Some time next week the class will give a smoker in one of the halls down town.

The classes numbers about 100, the largest class in the history of the school. It has been necessary to put in additional lockers to accommodate the members of the class. All are men except one, Mrs. Polkaton, an Armenian lady.

FORENSIC SOCIETIES RESUME WORK.

The various forensic societies of the University are planning to begin their work this fall with their regular programs next Friday evening.

For the benefit of the new students we give a brief outline of the organization and work of these societies.

There are for men in the college of Liberal Arts the forensic societies, the forensic, the forensic pathological society, the phrenological society, and the Irving Institute. Admission to these societies is based on the object, primarily training in forensic work and parapsychic practices. Inter-class and inter-society contests in debate and oratory are held each year, and proficiency in and final debate with other universities. However, the fraternal fellowship among the members of each society is not least of the advantages to be derived.

These societies hold programs every Friday evening in their halls in Close Hall, which are open to the public. After the open session, the business session, which is a secret session, is held, at which the business of the organization is transacted, and incidentally valuable training in parapsychic practice is obtained.

Associating with these three are the three ladies societies, the Hesperian, Octave Thanet, and the Erodolphian. Ladies of the University of Liberal Arts are eligible to membership in these societies and the object and scope is much the same as that of the men's societies. The three last named meet in the halls in Close Hall, every other Saturday evening.

The law student is represented in forensic work by the Forum and the Hammond Law Senate, to which are added the forensic societies. Their meetings are held every Friday evening in the Hammond Law Senate in the law building, and the Foren in the public speaking room of the Hall of Liberal Arts.

It has been said by men who have done work in the societies that no equal amount of work in the way of regular University work, has been of so much value to them as that spent in the forensic societies, which alone, it seems, is reason enough for all those who are eligible and possess the energy, to join one or another of these societies, all of which extend a hearty welcome to new students to come and join the benefits to be derived.

IRVING ERODOPHILIN RECEPTION.

Last night the Irving and Erodolphian societies held a reception for new students. It was undoubtedly the largest reception ever given by these societies.

The guests were seated at the door by Miss Marsh, Miss Chloe and R. W. Bierman, and ushered into the Irving Hall. The room was perfectly decorated with bunting, representing the society colors and with golden rod in honor of the "Old Gold."

In order to better accommodate the great number, the Philanthome Hall was thrown open.

Miss Brandon kindly favored the present with several well rendered selections on the piano. Light refreshments were served late in the evening and all present declare the evening to have been a most enjoyable one, very successful in the way of making the new students acquainted. Miss Brandon's selection may well be satisifed with the success of the undertaking.

THE BATTLELION IS ORGANIZED.

At the second meeting of the University battalion 88 new men were assigned to their companies by Colonel Works. The prospects are for a fine battle during the year. The new recruits are drilled in the setting up exercises and some older cadets.

At last night's drill the companies reported as follows:

Company C..............................................31
Company B..............................................30
Company G..............................................30

CROSS COUNTRY.

A call for students interested in cross-country running has recently been issued.

This year cross-country work arouse more than ordinary interest among the students, and it is expected that there will be more men enter the races than in any former year.

Iowa's success on the track during the past season is largely responsible for this increased interest, for trainees and students alike are beginning to realize that cross-country work is the basis of track athletics.

Men enter the races for the pleasure afforded by a joy through the country during the competition runs. Women, as W. J. Morgan, storekeeper in chemistry.

Appointments were made as follows:

D. S. Batson, fellow in political economy.

Charles Raines, scholar in English.

Henrietta Ferris, assistant in French.

E. J. Hingens, student assistant in zoology.

Lewis J. Shuster, assistant in dermatology.

R. L. Byrns, senior assistant in pathology and bacteriology.

M. M. Myler, assistant demonstrator of operative technology.

The following vote of thanks to the, Col. F. O. Lowden, of Chicago, was passed:

"Whereas, the Hon. F. O. Lowden, an honored alumnus of this university, has acquired for and presented to the university the classical library of Dr. E. Puppe, of Huntington, Iowa, an eminent teacher of broad scholarship, Resolved, that the board of regents regard this library as of great value, that the same be accepted with the hearty thanks of the university to Col. Lowden for his generous gift and that the library be known as the Dr. E. Puppe, of Huntington, Iowa, an eminent teacher of broad scholarship."

AFTER THE GAME OF TUESDAY.

Hawkeyes Played a Ragged Game.

Community game of Cedar Rapids Tuesday by the score of 27 to 6.

Bryan has some snappy players, but they are not on the same level as the Maroons. The negro footballist of Coe, plays very fine football. Coe's hopes of defending the state title were badly shattered and another reporter's pipe dream failed to materialize.

Both teams played well for the first game, but the playing was very ragged. The men are not in their real form yet, but by the time of the next game the team will be playing its usual class of ball. Fritzell showed up well in his first appearance at halfback, and Simons shows promise of being a good man this season. Murphy showed up exceptionally well at left halfback and played the entire game. He played a good offensive game for Iowa and made many gains. Andy Chalmers was badly missed from the game Tuesday, he being in hospital in Dubuque.

The fans were delighted to see the big fellows out again defending Iowa's line. Aikinson is the heaviest guard in the west and Iowa is proud of the big fellow. "Rockie" is also noted as being a good "stonewall."

The hot day had a great deal to do with Iowa's ragged playing. The score 27 to 6, is larger to Iowa's credit by 10 than at last year.

This shows that Coe is weaker or that Iowa is stronger than last season. Iowa is certainly heavier as a team than last year and ought to go through the state games with a rush, and win them all handily. The team should make Chicago play for all she gets and ought to score on Minnesota and possibly beyond, her, though the Gophers are too hard a proposition to count much on winning on the game at Minneapolis.

Kent showed good head work at quarter but tried his best to make a quarter-back run. "Germany" was used to good advantage in being pushed cover for touchdowns.

McCowan tried but little better Tuesday. "Magowan" has always been noted for his hurdling gains. Streff, showed good speed and White ran well with the ball. Iowa's line held at all times, all of Coe's few runs being made around end.

Tuesday's game cannot be considered as a fair sample of Iowa's playing but simply as a practice game. Saturday Iowa plays Monmouth, and better all-round playing will be seen. On the whole the Coe-Iowa game was very good for a closer.

Mr. Frank Sampeter has accepted a position as instructor in drawing in an Illinois' college. His work begins at once.

A. V. Spr layer, of Cherokee, is in Iowa City attending the grand lodge meeting of the Masons. Mr. Sprayer is superintendent of the schools of that city, and is one of the most popular men in Iowa. He was Iowa's representative in the National Teachers' association. He is a popular institute conductor, a genuine man. Iowa's schools need many such men.

The next game Iowa will make is round trip of 56 cents, Iowa City to Cedar Rapids, and return every day next week during the carnival, October 2nd to 7th, list prices good on all trains and limited to day of sale. The battle of Port Arthur will be reproduced at the Cedar Rapids carnival in fireworks of silver and gold, showing the part with two battle ships each side in bantamcy, by a rain of silver and gold fire. This is Pain's masterpiece and nothing so elaborate has ever been seen. During the evening there will be numerous other pyrotechnic pieces flooding the entire neighborhood with dazzling light. From the standpoint of numbers and expense, the fireworks this year are by far the best ever given. This is but one of the many features of Iowa's greatest carnival.

SMART chaps are always eager to inaugurate the new season in advance of the throng.

We shall hold our opening display of Fall and Winter overcoats much earlier than the other shops because this is a shop that doesn't cater to men of average ideas.

You swagger young fellows around the young twentyniners to-day are dictators of proper clothes to wear.

PAIN'S FIREWORKS

College Brand Clothes

laid out for choosing tomorrow.

They are nearer to the custom-tailor idea than any ready-to-wear garments have ever touched. They have all the little trickeries of special measurement—as much, if not more, swing and dash to them, and certainly an equal degree of fitting perfection.

You can't find clothes just like College Brand Clothes because there 'ain't none', and different from clothes for men of settled tastes.

They are custom shouldered—custom draped the cloths are custom clothes—the cut is the cut of custom shop.

College Brand Clothes coat no more than any other good sort of ready-made clothing—this resemblance, however, is only price-deep.
