Shorty before three, Monmouth scored another point, this time to bring the score to 10-0. The ball was on the 15-yard line and Murphy kicked for a field goal, but the wind was so strong that the ball went wide-left of the goal.

Hawkeyes Battle on Gridiron with Monmouth.

The Hawkeye rushing attack was strong, with Murphy scoring on a 5-yard run, followed by a successful conversion. The Monmouth defense was unable to stop the Hawkeyes, who added another touchdown on a 2-yard run by Kent. The score after the failed extra point attempt was 16-0.

Notes of the Game.

The manager of the Monmouth team is a gentleman, and knows how to treat strangers when he meets them.

That new Iowa pupil upon the Old Capitol looks good to Iowa rookers.

Iowa squa' real like an army when they came on the field.

I wonder how many know what a man sacrifices when he leaves his work and furnishes free music.

Monmouth men were heavier than the Oce team.

Kent kicked off at four minutes after three.

The Monmouth team started a speedy game.

"We'll ramble," by the band, always sounds good to the team and others.

Iowa scored eleven minutes after the same started.

The drilling rain dampened the ball, but not the spirit of Iowa.

Fitzwell never stops playing. He keeps going like a rubber ball.

Kent made a pass of a run, and scored five for Iowa.

ALUMNI NOTES.

The new officers of the Debating League were elected last night. Perry Ritter was chosen president; Q. A. Burkhart, vice-president; J. G. Briggs, secretary; A. W. Bean, treasurer.

The outlook for the evening is very promising at this time. Graduate students of the league are now eligible to participate in debate once more. Students in two years, at least, remain in the University Heretofore only undergraduates have represented Iowa on the rostrum, but the use of the graduate members by the other schools that Iowa meets in has caused the change necessary. Three of the men elected to places on the preliminaries this year have already graduated from their respective societies.

The annual freshman-sophomore scrap at Parsons college came off on Wednesday morning, the sophs winning. The freshmen went down in glorious defeat, but were overpowered and lost their box in a jiffy. Various other articles of wearing apparel also showed wear and tear. Some of the sophs, too, bore earmarks of something doing. The fight was brief and carried on in a friendly spirit throughout.

SMART chaps are always eager to inaugurate the new season in advance of the throng. You swagger young fellows around the young twentier who today are dictators of proper clothes will find.

College Brand Clothes

laid out for choosing tomorrow. They are nearer to the custom-tailor idea than any ready-to-wear garments have ever touched. They have all the little trickeries of special measurement—as much, if not more, swinging and dash to them, and certainly an equal degree of fitting perfection.

You can't find clothes just like College Brand Clothes because there 'ain't note', and different from clothes for men of settled tastes. They are custom shouldered—custom draped—the clothes are custom clothes—the cut is the cut of custom shop. Every point has been strain-ed to make them outstandingly clever without straining you income in their buying.

College Brand Clothes cost no more than any other good sort of ready-made clothing—this resemblance, however, is only price-deep.

The moment you leave the cost ticket out of calculations they are no more like any other shop's stock than last year's College Brand Models are like this Fall's.
