After the Alumni Trounced Us.

Alumni Shows 'Varsity How to Play Football and Beat Iowa State.

They played the game off to the Missouri, Street, Chalmers and White were out of the game for the 'Varsity, but the Alumni had lost two days of practice, and still played better ball and made better performance than the 'Varsity had made all season. All men on the eleven worked together, and were in every play. The 'Varsity did not play so. There were four 1000 men in the game, Warner, Eff. Marion and Williams, but they and their colleagues of 1899, 1901 and 1904 played the 'Varsity off their feet.

When old Alumni come here without practice and beat the 'Varsity, what must they have been years back, and what would they have done to us if we were in a physical condition and had had the benefit of their old experience? It must have been worse than Chicago. The old men are wiry, and play like demons. How they have held their old plays nor the game. Joe Warner made a pretty place kick Saturday, something that 'Varsity has never done this season. There is certainly someone among the followers that can do so with practice. It is a very good thing to rely on--having a man who can kick fast any time and make a good play. It might be a good thing for the team and four more to their stars.

Bloom, who explained the Alumni so well was here last evening to give what help he could to the 'Varsity, and was and will be here all week.

These 1000 men gave the 'Varsity pointers that they never knew before and helped them materially. Coach Chalmers, with these good assistants, ought to get the team in shape to hold Minnesota down--away down below the score made on Ames. The team must do hard work and work to do so, and hit Iowa need feel shaky about going to Minneapolis for fear the team will disappoint them. Mr. Goewey, Chalmers, Street and White will all be in the game here Saturday. We are going to hit Minnesota hard as we did last year. Go along and see us do it.

PRACTICE COURT.

The members of the junior and senior classes of the college of law met with Prof. L. M. Byers Monday afternoon and received instructions relative to practice court work which will commence in a short time. Groupings are now being arranged and cases will be assigned in a few days.

Prof. Byers will act as judge of the court this year. He has appointed C. Ramseyer and E. F. Drewry associate justices. B. Schneider will act as clerk of the court and J. P. Miss will perform the duties of sheriff.

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity initiated three men into that Greek letter society Friday evening. Those initiated were: James L. Oaks and Grover Desmon of Clinton and Herbert Dickson of Rock Valley.

HESPESIA.

The Hesp had an exceedingly interesting program last Saturday evening. The first literary number was "Sketch Book," written by Miss Cecilia Latourette. It is needless to say that Miss Latourette did justice to the selection. Her readings are always good in every respect, and her listeners, always eager. The debate Resolved, That the U. S. government should own and control the postal telegraph system in connection with the postoffice, was affirmed by Louise Richardson and Caroline Paulson, and defeated by Miss Anders and Edna Kern. It was evident that the girls gave much study to the subject, for both sides received good defenses. Miss Sarah Roby's declamation, "In the Arena," was a very difficult one. Nevertheless, Miss Bayly pictured very beautifully the tragic scene in that romantic arena. It always sounds good to have the old days in Hesperia recalled, and Miss Alta Samuel told of the many happy times the girls had in "Old South Hall." Miss Edith Curtis read an essay entitled, "America's greatest author," the told in a simple way, and yet in a beautiful way, about the man who wrote the "Sketch Book."

After the program, the girls gave a spurt to the initiated. A number of Zeta persisted in having a share of the good things as well, after much persuasion the boys decided to go home and leave the Hesp to their fun.

DISCOURAGE MISSION STUDY.

The Y. M. C. A. devoted their Sunday afternoon meeting to presenting the worthy of missions. Messrs. McShan, McDonald and Humphrey made earnest addresses in the subject. Classes will be organized after the prayer meeting Wednesday evening, when all members remain to observe the interpretation of the new officers. The Reverend Mr. McShan will examine the new members and it is expected that all who are earnest will be received into the Christian church.

The skills will have a pen-Hol-Iday dance Saturday afternoon, Octo-

FRESHMAN DOINGS.

Last Saturday evening the Kappas initiated Josephine Lynch, Catherine Green, Mildred Schulte, Jessie Man- nery, Henrietta Presley, Catherine Lovett, and Thur Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Conel will entertain the Kappas and Deltas at euchre at their home Tuesday evening. October twenty-fourth.

The Alumni appeared yesterday, it is a handsome and creditable publication. Everything about it is good, and shows most careful work on the part of the editors, and plenty of it. Prof. Plum is still managing editor, having been so excellently satisfactory to the alumni that they refused to receive his resignation, which he tendered on account of lack of time.

FRESHMAN DOINGS.

FRATERNITY DOINGS.

Before a good-sized audience there was put on the walls the most interesting program last Saturday evening. It was certainly some among the students. Joe Warner appeared in a story. The story was a true boyhood recognition recognition at once.

THE LECTURE COURSE.

One may be judged to some extent by the amusements he chooses. One of the highest classes of amusement is offered by the lecture course. A first class course is one of the regular features in all good schools. It is a privilege to have the opportunity to attend such a series of entertainments as is offered in the course soon to be opened here.

Two fine musical programs, a lecture by one of the foremost literary men of the day, and two humorous numbers make up a combination that is ideal for the boy student. They offer pleasure for relaxation and have a decided culture value.

The price is exceedingly low. It is surprising that these numbers can be offered for twenty cents each. In fact it can only be done by the special combination of circumstances that exist in such places as this. One of the elements necessary to such a combination is ready patronage. The test has been done by the management. Let the students and faculty do their part, and it is done.

Also Continuance or Increase of the Millage Tax for Five Years—New Wing for University Hospital—Regents File Biennial Report Today.

The biennial report of the board of regents of Iowa university to the governor and the thirty-first general assembly was submitted Saturday. When published it will fill a 200-page volume, and is a review of the progress of the university in all lines during the past two years.

The most important feature of the report is the legislative budget. The regents ask annual and special appropriations to the amount of $21,000, and the extension of the one-fifth mill tax for another period of five years, with perhaps a discrimination in it. This millage tax expires in 1907 and a list of new buildings needed is given as well as the reason why there should be an increase.

Some of these, such as those of Descartes, Newton and Leibnitz are authentic, that of Da Vinci being from a famous painting by the Dutch artist, Frantz Hals. SIGHTSEEING FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

PLAY GOOD GAME.

Follow the Ball By Sense of Touch and Sound—Their Line Holds Like a Wall.

The Crescent Hill team of Louisville, Kentucky, played the team of the Kentucky Institute for the Blind Saturday. Though one would not expect a blind person to be skilled in the rough-and-tumble game of football, nevertheless they proved so. The blind boys held a heavy team to the score of 25 to 8, and two of these touchdowns were made on fumbles. Their sense of touch seems to be assisted by a marvelous intuition into the intentions of their opponents.

Barstow Corbett, the sightless Institute head, could not be held. He made holes through the Crescent Hill line at will, grinned under mass plays, and once, assisted only by his bearing the blind of the blind when it was dropped in a scrimmage, fell upon it, rose to his knees and dragged half the Crescent Hill men for fifteen yards before frowning. The weakness of the blind team showed itself chiefly in inaccurate passes. The blind boys play the same kind of ball as does any other school, with the exception that they try for no goals.

EDDA HOLDS FIRST MEETING.

The Edda Society Elects E. C. Neilson President and Three Listens to Paper By Prof. Fries.

At the first meeting of the Edda society for the year to fill vacancy, E. C. Neilson was elected president. The society voted to print the constitution and proceedings since its formation in February, 1901. A number of new names were recommended for membership by the executive committee.

Professor Fries then gave a paper on "The Earliest Swedish Immigration to America", in which he discussed the Swedish colony on the Delaware and early settlements in Wisconsin and Illinois.

The following quotation aptly applies to the professors who are laboring and denying themselves for the sake of the boys and girls of Iowa:

There is no death to the faithful teacher who has passed something of personal spirit to the children in the schools. The greatest immortality is that which is ready for any sacrifice, annihilation if need be, in order to do good. Such a life never ends. In geometry ratio it forever increases.
