Miss Chawner, Iowa City: "The organization of the Alumnae association gives promise of valuable aid in carrying on the state work and in keeping up the interest of the girls who have gone from the colleges. I believe it will inculcate itself to college women throughout the state."

Miss Conde, Chicago, national student secretary: "I think it has been a strong convention and a representative convention from the standpoint of the personnel of those present. The quality of thought has been strong and sustained."

Miss McKeeny, Des Moines, state secretary: "Miss Conde has been very helpful to the convention. We have felt a spirit of sympathy in the interest of others has been most helpful to the convention. We have felt a spirit of sympathy in the interest of others has been most helpful."

Mrs. Rawson, Des Moines, chairman of state committee: "I think it has been the strongest convention we have ever had. It has been very spiritual."

Mrs. Byers, Omaha: "The starting of the Alumnae association has been the strongest convention we believe it will commend itself to everyone."

Mrs. MacLean, Iowa City: "The work of the Alumnae association has been strong from the beginning."}

...In the convention just closed the subject of missions has had its usual prominent place. Few of the speakers were able to talk long without mentioning missions, but the subject was taken up particularly by Dr. Mary E. Field, recently from Korea, by Miss Bertha Conde, and by Rev. W. F. Parsons, president of Parsons college Iowa. Miss Conde says that unless we are interested in missions we are not typical Christians.

Dr. Field's Lecture on Korea.

The two classes of women discussed were very young girls and married women. When a girl marries she becomes the slave of her mother-in-law.

Women are bought and sold in slavery, the common price being fifteen thousand dollars for each. The marriage of a girl lasts a year.

The native workers are almost useless in the native fields.

Although the Korea mission has been established but twenty years, there are now 10,000,000 baptized Christians.

The native workers are a mass of diligence. A Christian at home in America and a Christian at home in Korea will have different reports to make in the Day of Questioning. Most of the Bible is translated into the Korean language. Day schools, mainly supported by Koreans, are carried on.

At one time, in order that certain heathen villages might hear the Gospel, the native workers plotted, not to preach, but to carry letters of diligence. A Christian at home in America and a Christian at home in Korea will have different reports to make in the Day of Questioning. Most of the Bible is translated into the Korean language. It is not enough to say that you are working for the wrong cause. This is why the native workers are so useful in the mission field.

If your religion means anything, it means that we must distribute this amount was three thousand dollars. The Bible is open, and here was a very splendid reception at the hands of the natives. The amount of my labor is coming to be known, and it is almost with a sense of surprise that we reach this year; and here, November 9 to 12, we will have the Twenty-second Annual Convention. Such a gathering young people will be greatly enriched for the work in which they are joined, and must bring manifold benefit to the on-going association, including their friends, the citizens, who have opened their homes to the visitors.

For these few days the convention has been the chief event in University life. One or two prominent delegates were registered from the various colleges and universities included in the state organization.

The program had been carefully planned by the state committee, of which Mrs. C. A. Rawson, of Des Moines, is chairman, and a series of inspiring addresses secured under the leadership of such speakers as Mrs. Bertha Conde, national student secretary; Miss Alby McElroy, state secretary; Miss Helen Henshaw, state student secretary; Mrs. Emma F. Byers, general secretary, Omaha; Rev. Willis R. Parsons, D. D., of Fairfield; Dr. Eva H. Field, medical missioner from Korea; Rev. Austin K. de Riollos, of Chicago.

The Presbyterian church was open for the various receptions and Miss Parsons was convention headquarters. Here the convention spirit showed its influence in the most splendidly arranged display of posters; and here was uttered Firmian, the hospitality of the local association and of the city. Members of Y. W. C. A. sat at the tables, and here was manifested the hospitality of the city. Members of Y. W. C. A. sat at the tables, and here was manifested the hospitality of the city. Members of Y. W. C. A. sat at the tables, and here was manifested the hospitality of the city. Members of Y. W. C. A. sat at the tables, and here was manifested the hospitality of the city.

The entrance of the state convention meant much to the Y. W. C. A. girls of R. U. I., but it has also meant rich rewards— the larger perception of the larger mission work, in friendships begun, in renewed inspirations.

FACULTY CONFERENCE.

The faculty conference met Saturday afternoon at Close hall. Representatives were present from Iowa State Normal School, Iowa Wesleyan College, Des Moines college, Highland Park college, State University of Iowa, Iowa State Normal School, and Morningside college. Miss Ferguson of the last named institution was a member of the faculty.

The program for the meeting was simple and straightforward. There was no prepared program, but the discussions were of common interest, and in many respects the discussions were of common interest, and in many respects the discussions were of common interest, and in many respects the discussions were of common interest, and in many respects the discussions were of common interest, and in many respects the discussions were of common interest, and in many respects the discussions were of common interest, and in many respects the discussions were of common interest, and in many respects the discussions were of common interest.

CONCERT SUCCESS.

The concert given by the Iowa University Quartet at the Welsh church, south of west of the city was attended by a large and appreciative audience. As the Welsh people are naturally good judges of music, the fact that all were greatly pleased speaks very highly for the concert. The entertainment was open to all and a great deal of interest was aroused. The evening was a complete success.
COLLEGE CONFERENCE.

Friday, November 15, 2:15 p.m.

At the opening of the students' conference of the Bible Association, the following announcements were made by Mrs. Rawson and devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Griswold.

In discussing the social responsibility of association girls, Miss Brown said: "We often get letters from three-handed character, surrendered, devoted and different. Different, because of our different backgrounds, and that's the real love and a living Christ, a life cannot be constructed. The association was made to First John 4, the great chapter on love. With this love of Christ in a girl's heart, she cannot limit herself by anything to be true to the girl's heart, she cannot limit herself by anything to be true to the

The object of systematic giving is that there may come into the girl's life a definite spiritual work each week.

The morning watch: We should keep it ourselves and tell others about it. The morning watch is one of the essentials in the life of the real, live Y. W. C. A.

How shall we make every girl feel her responsibility?

Require, some definite service at her hands and provide no other way for that work to be done. Responsibility begets desire to be true to the trust imposed in one.

Reports Given.

Next in order were the reports of the state chairman, Mrs. Rawson, the state treasurer, Miss Lone, the state secretary, Miss McGrew, and the student secretary, Miss Wilbur. These reports are to be given in detail in the handbook soon to be issued and it will not be necessary to give them here.

Reports of the college and the city associations followed. Every college association reported a large increase in Bible and mission study classes, and in the mission classes in them was doubled. In every city institution but two, more than half the girls are members of the Bible association. Miss Moises college reported thirty-three women students, and thirty-five association members; Penn college had the next largest percentage, with 106 students and 35 members; the association of a number of larger colleges from three-fifths to five-sixths of the total student body.

All the city associations reported large educational and physical classes and a great interest in Bible study. The serving of lunch to business girls is also an important part of their activity. The delegations from the new association at Kewask and Mansfield were presented to the convention.

Sunday Morning.

Saturday morning devotion were conducted by Miss Conde, and all the students, and let them know definitely for city work, college work, and mission work may be found, and the resolutions as read state that there is a need for additional study classes, and that the question of members will take care of itself. Penn college reported that they have a one credit class in geography and atlas, a combined class for Y. W. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. This is taught by one of the college professors and is successful and popular. Bulletins in the library were suggested as helpful, and it was suggested that the Bible be used as a basis for the study of the Bible, he believed that only on condition to the social work. God's gift to us, that of his only begotten son, was one of the most significant gifts that we have planned and given cheerfully and willingly, at a great sacrifice to both giver and given. She asked that our power, we have power; to have his meeting and the receptions, but runs, of the Bible. TI> e

We would express our thanks to the State University of Iowa for the cordial invitation to meet you, and for the warm welcome you have given us. And to President and Mrs. MacLean for their very deep and practical interest, shown in so many ways.

We would thank Miss Brown and her many able helpers and we would express our appreciation of their efficient management which has been seen and felt on every side.

We would offer grateful thanks for the use of this church, and for the faithful services of the organist and choir in excellent music rendered.

We would express our thanks to our state committees and to our state secretaries for the strong program arranged, and executed by them, and to all speakers from whom has come the latest popular music, and for the warm welcome you have given us. And to President and Mrs. Underwood, Miss Blanch Battles, Western Col lege, attended the convention and visited with her sister, Miss Perle Battles, L. A. W.

See our line of pianos before buying. We have just opened up a special piano room above the store. All the latest popular music, come and hear it.

Miss Fisher who has charge of our sheet music department will be glad to play over any piece you wish to hear.

THE BACONIAN LECTURE,
Professor Wickham Speaks of Interesting Insects.
At the weekly meeting of the Baconian club Friday evening Prof. H. F. Wickham lectured about "Arctic Colonies in the Rocky Mountains."

Having been asked by some one previous to the meeting whether there were actually colonies of Eskimos in the Rocky Mountains he explained to his audience at the outset that the colonies of which he meant to speak were colonies of insects, colonies which are just as interesting to the student of entomology as colonies of Eskimos are to others.

He then explained that in some of the higher portions of the Rocky ranges also, there are found colonies of insects which are identical in nature with the insects of the Arctic regions. He explained the geological conditions past and present which account for the presence of these colonies.

A map showing the distribution of glaciers in the past was thrown on the screen and the probable influence of these great Ice sheets on the re-distribution of insect life in the past was discussed. Numerous plates illustrating the conditions under which these colonies exist today were used.

We are sure that the time spent in listening to this paper was a profitable one, giving us another glimpse of the importance of a knowledge of the past in explaining the present. The Baconian society is doing much good by giving the school such a course of lectures.

Miss Blanche Battles, Western College, attended the convention and visited with her sister, Miss Perle Battles, L. A. W.

SUNDAY SERVICE — THE PURPOSE OF THE ASSOCIATION.
On Sunday morning Miss Conde spoke at the Presbyterian church. The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. was presented. There have been many changes in the lives of young women in the last thirty years, and the Association is a branch of church work organized to meet new needs. It aims to hold young women true to the church at a time when they are away from home; to bring into their lives a force which will produce order when the mind is finding many new things; to train young women for active service at home and in foreign lands.

DAY MAY BE A HOLIDAY.
Everybody Given a Chance to Attend Big Game at Ames Without Loss of Recitations.

The rate to Ames a week from Friday will be $2.50 for the round trip. The excursion train will leave Iowa City at 7 a.m. and will return from Ames at 7 p.m. The trains will make few stops, stopping at only Marengo, Brooklyn, Newton, Grinnell and Des Moines for passengers. There will be an awful crowd before the excursion reaches Ames. Drake university will send up a crowd to see the game. Iowa university should go on mass.

The College of Deans have the matter up of granting next Friday as a holiday and it will no doubt be granted. So everybody can go.

Drake Gets Rate.
Drake university has been granted a rate of one and one-third for the round trip from Des Moines to Iowa City next Saturday. At least four hundred are expected to come.

The Christian church people listened to an interesting talk by Miss McIlroy on Sunday morning. She spoke of the gradual change in the religious sphere as well as in social and economic conditions, which had opened the door for the Y. W. C. A. It stands today, influential, not as a church, but as an arm of the church. In the cities the Y. W. C. A. building, with its gymnasium, reading, rest and lunch rooms, opens up a new life to the factory or shop girl.

Mrs. Byers spoke at the Congregational church on city associations. She showed that the city association has grown out of a real need, not an imaginary one.

Christ set it forth.
Verse 10. "Despise not one of these little ones."
Verse 12 tells of the lost sheep. We are not to maintain a passive indifference toward any one, but he active in seeking to serve for that one for whom we do not particularly care.
Verse 15. The theme changes. Read this with Matthew 4:47. Love and pray for that person who has sinned against you. We are to be forgiven again and again.
Verse 16. The greatest joy is bringing some one who has never been in the fellowship, to Jesus Christ.
The central theme is the great love of the Father.

Saturday.
The Secret of Power.
Basis of study, Boo, k Hebrews.
This book has one subject, Jesus Christ. It is a presentation to the Jewish mind of Jesus as their Saviour and the work he came to do. It is divided into the following sections:
The book is an interpretation of all the lessons the children of God were supposed to have learned in the Old Testament. The children of Israel took forty years to make the journey which could have been made in eleven days. Dent. 1:2.
In Hebrew Paul is saying that some Christians have taken forty years to get to that place in their spiritual experiences that could have been reached in eleven days.
Some are content to be the weaker "house ear" Christians when they might be the powerful electric ear Christians.
What is power but efficiency? The elements in a successful Christian life are:
1. Chapter 4, verse 1.
"Let us fear." Fear lest we are today not being the largest lives, but we are not enabling God to fulfill his purpose. It is not the thing we do but the thing we learn undone.
There is a deep rest in the life of every true Christian.
Chapter 4:11. "Give diligence to enter into this rest." Be not only talkers, but doers of the Word. The keynote of all our Bible work should be obedience to Jesus Christ.
Hebrews 4:14. "Let us hold fast to the profession" that Jesus Christ is the Son of God; then we will unanimously fold Him our obedience for we know that He is worthy of it.
Chapter 4:16. "Let us draw near with boldness." Christ is the Son of God, but He is touched with the feeling of our infirmities. God does not expect perfection in the moral nature in any of his children. He will have mercy upon us if we "draw near" in the right attitude.
Chapter 10:12. "Let us draw near in fullness of faith." Let us grow in faith that God will supply our needs fully and completely. With Him all things are possible. Let the Christians have in hope in the midst of all their troubles. God can never do any thing with a discouraged soul.
Chapter 10:24. If your life lived in such a way that it "provers good and good works" in others.
Chapter 12:1. "Let us lay aside every weight and run with patience." Let no sin impede us. Inah, Jesus, and hosts of others stand to stand out true to God. They gladly laid down their whole lives for Him. Think that Paul should need to pray with us to lay aside our sins, in light of all he said before God's promises.
"Run with patience," he ever faithful, and steadfast.
Chapter 12:18. "Let us have one goal, that we may offer service well pleasing to Him." Let us offer up a sacrifice of praise continually to God, who loved us as so to give us a Savior and a force.
Sunday.
The theme, "The Christian life is a life of struggle."" Basis of the discussion, John 7:17. In John 10:19. John 14:4. The Christian life cannot be faultless. There must be a reproductive power in life and the Christian life must propagate itself into other lives. We must first of all accept the heritable choices of a life work for ourselves by saying, "Father, I thank Thee that Thou hast made me to be a co-worker with Jesus Christ."
Ways of working:
First. By conformity. If we are to bring a revelation of Jesus Christ from our inner life into the inner life of another, we must "confess Christ before men." Notice His tact in dealing with men.
Second. By making the most of our opportunities. These are of two kinds, official and unofficial.
Unofficial opportunities are such as alertness. Do not be idle, but seek for any opportunity to touch lives. Third. Ring true in little things. Be consistent in all that you do.
Fourth. Pray incessantly. Ask God to give opportunities for touching lives. We know that we can suit you, Paul, I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.
As we see the barley growing His crown sits in all that intensity of heart we can, refrain from offering help in the glorious sacrifice.
The sweet privilege of being His co-workers is ours if we only accept it.

FORUM HOLDS TRIAL.
A moot trial, was held at the meeting of the Forum, Friday evening. Judge Haney reserved his decision in the case until next Friday evening. In the meantime he will consider the evidence and law of the case.

The action was one for the theft of corn. According to the evidence the thief was caught in a trap set by the Iowa farmer who had noticed the contents of his corncrib decrease in size.

The Joad Assembly will play the Burlington Academy next Saturday at Burlington. The freshest expects to win by a good score.

Clarence W. Smith, C. E., '83 and Miss Lillian Whitehouse were married at Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 23. Mr.
Smith is with the U. S. corps of engineers and stationed at Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Mrs. Bertha Schenck Stecker enjoyved a visit from her mother, Mrs. Walter Schenck, of Burlington during the convention. Mrs. Schenck Is a member of the State committee.

The D. D. D. sororities gave a break fast at ten o'clock Sunday morning to some invited guests among them was Miss Anderson who was entertained by Miss Irene Bennett during the convention.

Twenty five tons of human beings were fought in the rush. Think it over.
To many, the rush was as much fun as a big fire. The men who were there, and those who were not, will be remembered for a long time.

Mrs. McElroy led a brief farewell message. She enjoined the girls with the thought that a message was no message unless it was a personal one.
Thus the convention whispered the question, "What be ye doors of the world, and not hear, only, descending your own revelation?"

Mrs. Rawson wished to leave as a message that the words she has used were true, and she is true. She is true and blessed to be that which, that shall be a performance of those things which were written from the Lord." Miss Conde quoted a verse from Timthus, "That now at this time, your Blessedness may be a supply for their want." She emphasized the thought that this verse was to be used in not years until we have put it into use.

Mrs. Byers gave as her farewell, the verse, "God is able, nay, always bound for you."

Following this, the members of the State committee each told the most precious thought which the convention had brought to her.

Mrs. Mansfield: "I am my brother's keeper."

Miss Lewis: "A clearer vision of what a Christian life may accomplish."

Miss Call: "Felt our hearts to thy obedience."

Mrs. Schenk: "To love young women, and to appreciate their fellowship more."

"Let us all live so that we can say, 'I was not disgraced by my financial status.'"

"Go home and tell that which thou has seen and heard."

"Oh, Lord, use me, use me even more.
As thou wilt and when and where."

"A new desire has come to me to help the girl with innocence."

The delegates formed a circle about the room and joining hands sang,
"The Old That Band" and the convention was adjourned.

The Association work was presented at the Baptists church by Miss Anderson. After a brief outline of the association, Miss Anderson spoke on city associations. They have five separate departments, Religious, educational, business, social and extracurricular.
All the opportunities which these departments are open to the girl is one great and—this is the best part of the city girls.
