The Daily Iowan welcomes the faculty, students, and patrons who or of the University, and expects favorable criticism, which undoubtedly will be the most prosperous in the annals of Iowa’s leading educational institution. Prosperity is generally ascribed to the faculty of the University, the life and the coming months promises not only to show a record rate of attendance but also to form one of the most progressive eras in S. U. His history.

In the membership of this faculty of Iowa, upon which we are proud to put the stamp of approval, we insist that he join in the spirit of progressive advancement as much as possible and boost for Iowa all the time. This is a year that the University will take a great stride forward and the Iowan will endeavor to contribute in its own way to the progress of a greater University.

We recognize the fact that we cannot function without the management, the management has the intention of publishing a sheet with the ideas of the editor, for the good of the greatest number.

The election of our President, George E. K. Lane to one of the eight twenty seniormates of the honor Phi Beta Kappa honor fraternity is one of the most important happenings of the summer in University circles and shows the recognition given the University in the educational world. The Phi Beta Kappa society is far reaching and includes in its membership many of the greatest scholars, leading literary men and educators of this age as the honor accorded our President is one of which every student should be proud.

Owing to the heavy accumulation of work during the summer and the burden of the vacation, which necessarily is considered, the editorial staff has been called into action. The number of students who are able to attend the University this semester is now being determined, and the plans for the new term are being made.

There is not a turn of a seam nor a stroke of the cutter's shears that is wrong in a STEIN-BLOCH or COLLEGE BRAND suit.

We can fit anyone with any style in guaranteed fabrics. We have all the smart models in sack suits, including the conservative and the roll collar effects. Our double breasted suits are popular with many young men of taste.

Iowa Field Is Altered

Grounds Have Been Well Carded For and Many Improvements Made

Impressions on Iowa Field were made during early part of the month and with the beginning of the football season today the gridiron and practice field are in excellent condition despite the disaster in the summer where the grass was killed by a flood. The water in the drain pipes at the south end of the field backed up and owing to the fact that no seed pipes were in the pipes it cut out on Iowa Field and completely covered the gridiron, baseball diamond and practice field. While the small movable tiles were finally drained all the fine turf was killed. Bail and rake grass have again made a green covering over the gridiron in fair condition by the time the regular games start. However, all football practice class paid ball contests, etc., will necessarily be held on the ground north of the flood proper. The stands, fences, and boards around the track have been thoroughly washed and the field presents a neat appearance. The track is in excellent condition and dragged so that it will be in good shape for fall track work and in case the flood proper decides on another autumn field meet it will be in fine condition for them. On the east side of the track will be increased any turf allowed to grow along the west side of the track giving the grass path to the main entrance and saving the University the expense of clearing of mowing excess of cinders.

The field meet announcement engraved at the center of the state high school last spring was last week placed above the gate to the main entrance to the field and the full schedule painted upon it in bright letters. A new arrangement will be erected probably at the south end of the field to announce the exact number of Iowa and yards in order to gain in the popularity of the Amateur, Missouri, Wisconsin and Illinois, all of which are to be held on Iowa Field this fall. The posts for the tackling fence have been changed to the west side of the track and the latest style of dummy direct from Spalding Bros has been erected for the use of the squad in fall. Said instead of straw the dummy is 85 lb. The dummy is 6 feet 11 inches in all the style affords a great advantage.

Mr. Clarence W. Wassam will be at the Commeral College, September 26th to 27th, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, from 7:00 to 8:00 P.M. In General Lecture Room of 2111 Main Street for the sake of $1.00 or $5.00 or $20.00. He will be used for the lecture and many improvements.

The Will and is at
The posts on Friday, from my General Lecture Room of the Liberal Arts Building. All of which was painted upon it in white letters. A new arrangement will be erected, probably at a south end of the field to assure the score number of wins, and yard to gain to the orators at the Alumni, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois, all of which are to be eyed on Iowa Field this fall.

The posts for the tackling unit have been changed to the west side of the track, and in latest style of dummy down Spaulding Bros has been voted for the use of the squad in fall. Sand instead of straw will be used for the men to fall on. The dummy in Connecticut is a vast improvement on the style affair used last season.

Mr. Clarence W. Wassam will enter on Commercial Geo- topy, September 26th to 27th, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday of Friday, from 7:00 to 8:00 P.M. in General Lecture Room of the Liberal Arts Building. He will leave for New York City on September 28th, by way of Ann Arbor and Niagara. He has been pointed to the fellowship in the field of Philanthropy, affiliated with Columbia University. LIBRARY IN NEW HOME (Continued from page two)

Mark Racey, who was at one time a lecturer in the university College of Medicine. While the library will not definitely come into possession of the library for about a year, it has been deposited in the basement of the Library in the Liberal Arts Building where it will be made out of the old book room of the library as soon as that room is vacated. A full description and explanation of the contents of this library will appear in the pages of the Daily Student. This library contains copies of all of the standard English, American, German, French and classical authors in limited editions and books in obtainable in America. There are many scattered, historical, scientific, and art books, all gotten up in the most attractive style. Many of the works bear a specially printed page showing the binding was made expressly for the University History Library, and one set of books is named the "University of Iowa" edition. It is in this edition alone that Mrs. Racey had been gathering the library for years with the intention of bequeathing it to the University. Some of the chief works are: a series of Sunday's Life of Napoleon specially prepared and illustrated by E. Widmer in a well known Chicago book bind. There are twelve large volumes—much one and a manuscript of the bookbinder's art, in elegant letterpress, beautifully colored and illuminated. This copy was exhibited at the St. Louis Exposition and was awarded a gold medal in the binding display. There is a rare set of Shakespeare's Complete Works bound in a beautiful linen design, where the leather is colored to represent many colors. There are several lights, and a set of books in a special at home by Mrs. Racey's hands in the New State Law Library in the University during the Revolutionary period. This is in the New State Library, and is limited to 500 copies. There are also several series printed entirely on Japanese vellum in the same edition. The leather bindings in all colors are directed. The books must be bound to be appreciated and this opportunity will be given as soon as it is possible to the library in a room where they will be all kept together under the care of a special attendant provided by Mrs. Racey's hands.

The Y. M. C. A. P. A. published the annual handbook in a different form this year than last and the style and layout has received favorable comment from the students. The book opens in a different fashion and transformation, for the benefit of the pocket man. As usual it is filled with information of much value to the students entering the University.

You're invited; and when you come you'll meet a lot of the finest clothes you ever saw. We feel that our good friends and our good clothes ought to know each other better.

These are Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; and you can put it down as a fact that better clothes, more stylish, more perfectly tailored, never came from the hand of a tailor.

The new suits are in a number of very smart models, and the patterns are varied enough to suit every taste—grays, browns, tans, in stripes, plaids and checks.

Other departments are full also of fine seasonable goods; hats on the latest blocks; shirts and neckwear like a regular flower-garden of color and rich design.
