OLD IOWA COMES INTO HER OWN

ILLINOIS DECISIVELY DEFEATED

Great Exhibition Given of Open Play

Hawkeye Ranks with Chicago in the West — Critics Highly Praise Catlin's Machine

In the most brilliant game of football ever played on Iowa Field, the University of Iowa defeated Illinois yesterday afternoon by the score of 25 to 12. In every department of the gridiron game the Hawkeye eleven proved itself superior to its opponents. The open style of play and a continual diversity of attack characterized the work of the Iowa team, and Illinois was swept off its feet by the perfect mechanism of the Old Gold warriors.

Iowa's defense again proved a stone wall to line smashes, and the reputation of Illinois for the successful operation of forward passes and trick plays was dragged ignominiously in the dirt of Iowa Field. On the other hand the maize and blue eleven was bewildered by the variety of the Hawkeye passes, and White repeatedly received the ball on long throws and gained many yards. In kicking Kirk proved himself no less a star than in carrying the ball. In both halves was witnessed a punting duel which resulted in a steady gain for Iowa. He also neatly executed two drop kicks.

Of individual playing sufficient cannot be said to describe the wonderful work of the fourteen men who fought and won. The entire back field made for itself a niche in the history of Hawkeye football which will remain as long as the game endures. Kirk and Murphy skirted ends, Hazard plowed the line, and Bruggeman made for himself a most enviable reputation as a quarterback which places himself among the peers in his position. Stewart played no less a star game when he was substituted in the second half.

Captain White and Carberry on ends distinguished themselves both on the offense and defense. In the first few minutes of the game the Illinois ends were getting into the game strong, but for the greater portion of the contest they were fully taken care of and successfully boxed. White in particular played a brilliant game.

Iowa's tackles were invincible. No considerable gains were made through their positions, and they repeatedly broke through and spoiled Illinois' formations. Both Gross and Jewel were used to great advantage in carrying the ball and succeeded in scoring touchdowns. They were supplanted in the last few minutes of play by Stutsman and Conner, both of whom played creditable ball.

Without a doubt the star of the line was Seidel. The much touted Van Hook, considered one of the greatest guards in the west, yielded the title to Seidel and retired from the game completely exhausted very shortly after the opening of the second half. The husky Iowa guard was absolutely immovable on the defense, and Van Hook was totally unable to cope with him on offense. Seidel shot through the line with remarkable speed, and despite his two hundred and forty-five pounds of weight often succeeded in overtaking and tackling for a loss the man with the ball. Seidel is destined to make one of the greatest line-men that ever donned moleskins.

Hastings and Elliott played good offensive ball and were often conspicuous on defense. The characterizing feature of Iowa's playing, the "helping spirit," was in evidence from the start to the final whistle, and men were repeatedly dragged for long gains. Kirk and White especially were good in this feature.

Illinois, although outclassed, played good football and fought hard for every inch of ground. Sinnock, the little quarterback, was the life of the team and ran the eleven fast and heady.

Details of the Game

First half: White lost toss, Illinois chose to receive the kick-off. White kicks off, Pettigrew receives the ball and advanced it 10 yards. Pettigrew sent around left end; Gardiner forced to kick to Bruggeman; Kirk was sent around right end for 13 yards. A forward pass from Kirk to Carberry netted 30 yards. Murphy sent through the right side and Kirk drop-kicked from the 20 yard line in the first 5 minutes of play. Score Iowa 4 Illinois 0.

Green's kick-off was caught by Kirk and advanced 20 yards; Kirk punted 20 yards to Baum; Pettigrew fumbled a fake, and Illinois was given the first penalty of 15 yards. Gardiner failed to gain on a fake punt, Sinnock went around right end for 9 yards; Gardiner sent through right side for first down; Sinnock made a forward pass to Dadant, who made a touchdown. Score, Iowa 4, Illinois 5.

White kicked off to Pettigrew who returned 30 yards. Gardiner punted to Kirk, Hazard, Kirk, Murphy and White advanced the ball 40 yards in six downs. Kirk missed a drop kick. Green kicked to Hazard, who advanced the ball 17 yards. Both teams lost the ball on attempted for-

Referee Expresses Opinion

In an interview after the game Referee McCornack said:

"I don't think Illinois was outclassed, but she was clearly outplayed. Iowa was able to get their forward passes off neatly and Illinois was not, and that is what won the game. Iowa's open play was fine, as good as could be seen any place today. They have the new game as well developed as any team in the country."

"Illinois should have had more line plunging. A team now must know both the old and new styles of play and know when to use it. Iowa played their open game until shortly before the end and then gave a fine exhibition of the old style of play."

Umpire Lauds Iowa

Umpire Gale expressed his opinion of the game as follows:

"It was an excellent exhibition of the possibilities of the open play and was as pretty a game to watch as one could wish to see. I think Iowa has developed the new game as fully as any team in the country. What pleased me the most was the spirit of the men. I think it was the cleanest game I ever saw and what impressed me was the spirit of perfect fairness among the men."

Coach Catlin Jubilant

Coach Catlin expressed himself last night as more than satisfied with the work of the Iowa team. "I have never seen," said he, "better football than played by them today. All the new plays were used today for the first time and their efficiency demonstrated." When asked what relation today's game would bear to that of last week, he said "Wisconsin won't dare to say anything. The Iowa team is superior to anything they have met this season."

Band Dance a Success

The first informal hop given by the University Band at the Armory last evening was attended by 125 couples and was pronounced a grand success both socially and financially.

WON A MIGHTY STRUGGLE

Iowa Played a Do-or-die Game—No Worry Now Over Possible Ames Result

It's all over but the shouting, and happy, say who isn't happy? Mark Catlin's happy, John Griffith's happy, Tommy O'Brien's happy, the team's happy, and the average student is still in a state of insanity. And all have a right to feel chesty because the Varsity won a great game against a fine team just by everlastingly fighting it out to the very end and playing the kind of ball that Mark Catlin has taught them.

It was the hardest kind of a game in the world to win, an uphill game and if there is a man in the whole school who isn't proud of the bunch that represented Iowa yesterday on that treacherously slippery football field he isn't an Iowa man. That's the beauty of it. The team came right back at Illinois and just fought, and fought, and then scrapped a little more on the side. We are not worrying about the Ames game. We know it will be a hard one but we also know absolutely that the Varsity has that old fight in them and as for the rest we trust implicitly in a combination of three wise heads, Catlin, Griffith and O'Brien.

About the most noticeable feature of the game was the way in which Iowa outplayed Illinois in the new styles of ball. The Illinois team was fast, especially, ends and quarter backs. But they couldn't successfully work their forward passes because Murphy, Hazard and Kirk always boxed the man who was waiting to receive the pass. On the other hand Iowa did work her forward passes because, as a rule, the Varsity only tried the little short sure ones and the Iowa ends, especially White, shone in getting free to receive the ball.

Iowa in the last ten minutes played old fashioned football with the helping spirit in a stellar role. The Illinois team, or any other team, couldn't stop the Iowa man with the ball, when four or five Varsity men were dragging him along. The superb condition of the Varsity, per O'Brien, was evident all the through the game, also the way in which Seidel, resembling a bull elephant on the war path, played several scintillating rings around the touted Van Hook.

The Classical Club met in the classical library Friday evening after the mass meeting. Prof. C. H. Weller acted as the reader of the evening.

ENTHUSIASM PITCHED HIGH

Hundreds of Students Celebrate Great Victory With Band Music, Bonfires and Fireworks

Victory was the magic key which turned the enthusiasm of the students loose, and last night Iowa City witnessed once again a genuine revival of the old time spirit. The celebration started with the final whistle of the game when the players were carried on loyal shoulders from the field. Followed by hundreds of shouting students, the University band paraded the streets, repeatedly playing "Old Iowa," "Ramble," and "Hot Time." Gigantic bonfires illuminated the scenes of the celebration when it became dark. Speeches, continuous yelling and band music held the tension of the enthusiasm at a high mark during the entire evening. Resembling ghost dancers in appearance, white clad figures raced frantically about.

A display of fireworks added interest and variety to the occasion. "Iowa spirit" was given a thorough airing last night, and hope is felt by all that it is a forerunner of what may occur in two weeks, following the final struggle of the season with Ames.

Cotillion Committee Active

The Sophomore Cotillion committee is negotiating with orchestras from Chicago, Cedar Rapids, Davenport, Des Moines, and Iowa City to furnish music for the evening of December the sixth. It is possible that the famous White City orchestra may be obtained. This is one of the best musical bodies of its kind in the middle west and has just closed a successful season with the White City Amusement Park of Chicago.

The committee is very active in that it holds semi-weekly sessions. They are sparing no efforts to make it the grandest function of the season. The patronesses will be announced later through the columns of this paper.

Prof. Paul S. Pierce was at Cedar Falls last Friday and Saturday, where he acted as judge in the Ames-Normal debate.

New Trumpets

Eight new bugles were received by the military department and were immediately put into service. The bugle corps consists of thirteen men this year and will make a fine showing in regimental formations.

Sophs Organize Team

Although somewhat unfortunate in their football last year have determined to organize a team this year for the purpose of defeating the freshmen. Preparations are already under way and a number of the soph's are out every night practicing formations.

CROSS COUNTRY PREPARING FOR MEET

Twenty Five Men Will Be Entered in the Race

The cross country squad took a light work-out Saturday morning over the course which is to be followed in the competition run on the 16th. The route begins with three laps of the track encircling Iowa Field and goes south on Madison to the wagon bridge; north along the river to the Iowa avenue bridge; over the hills west on the Coralville road; north at the Interurban tracks along the river; and around the loop back to the Iowa avenue bridge, with a finish in front of the grandstand. The same course will probably be followed in the two final preliminary runs next week.

While the Freshman interest in the event seems to have lagged somewhat in the last week, Captain Remley expects to have at least twenty-five men entered in the race. The roads are in good condition and, barring rain or snow in the next five days, the run should be fast and exciting. The most interest is centered in what the Freshmen will do, as much good material has appeared in the first-year class. Both Latham and Thomas are in fine condition and will push the others hard in the competition. Roorick, Hotz, Dunham and Crosson are also running well.

DRAMATIC CLUB HOLDING TRY-OUTS

Announcements of Successful Candidates Next Week

The Dramatic Club has been busy this week with its "try-outs." A great deal of enthusiasm has been shown among the contestants and the selections have shown much preparation. Prof. H. E. Gordon and Miss Hopkins both of the Department of Public Speaking are attending the "try-outs" and acting as critics. Twenty have already been heard by the Club and the last try-out will be held next Tuesday evening.

Prof. Percival Hunt is in correspondence for several good plays which are expected soon. When received the club will select the play to be given the first semester.

The Sense of a Suit

The Style of a suit determines the cleverness of the tailor that made it. This season the wide lapels and close buttons of the coat are correct.

The Price of a suit is important but it should not be confused with value. That suit is cheapest that is most satisfactory to the purchaser.

Our Line is selected from the products of two great houses whose goods are recognized as standard. Every suit shows not only the careful selection of fabrics and the "know how" of the tailor, but also our own experience in making up a stock of clothing.

We have suits for men of all sizes. The slim and the stout suits which we have not only fit their wearer but they conceal the peculiarities of his stature to a degree seldom equalled in ready-to-wear clothing. These facts account for our being able to satisfactorily fit the man who has often been disappointed elsewhere in his attempt to secure a correct suit. Our prices on these suits range from . . .

Notes of the Game
Illinois won the toss.
Attendance about 2800.
Every man did his duty.
Who didn't play a good game?
Illinois entered the field at 2:50.
No "rag-chewing" during the game.

Fifty Illinois rooters were here to see the defeat.
The engineers' megaphones was a huge success.
"Jimmy" still has the left hind foot of the rabbit.
Many people from Des Moines were in attendance.
Sinnock was there with every ounce of his 126 pounds.
Comparison of scores don't count with the Iowa fellows.
Seidel was carried up town on the shoulders of loyal rooters.
Glad you saw the new moon over your left shoulder Catlin.

Individual yells were given for each of the players before the game.
The Delta Gammas attended in a tally-ho as guests of the football team.
"The greatest football player in the west, said a "side-liner" in speaking Kirk.
Bruggeman's-tackling saved a touchdown. It was one of the features of the game.
"The smile won't wear off" could be seen on the faces of Coaches Catlin and Griffith.
The band reversed their caps four times and each time something happened for Iowa.
Band and rooters gathered around the tent of "Old Gold" and did some fine cheering between halves.

The double criss cross, passed back to Kirk and then forward passed to White, was worked successfully twice.
"Jimmy the Venerable," when interviewed stated, that he was well pleased with the result, and frantically waived his "big stick."
"Played a fine game old man, you were there with the head-work," said Coach Catlin to Bruggeman, after substituting Stewart.
The rabbit jumped three times when Catlin shot it Monday and Iowa got three touchdowns. Nothing superstitious about that.
The field was quite slippery. Before goal kicks the players took a vacation and cleaned the mud from between the soles of their shoes.
