THE FINAL EXAMS.

Again they are at hand—the final examinations, the Slough of Despond, the Mountain of Despair, all in student life that is terrible to contemplate, nerve racking to pass through, and ruinous to fall in. The air pervading the University is funereal; corners of mouths are drawn down, and brows wrinkled; dispositions are ruined, permanently it seems; eyes are red with too long acquaintance with printed pages; old friends pass each other too absorbed in their studies to speak; rah, rah, clothes go for days unpressed, and unshaved faces are not as much of a curiosity as earlier in the year.

There are features, good and evil, in these final tests. They are primarily for the purpose of reminding a student that he has learned, or has been told to learn, certain things during the semester. They seem to form a good basis for the instructor to determine what grade should be given. But many people think that the evils outweigh the good. It is probably commendable to make every one put forth at least one concentrated effort during a half year; but they are not fair tests of one's knowledge. The student goes to the finals with a jumbled mass of Psychology, Philosophy, Art, Greek, Spanish, and other ingredients ad infinitum et nauseam of the cup of learning. Each day the student attends one or more of these exams and almost succumbs to nervous prostration in an attempt to squeeze dry the sponge that he has been soaking for a fortnight. If he is good at cramming he will surely get through somehow, but woe to the poor fellow who is just able to keep his head above water during the regular lectures and who does not have the happy faculty of squeezing a whole semester's work into his head within a few days.

DAILY IOWAN WORK.

Another semester is about to open, and the Iowa takes this opportunity of again reminding the students that there is an opportunity to get some practical newspaper training here in the University, and get credit for it. A student may register for one or two hours' work. No course offered for credit could be more profitable. Students very often feel that the class work is a bore, that there is a sameness in the work that makes it of less worth than it ought to be. Now the Daily Iowa work offers training along a certain line that is almost without a parallel for practical value, and yet at the same time it is not without variety. The work on the paper is carried on as far as possible in the same manner that it is in the larger city dailies and one expecting to make journalism his life work can find no better training than a few hours on the Iowa staff. The work is registered for in the usual way at the registrars' office, and the assignments are made at the Daily Iowa Office.

Amusements

"Classmates."

The cadet uniforms and accoutrements used in the first act of "Classmates" are taken directly from West Point. A West Point tailor made the uniforms worn by the cadets, a West Point tent maker furnished the tents and a West Point jack-of-all-trades collected the necessary properties. Uncle Sam furnished muskets and other firing arms, and, as a final precaution, an ex-West Pointer superintended the setting of the tents, the sounding of the bugle calls and the thousand and one little details of camp life that make this scene an exact duplicate of West Point life today. Jules Murry brings the production to the Coldren Theater on Feb. 5, starring Norman Hackett in the leading part of Duncan Irving, the cadet who sacrificed his career and his love for honor's sake and for the good name of his old father.

"Live for something, have a purpose, And that purpose keep in view, Drifting like a helpless vessel, Thou canst ne'er to life be true. Half the wrecks that strew life's ocean, If some star had been their guide, Might have long been riding safely But they drifted with the tide."

What are you aiming at? What are your plans? Are you going up or down stream? Remember only live fish swim up stream. An honest purpose once fixed and followed up by energy and determination means victory. They have accomplished every great achievement to date and they will keep you cheerful. O. PUFFLE

There is nothing but a good time to be had at the Elks' "Puffle" show that started last night. It is the intention to keep things moving and the fun going all week. The old armory has been transformed into a veritable mid-way.

Tonight the concert will be given by a number of the best local artists and on Wednesday evening Edwards, Cherry, and Klema put on the ghost show.

Surprises are planned for every evening and "one continual round of pleasure" is promised.

Rev. J. T. Jones at Y. M. C. A.

Rev. J. T. Jones of the Congregational church gave a wholesome heart to heart talk at Close Hall Sunday. He took as his theme, "Christ and the Woman at the Well" and termed his talk A Private Interview With Jesus Christ. The lessons drawn from the talk were those of a closer everyday relationship with Christ and that relationship one of a friend and of broad sympathies with fellow-mankind. Rev. Jones said, "I can and will sympathize with a young person who has drifted from the faith as a result of conscientious doubt; but the man who doubts because he thinks he knows a whole subject when he only knows a little is badly mistaken."

Fine Arts Course Notice.

The department of Fine Arts offers during the second semester a brief course treating in a general way the history of the fine arts from earliest time to our own day. This course is introductory, is designed especially for those who desire a general knowledge of the subject, and is recommended for any who wish to pursue in following years other courses in the department.

The course is not open to those who are taking Fine Arts 1 and 7.

Would you do her a favor? The biggest favor you could offer her right now is to bring her to the Great Annual White Sale now in progress at the Big Store.

If You Haven't a Friend

Do your self a favor, come, the pleasure of looking over thousands of yards, stacks upon stacks of fluffy, dainty, white goods. An impressive array that will awe you with its magnitude and surprise you at such reasonable prices. The Greatest January Clearing Sale still continues. The last few days will be hot ones in the purchasing. Everything in Winter Stocks must go, and they are going at a wonderful rate. 25, 50, 66 2-3, and 75 per cent discount on all Winter Stocks.

Alumni Prosper.

Word has been received that the firm of Smead, Elliot, and Healy is making splendid progress at Boise, Idaho. All three members of this firm are graduates of the College of Law at the University. Upon the completion of their course here they decided upon Boise as a location and established the aforementioned firm.

A good indication of Mr. Healy's progress is that he has been retained by creditors to close up the "Delmonico," one of the largest eating houses of the city.

Boise is a prosperous place and has splendid business openings.

Courses in Education for Second Semester.

Following are the new courses in education:

"School Supervision and Administration"—At the beginning of next semester Professor Ensign will open a course dealing with administrative problems of the public schools. Among the topics to be considered are the following: Functions of school boards, superintendents and principals; Supervision of class work; Teachers' meetings; Student organizations; Courses of study; etc. The course is open to students who have had the course in Principles of Education and others by consent. Mondays and Tuesdays at 4:30, room 221.

"Childhood and Adolescence."—Course open to beginners in the subject of education. May be counted toward the state teachers' certificate requirements. One section; Tuesday and Thursday at 8:00, Professor Bolton.

Students of suitable preparation, by consent of the instructor, may be admitted to other courses which started at the beginning of the year, according to the announcement.

Indoor Baseball Saturday.

Two fast indoor baseball games are scheduled to take place at the armory next Saturday. The first game between the Medics and Engineers will begin at 2 o'clock. The second, between the Liberal Arts and Faculty, is scheduled for 3 o'clock. This game promises to be one of the fastest of the series, inasmuch as both teams are likely bidders for the championship. The faculty has lost one game while the L. A.'s have a clear slate. If the Liberal Arts win, they will have the pennant practically cinched, but if the Faculty wins, the two teams will be tied for first place. The faculty will present a strong line-up, including Griffith, Kirk, Schroeder, Catlin and O'Brien. Following is the present standing of the teams:

	Pla'd.	Won	L.	Pct.
Liberal Arts	2	2	0	1000
Faculty	2	1	1	500
Laws	2	1	1	500
Medics	2	1	1	500
Dents	2	1	1	500
Engineers	2	0	2	000

From Other Colleges

The Daily Californian on Jan. 22 put out a "Prosperity Edition" celebrating the fact that it is now out of debt.

The Chinese government spent $100,000 last year toward the assistance of Chinese students studying abroad.

Bible Study.

Under the direction of Miss Ethel Cutler, the national Y. W. C. A. secretary, a course of Bible study will be followed by women of the University from February 11 to March 3. The general course of six lectures will be given at 4:30 o'clock on Mondays and Wednesdays in the Liberal Arts auditorium. Course two will consist of round table discussions open to all interested. Course three is entitled "Bible Readers' Group" and is open to students bible leaders and Sunday school teachers.

Examination Notice.

Entrance examinations and examinations for the removal of entrance conditions, will be given during the period including Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 4 to February 6 inclusive, without fee. All students who desire to take such examinations should notify the University examiner at his office, room 219 in the Hall of Liberal Arts at once, and not later than Tuesday, February 2, specifying each subject in which examination is desired.

Notice will be mailed to each person desiring examination, indicating the hour and the place of each examination in which he is interested.
