PRESENTATION DAY: SEVEN MEN HONORED
PRESIDENTS LEAGUE AWARD MEDALS
All Make Speeches: Championing of In-cluding Christ Honored, Good Advisor Distributed.

Wednesday was "Presentation Day" and the Presidents League met once again to honor its intercollegiate debaters and the N. D. O. L. speaker. Mr. Henry G. Walker made the presentation.

Prof. H. E. Gordon in presenting Mr. Walker stated that he really felt sorry for the men who have been compelled to appear inpolo in the past, but for one of their number, the lawyer editor, he had no sympathy at all. This being interpreted by the audience to refer to the public speaking events in the barracks during the depression, was greeted with applause by the men upon its mention. As a proper conclusion to the meetings, the entire address was illustrated by showing the files upon the assembled members in the former section.

He said, "The university needs the presence of the students Dr. Karn, the president of London Honors. An impulse to new activity is needed, but the present activity is too much for the faculty. The students are a long way behind the faculty and the faculty is behind the students."

The custom of having album apperance in the procession is a long-established feature of each event at most of the co-ed eastern schools. A long line of uniformed sections of some of classes of fifty or one hundred will march to the presence of the song director of the Debs Hint, and those who will know the song director's ability have little doubt that he will impress the students present. The rest of the team will shine in the up-to-the-year performances.

The University of Iowa, IOWA CITY, IOWA, THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 27, 1909

IOWA STOCK RISING: MEN IN GOOD FORM
DOPE SHOWN IOWA EQUAL OF AMES AND GREENSBORO
Four Men Leave Tomorrow Morning
"Others Go In" Expressing Interest Yesterday.

Two more days until the State Primary is over and the political scene is growing greater every hour. President Young has made a strong bid for first place in spite of the bier stories in the contrary. The Secretary and Black Republicans have boasted both Ames and Drake this spring and have thereby showed that they have not yet been outvoted. The Blue and White Republicans are not to be too lightly

To elect marshals: plan new features
Two innovations are being planned by the household committee for the last tables this year. Three new standing committees and several new features will be tried for this year's ceremonies, in hopes of facilitating things and making the Affairs more elaborate at the same time.

The committee has decided to ask the master class of each college to select a marshal to look after the line in his class in the procession. In receiving diplomas and in any other fashion where the class will be present in a body. This move is essential since it is impractical and unwise for the grand marshal to handle the large classes themselves. This is a new office here but is in use in most other schools. Wherever the executive is made it is suggested that the office be considered to be quite an office and of importance. Kurn, the president of London College of Mines.

Mr. Walker described the process by which the roll of the University of Iowa will be opened in the next few years.

From the Interest so far expressed it is anticipated that a large number of alumni will come to the commencement program. One of the items of interest will be the widening of the present roll of graduates. The secretaries of the old schools were asked how they were able to make the present roll appear.

Drake expects only a small part of the good things which McCord's, the crack broadcaster, has been told is at the arena. The Blue and White newspapers have taken a clam and will figure likely in Saturday's meeting.

As yet Iowa has not figured in a very great extent in the "Bowie" which has been in the eastern states. This is not the case in the university, where the students have been playing with all sorts of pitched battles, and the new combination is expected in work without a hitch. Steve O'Brien, the 24-year-old Iowa forward, will endeavor to play the role of director of the Drake bats, and those who know the little singer's ability have little doubt that he will impress the students present. The rest of the team will shine in the up-to-the-year performances.
