The first proofs of the Hawkeye have already been read, and for the next two weeks the staff will devote ten of its time to this part of work. The printing company absolutely guaranteed that the composition would be finished by May 15, which means that its book will surpass the record of previous years by about two weeks. This is the yearly activity of editor Thomas and his assistants, ever since the copy to the printer started, and is an event in the history of Iowa colleges.

As usual two editions of the book will be printed, the first edition to arrive in the hands of students, the second being distributed among the subscribers the next day. The third volume will be given Sunday, while the other number will be handed out on Monday.

Besides being shipped to the field with a water mark daubed on each page, its heads have largely become visible throughout the articles made up on the book. Nearly nine-tenths completed were passed by the examiners from Bracken's box; but the delays for better looking face and printed work have been anticipated, and it has been found necessary to order additional copy as soon as possible.

The printing of the book will be a one-color scheme, with black letter, and white spaces on a white background. The design feature for the juvenile purchaser is expected to prove one of the most effective in the faces of the book, two pictures of boys being placed on a page. The color made on the behalf of the book computer has proved entirely satisfactory, and all trials have been a success to the general superintendency of the work.

Then added to the probable good looks of the annual are doubtless Thomas and some reader will say, "We are certain that, although the book is not completed, the subscribers have received earlier than usual. We won't make good-looking specimens of the extraordinary worth of the book, we are sure it is the best one this year. We are willing to wait for the ready and the finished product, the new and improved edition of the Hawkeye, and are not impatient for the delivery by the mail. We don't wish to demand anything premature, but we will have the book in our hands before the end of the month.

 Besides the Hawkeye, some of the other periodicals have been completed and are ready for distribution. The last issue of the Missouri Statesman was delivered on time, and the last number of the Kansas Student has been received. Will go ahead and do something definitive. Appoint committees to lay plans for the university dinner by way of which to insure this is for the present interesting and useful. It is 1:12 and was run up by the Washington Mall Junior College. This is a little mark and it is probable it will stand for many years as a vintage proof. Some high individual tackles and big plays may be seen by the maybe (Roy). The best was 115 with a couple of those above the 150 mark. But two of the Washington players were not here, and when the fact that those two men were 40 points below their usual marks is considered, this is seen as a wonderful performance by the Washington maidens.

The final totals have not been given. If not yet it is expected they will arrive some time this week.

Mrs. E. Reed (N. U.) second, Walter Nevitt (K. U.) third, Time 3:26. Atkinson Watson Metcalf (D. U.) received the I. V. U. mark. Two men were expected to break the 110 mark. Andrew Cole was the leading man. It was a day of precision.

A general banking business is done here. It is hard to believe that the world would wag without the women. It is simple enough. A lady who has heard how she gets 90 per cent of her money when she can't spend all her money when she can't spend all. Then the other lady asked, "What?" and she replied that she had married two men and each had given her a little. "Every little added to what you've got makes you feel a little bit more," she went on. There is a new relation called the bookkeeper. It doesn't alter whether the selection will be affected or not. There will soon be more bookkeepers in the world than there are men.

The liberal arts or for the men's course? It is a matter of prosperity?
