In an effort to get one of the most prominent men in Iowa, the sophomore class of the university has invited Mr. Persis Lonsdale to be the principal speaker for assembly tomorrow morning. Mr. Lonsdale, A. L. A. of the West End and a noted public speaker, is known as "The Great Spokesman," and his address will be of the highest interest to the students.

John Mac Vet for the past twenty years has been a prominent man in the city. He is in his 90s this year. It is said that his mind is still as clear as it was when he was a boy of 10. His great-grandfather was one of the pioneers in the city and he has been a member of the city council for over 25 years.

The senior class announces that the ticket selling has been started in about a week and the college of liberal arts are going to present an informal picnic, is to be held in the natural science department's field. It is expected that the number of pages in this year's program will be the largest ever presented.

The management of the paper is preparing for the end of the year with the hope that it will be in the interest of the college and the university.

The editor of the paper, Mr. Mac Vet, has been at the head of the business for many years. It is said that he has been able to carry on the paper with the help of his assistants.

The program for the picnic includes a band concert, a dance, and a benison. It is expected that the picnic will be a success and that all who attend will enjoy themselves.

Professor R. D. Starbuck gave a lecture on "Insects" pertaining to persons in the series of talks on Comparative Religion.

No game with Nebraska.

A misunderstanding as to eligibility rule has caused the Iowa game Saturday afternoon at Iowa field to be called off. Iowa's relation to the Chicago conference absolutely forbids the game, it is felt that as long as the present Big Eight rule exists they should be followed; and for that reason the game has been canceled.
