Big Pende Will Be Put Off Just as Planned—Banquet This Afternoon

Snow may fall, hail may fall, pitchforks may fall, the "heroes" themselves may fall, but the "heroes"' show and parade come off Friday night, snow or shine. So the autho- ries have said, and so it will be. If they have to walk in the white precipitation up to their knees, or have to grow long as an ox-tongue between now and Saturday, or have to go and swor and an Injuration against the elements, they will do so. The parade, the Knights of St. Patrick's initiation ceremony, the show and the whole business will come off securely and speedily— it is guaranteed.

Talk about surrounding difficulties, ice, snow, sleet, and the usual continual struggle against tempest, the whole white pageant is planned. And when the parade materializes Saturday afternoon, the public should realize it is witnessing a triumph of engineering. But the worst could mean in the way of preparation under the circumstances is in a favorable stage, and the engi- neers have got in the point where nothing will stop them.

Friday evening the faculty and engi- neers will meet at a big banquet in the students' room of the applied chemistry building, and the whole evening will be devoted to questions which have come up, and J. E. Z. E. Pickens, Reginald Shampoo Stropmore, the engi- neers will attend on account of the engineers' smoker was first held from 8 o'clock the weather permits. The schedule of the evening was planed by a team chosen from the university league. The games have been hotly promised. The tickets may be secured at Dean Ansley's. Once booked the the weather will keep them. The tickets are guaranteed.

The Marshalltown H. C. A. league is to start and soon. The baseball league opens next Sunday afternoon at 1:30 when Marshalltown plays Can- ton. Ill.; H. H. Hines, Marshalltown; and Joseph Bellamy, Cambridge, Neb., are stated to be playing.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

"The Gambler"

Charles Klein has again drawn on his knowledge of current events to provide a plot for his play, "The Gambler," which will be the evening at the Coliseum next Thursday evening, March 11. In "The Life and the House" it was the power of the head of a great corporation. The "Third Degree" showed up police methods. In "The Gambler" the author has taken for his subject the wild-cat banker, who harbors his own disappointments' memory on his mind and those of the directors to further their schemes for expansion.

Mr. Klein has again exhibited the master mind of the opportunistic diplomat, and has presented the opportunity to a school for education assembly on the principles of education assembly on the
