UNIVERSITY DINNER AFTER SPRING VACATION

MORTON C. SUMNOR HAS CHARGE OF AFFAIRS

Between Five and Hundred Places Were Reserved for the Presidents and Increased Attendance.

Tuesday, April 19, 11 a.m. here set as the date for the annual university dinner, which is to be held at the university armory. Morton C. Sumnor, university commander, has been selected to take charge of the affair in the interest of the greater university committee. It is probable that the Ladies Improvement league of this city will have charge of the program for this occasion, as they are said to be held at fifty cents each.

An attempt is to be made to seat all those present in the different sections of the university at representatives, at least by classes, should the program not plan for groups.

A special committee of the program committee, is engaged in an effort to secure an out-door songster of considerable prominence to be the university's guest for the occasion. Just who he will be has not been designated yet.

Because of the enthusiasm out-looked by last year's dinner, provisions are being made for an increased number of reservations. Three hundred and fifty places have been reserved. No new or special tickets will be issued this year.

The contest for the fancy dinner contest will be held this year. The winning ticket will present a prize.

The attention of candidates for dinner reservations is to be called at 3:30 at the university armory, and a reception to the guests will be held at the armory.

Notice to Graduating Students

All graduating students who expect to be candidates for degrees are requested to give notice and sit down at the dinner with the president in the registrar's office on or before April 19.

The business of candidates for degrees is also called to a new rule to the effect that the chairman of the examining committee shall deposit the list of the day with the university's secretary. The list will be presented to the committee in the university library for filing.

Many Heav Newton

There was a large number of the younger set present. Sunday, when Dr. Newton gave his lecture on the "Glass of Truth." As usual, the speaker showed his apt ability in polishing off the subject of the day. A feature of this lecture was the special music, which was especially enjoyed by all.

CAUSE OF FORENSIC DECLINE

There has been much comment in the university upon the decline of interest in forensic activities. Some usual explanations for the inadequate support of the literary societies and intercollegiate teams is that the university library, and the scholarly activities of the student body, but the fundamental cause of failure is found in the present state of students is simply the difference of the university authority.

The men who debated on last year's themes have not been officially recognized. No models have been presented in inter-collegiate debaters and orators for two years. To be sure, the men do not work princiarily for a forensic "T," but they feel that they are now entitled to the recognition of the university authority by the presentation of models. The effect of poor support from the public and failure to receive medals according to custom here, has been to lessen the interest in forensics still more. The very men who do the work are disheartened.

Debate and oratory are essential elements in student life and in the university, but men will not work for a lost cause. They feel that they are entitled to their forensic "I" after working for the house of the university.

CONCERT GIVEN AT MARION
FRIDAY NIGHT

Make Quartette Also Stars Home
Peach and Friday Favorites

Last Friday evening the Iowa Men's Glee club went to Marion and gave its first formal concert of the year in the Methodist church. The church auditorium was filled with a large, appreciative audience.

The success of the first appearance is without a doubt due to the careful work of Professor W. P. Chorley, who, with the business managers, Reed & Sljlik. The way in which the managers conducted the concert and club business commendable, and this with Professor Chorley's work, is indicative of one of the most successful years for the club from a business and musical standpoint.

Friday afternoon, the Iowa Male Quartette, composed of M. W. Williams, Richard E. Russell, W. K. Kerzman and H. L. Johnson, went to Marion in the afternoo and gave a few selections in the high school building, which was packed to the doors. The reader of the club last year, Revis Peck, was with them, besides Verna Ford, the regular reader. Patch gave a reading and was called back twice, his audience being given in his old tip-top style. The quartette was given a super- by the Presbyterian Brotherhood, which was reported to have been was heartily enthralled.

The concert, in the theatre, it is reported, was well appreciated by the large crowd. The readings for Peck were given with his usual strength of presentation, especially in his impressions. Johnson's solos, and the number of the quartette were rendered, according to the critics in a splendid manner. "Chains! One gave a selection on the piano, which had to be encored. It is said that this first concert is to be the first of those of the year, that a successful season is ahead of the Men's Glee club.

Joesph Lebeyne

The life of every noted artist is replete with experiences of special interest, associations with other eminent men, honor extended by the hands of royalty and government officials, and public tributes. Joseph Lebeyne, the distinguished Russian pianist, who will be here tomorrow night, is no exception. He was educated at the Moscow Royal Conservatory, where his remarkable gifts won him the rare friendship of two of the few famous men, Rubinstein and Tchaikowsky. Many of the secrets of Lebeyne's magic shall be heard from the great Rubenstein himself, of whom he was a protege. Rubenstein often had Lebeyne visit him at his great, an honor accorded few other artists, the extraordinary thriftiness, love of and dexterity of Rubenstein's style which moved his audiences to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. He is also characterized of Lebeyne's playing. He has the Rubenstein spirit, the Rubenstein hands, qualities, which characterize all music lovers.

"While there was but one Rubenstein," writes the critic of the Boston Evening Transcript, "there is today but one Lebeyne.

Seminlar and Tea
Seminlar and Tea will meet at Clear hall tonight at 7:30 p.m., at which time a number of men will be given the title of the society. After the meeting at 6 p.m. the society will hold a banquet at the Lakeview Imperiral hotel. A large program of toasts has been prepared and the banquet is expected to be a large affair. Immediately following banquet a closed lecture session of the society will be held. At this meeting the membe of the junior class, who will constitute the society next year, will be elected.
