The last of the Harriet society plays will be presented this evening when the Repertory and Renaissance societies stage an adaptation of "The Melting Pot." The play upon which this is based was made familiar to the American public by Walter Whitehill in his impersonation of the Jew mountain, David. This character in the coming presentation will be taken by George G. Gluck, who has succeeded in interpreting the part with the greatest amount of human sympathy and great feeling. Miss Westminster, who will be seen as Yev Rendvald, has also been added to the cast.

Considerable interest has been aroused by the coming production because of the fact that it is an inspiration for modern young people. The play is truly an American one. It presents the problem of the combination of the incoming millions and solves it by making all Americans. It is one which cannot fail to arouse the spirit of patriotism in a spectator. It has taken hard work to prepare the play for the public, but the characters have been brought into the spirit of the play successfully.

Practice has been carried on regularly each day since the Intercollegiate Presentation Award was given to the late Miss Hamilton. The plays have been held at the College Chapel, the last several days in order to form into a basis for the new presentation of the play.
March who are theorists but we do want elation, and entertained the club without for a price."

In England and continental Europe the accent is on the practical played to a large house of the most men who can market their education most royally while they were in the curriculum.

Bosum's Seat Poured Away

Bosum is dead. The well known blue and white building belonging to the Big Alpha Baptists Parochial was chimneyed yesterday. This action was about to be brought about by the Iowa City police, who notified the boys that they would give them one more day to dispose of the dog or he would be shot. The Big Alpha boys therefore decided that it would be more humane to put him painlessly out of existence themselves. So, after Bosum shook hands with all the fraternity members and was made to say his prayers (a trick taught him by his former owner Nyle Johnson), the dog was given hypodermic injection, which put him in a deep sleep, and was then cremated.

Bosum has been the mascot of the Iowa State athletic teams for a number of years and his loss will be mourned by thousands of alumni throughout the state.
