Professor Nash has been invited to participate in a symposium at the University of Iowa, where he will discuss the role of botany in land use planning.

Professor Nash will also attend a conference on the ethics of land use planning, where he will present his research on the impact of agricultural practices on local ecosystems.

Professor Nash is looking forward to the opportunity to share his expertise with colleagues from other institutions and to learn from their perspectives on land use planning.

Professor Nash will also visit several local landmarks, including the Iowa State Capitol and the University of Iowa campus, to gain a better understanding of the state's cultural and historical significance.

TO PREVENT DROWNING
If the Titanic had been equipped with lifeboats, few if any of t Hose on board that struck the ltic could have lost their lives.
If grouping boats and other perrench for rescue work had been icefully in the Iowa river a few days , Lee Blumenson's life would have in all probability been saved. It r rape, that fact some of the most obvious needs under all conditions do not occur to persons responsible until a loss of life has called them to notice.
It is inevitable that athletes will care each spring and fall go swimming in the Iowa. To provide a safety net for the Skjalms' tragedy, a special place in the river should be prepared with guard pontoon, and a capable attendant placed in charge to watch the actions of the swimmers.
Life preservers and other rescue apparatus should be kept right on the banks of the river.
Trainmen and assistants should be placed in charge of the no more universal and certainly less hazardous sports. It is certainly not too much to demand that the state take steps to prevent the annual loss of life in the Iowa.

University of Iowa in Annual Home Concerts
Please Listen to Music With Variety of Program
A most successful appearance of the Glee Club took place last Saturday night when the annual home concert was given in the natural scienceauditorium. The attendance was larger than usual. Every number was given in an excellent manner, and the enthusiastic encore gave evidence of the welcome with which the club was received.
The singing of Clifford Hakes and Frank Collindale made a decided hit.
Miss Newcom in, in her interpretation of "Love the Pedlar," proved her ability as a singer.
Miss Florence Harrison, the leader of the club, was at her best. Her selections were especially adapted to her style of rendition, and attended to the excellent training she has received.
The club will appear at West Liberty this coming semester, when a sacred number for the Presbyherian church of that city. The club has appeared at numerous Iowa town concerts; this spring and summer has been greeted in a most humor manner.
The success of the club this year is due altogether to the hard work, neatness of room, and cooperation of Reed and Nolts, who have given their time to arranging concerts for the state.

A Heart To Heart Talk With My Patrons

Only four more days and the greatest value giving sale ever known in Iowa City will close. I appreciate the generous response already made by the people of this city and vicinity and take this means of showing, by giving you extra-ordinary values the last four days.

I have devoted my time and energy for years to standardize this establishment as the leading clothing store in this part of the state. The uncertainties and experimental stages are a thing of the past here. The store is recognized as Iowa City's leading clothing store and enjoys the well-earned reputation of carrying the largest and choicest stock in this city. Of course, I am naturally proud of this eminent position and will always strive to fully maintain it by showing you the world's best and choicest merchandise.

It is a safe bet, to say that the reader is one of my patrons, if not, you should make this store your headquarters, purchasing all goods here is a pleasure. You can make any selection in my stock with the distinct understanding that if the same is not wholly satisfactory to you, that I will cheerfully refund your money.

You want to visit my store and see the large assortment you have to pick from, it is not my aim to sell you a suit or hat today as I want to keep your patronage, not alone today, but in the future as well. You know, this store is headquarters for the fellow that wants nobby, extreme styles as well as the other fellow who wants the conservative.

I cannot bring my store to you, but you can come and see the large assortment of merchandise I have here that I am pardonably so proud of.
