In the registrar's office, the importance of having accurate and up-to-date records cannot be overstated. It is crucial for the smooth operation of the university that students' personal and academic information is kept current. This is particularly important for students who are planning to graduate and need to ensure that all necessary paperwork is in order. The registrar's office is always open to assist students with any questions or concerns they may have.
COULDN'T begin to tell you of all the beautiful suit patterns I am showing this Fall. It's beyond words. It's really a case of "Show You" and that I'll gladly do to come in. It's not merely a matter of patterns, but you'll be surprised to find such this high class hand tailored Ready-To-Wear clothes.....

Come In Today for To-Morrow Never Comes

Engagement is Announced
Wednesday evening, at the home of Stephen Bradley, of this city, Mr. and Miss Bradley announcing the engagement of their daughter, Caroline, to Mr. William Hayes, of Mason City. Miss Bradley has been and is well known to Iowans, as a young lady of great talent and a charming personality.

She is a member of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity and of numerous other university societies. Mr. Hayes, a member of the law class of '10, is a rising young attorney in his home town, Mason City. While the university, he was a member of the Delta theta fraternity and was quite prominent in dramatic and other school activities. The wedding is to take place on October 16th and the many friends of Miss Bradley and Mr. Hayes will have them great happiness in their new home.

MORE INTEREST SHOWN IN ANIMAL BIOLOGY

Many Students Are Over Registered; Realize the Advantage in These Courses

The better class of students are becoming more interested in animal biology and its allied courses each year. At the present time all the beginning classes in zoology are over registered and many students are disappointed because they are unable to pursue these courses.

The young men and women who are coming to the university are learning to realize the marked advantages in choosing a course in training in biology and closely related subjects, and this has caused a situation in which the department is having a hard time to keep up with the laboratories are overcrowded and many of the students are working doubly hard, which only hinders their work, but that of the whole class as well.

The department is doing its best, however, under these conditions, and is working hard with those who were not as fortunate as to get in one of the courses in animal biology.

The history of the Halladays typifies the development of the American west and the spread of the American nation. Mr. Van Der Bie's statement for the task of writing the volume is most fortunate. "Born of Dutch parents in the New Netherlands," says Mr. Van Der Bie, in his editor's introduction, "ready among kinsfolk in Iowa, he has been a part of the life which is portrayed in these pages."

Throughout, the style in the volume is clear and interesting and a sympathetic tone pervades the entire volume. A complete history in the fullness of the work and in its dress of blue and fine linen the volume is a delight to see and to handle.

First Band Rehearsal
The first rehearsal of the year's band took place Wednesday evening at the band in the armory, and it has been a long time since as many men have tried out for this popular musical organization. More than sixty men were present and all were active members of the same class, and it has been a long time since as many men have tried out for this popular musical organization. More than sixty men were present and all were active members of the same class, and all were present and all were active members of the same class.

When the best thirty men have been chosen and owned members of this class, Iowa will have one of the best bands that is alive in the state. It is the intention of Director Van Der Bie to select bands at once and prepare for a number of concerts which will be given in the season. The band intends to furnish music as before for all athletic events and play football tunes for the Iowa fans as they go tearing down the field.

Raymond Robins; the two recognized leading religious workers of the association in this country.

Mr. Smith is one of the best known men that there is and his address are noted for being extremely interesting as well as instructive.

Mr. Robinson is the well-known ardantal worker of Chicago and has done so much as any one man as an artrator between capital and labor in the United States.

The two men come to Iowa preparing a tour of the world, on which they will visit nearly all the principal coast cities of the world.
The meetings will open with a banquet at the armory. Public address-usually will be given every evening during the remainder of the week.

FOOTBALL WAR
ABOUT TO START

PREPARATIONS FOR OPENING
SEASON IN BIG NINE CIR-CULAR NEARING END

Iowa men are "Up on Their Toes" in Anticipation of Next Few Weeks

All around the Big Nine circuits there's dominating the warmth.
The big teams of the west, released from summer's activity by the coming of the date officially set for the opening of the season, will be bearing up the turf of their respective grid-lines among about three thousand this afternoon; and down on Iowa field they'll all be doing the same.

With the arrival of Assistant Coach Mary Ely yesterday, the last preparation for the battles to come was finished. Every man who has been entered was as a contest in itself here and ready for business. Suites

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock fraternities and Sophomores mingle in the annual scrap on Iowa field.
Both men will wear the signal suit, and with the policing and general direction of the men under the supervision of Manager Kinder, a class will be represented by the students from each college.
The rules which will govern the contest are substantially the same as the ones in operation last year. Thus no new rules should be required.

In the past years the intramural contests have appeared arrayed in civilized order, causing serious damage to those who were longing enough to be injured.

Only liberal arts students will be admitted into the scrap. A list of those men will be kept, and those entitled to participate will be passed through the gate. The official rules given out

Official Rules

'There shall be three periods. The length of each period shall be ten minutes, no time to be taken out.

'Intermission between the first and second period shall be five minutes, between second and third periods, ten minutes.

In the first and second periods each participant will be known as a team consisting of a captain and twelve men. The same men may partake in both the first two periods but this is not required.

The whole of each class is eligible to participate in the third period.
The third period will take place regardless of the results of the first two periods.

At the beginning of each period the participants will line up, each on his side of the line. The official "play" of the referee, each side will rush toward the ball which has been placed in the center of the field.
Each side will endeavor to push the ball over the goal line of the other side, each goal to count one point.

In no case does either side touch the ball, or in case of any injury of goals made, the period will be decided against the side whose territory the ball rests at the end of the period.

If the ball crosses one of the side lines, it is brought in fifteen yards on side lines up from the fence that the ball is put in play by the referee.

Any effort on the part of either class to interfere on the end line police or participation of any member of the other class shall subject the offending class to a forfeiture of the match.

LARGE ADDITIONS TO THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Total of 50,000 Voluntary Expenditures of Law Faculty—Many Notable Works

Many additions were made to the university library during the summer making a total of about 50,000 volumes of books in the law library. A great number of the additions were of periodicals purchased to complete the special sets already on the shelves and sets of three periodicals hitherto not taken by the library. Other notable purchases include the proceedings of the American bar association, a small volume catalogue of the British museum library which contains over 2,000,000 volumes. Following is a list of some of the more important acquisitions:

Chancellor's Journal, 77 vols., 1822- 1894

North, 1841-1894. Foremost bottoms publication of the world.

Next Sunday when you don't know what to do or where to go, pay a visit to the city park. You can take a sail, come up the river or stroll just all you please.

If you are looking for girls, you will find them there. If you are looking for boys, you will find them there. If you are looking for a good time, you will find it there.

The park itself is one of the most beautiful in the state. A more perfect place could not have been selected. Nature intended it for a park. Nature intended it for a park. It is a park for the east and north side of the Iowa River. Along the bank one finds picturesque canoes for a river trip, sailing canoe and go on into the park. In the center of the park is a large, grassy plain, where athletic contests and musical concerts can be held. A sloping hill on the west side forms a natural grandstand for the spectators. Ponds, rustic bridges, pavilions, and a growing concern of hours, couples, monikers, in phantasy, etc., are some of the leading attractions.

To serve the library and the town.

John D. Reichardt has created a new and splendid store which in the class of its kind in the state.
