Th e Midland

Our Midland is a city of distinct character. The people there is every indication that the athletic department, as the saying goes, is "a football city," and the spirit is contagious. The student body, which is the most important part of the university, is entirely composed of the best and brightest. The students are keenly interested in all matters relating to the university, and their influence is felt in every department. The Midland is a city of character, a city of culture, a city of progress.

and, although rather short, should develop into vastly material of the larger caliber. This was young Yost's first game as a varsity player and he handled himself well and easily at center.

The Iowa-Wisconsin game appeared completely bewildered on the large floor and did not know what to do with the spaces where they got hold of the ball. Their passing was very poor and they were laboring under the handicap of not having much time to put in any substitutions. Murray was only one of the several who filled the spaces where with that old Iowa spirit.

IAW GIRL WRITERS OF MEETING IN CAMBRIDGE

Pacifist Propaganda To Be Met by Campaign for Adequate Defense

The following article was written for The Iowa Press by Frances M. Corwin, graduate student at Iowa, who is now doing post-graduate work at Radcliffe, the woman's division of Harvard.

The women of Radcliffe college have organized a society under the name of the National Security League. A class meeting of the students has just been held to consider the question of preparedness. The meeting was addressed by leaders in the Massachusetts branch of the National Security League, Dr. Roomer, who has served in the executive office, and in the development of the United States military system. In January, Miss Rome Angell, professor of political science, will open the series of lectures of the organization. The state will be considered the question of the defense of the United States in the form of a national league

The most notable material sign of the university's development the present year is the new women's residence. It was built for the students of the latter houses and is equipped with every modern convenience. The building is an imposing addition to the university, and the facility it will provide for additional residence is most welcome.

Helen McClean will leave her home in Dubuque in the near future and will spend her vacation at the home of her father, in Dubuque. She will return to Iowa City in the fall, when she will begin her course at the University. Miss McClean will address the women's clubs at Fort Dodge.

George Green, a student, born last year, is visiting in Iowa City. He is a student at Iowa.

The University is now open for business.

MARRIAGE OF UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

On Sunday afternoon, in the University Hall, the marriage of Miss Margaret Sloan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sloan, to Mr. John Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson, was performed by the Rev. Mr. H. W. Richards, of the Iowa City Presbyterian Church.

The bride was dressed in white silk and the groom in black, with a white tie.

The ceremony was simple and beautiful, and the couple left the church hand in hand.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where music and refreshments were provided.

The couple will leave for their honeymoon on Monday morning.

BOOKS WORTH READING

The Most Valuable Book of the Century: By John Milton.—Did you know?

In four scholarly essays, Professor Milton analyzes the importance of the Bible in shaping the course of human history. He discusses the role of the Bible in shaping the course of human history and the influence it has had on the development of Western civilization.

There is no book on the Psalms that will make a great impression on you this Christmas spirit at the house. Christmas is a time to be with family and friends, and this book will provide a wonderful opportunity to spend time together.

KENT PLEASED WITH SHOWING OF TEAM

GOOD FORM IN GAME AGAINST IOWA WIELSTEN

Next Game Against Cornell First Friday after Holiday Vacation

Coach Kent was well pleased with the team work and the general showing of the team in the game against Wisconsin. Of course there are some changes to be made, and the men will have to have a chance to get into shape before they will show their real form.

Iowa played a fast game for an early season game, but the competition was rather light, and it was hard to tell just what the men could do if put to the test.

Basket ball will have a chance to show the team in action immediately after the holidays when the fast Cornell team meets Iowa. The following Friday after school, Iowa opens its conference season against the following Monday night against Wisconsin.

The Big Ten meet against Wisconsin, according to the experts, was due to Wisconsin's recent vacation, and Iowa was unable to hold down the fast Cornell team.

Summer Military Camps Commended

University Presidents say they have not expectations.

The report of the advisory committee of university presidents on the training of student soldiers for the summer military camps concludes that the camps have more than fulfilled the expectations and recommendations for their further development.

Powers is the report, a copy of which has just been furnished.

“Some camps have now been in operation for three continuous summers. In their growth and admirable management during the past two seasons, 1913 and 1914, they have more than fulfilled the expectations of those who predicted that, based on the first year’s experience in the summer of 1913, the camps of 1913 and 1914 were held before the breaking out of the great war, which has brought into greater prominence than before their value to the nation.

Report Endorsement.

“Repeal the heavy endorsement given in our reports on the camps held in 1913 and 1914. This year they were visited by a number of the members of our committee, and the committee as a whole has given attention and thought to their educational usefulness in the same season.

Training is extremely valuable, and is a valuable undertaking, especially in the field of education, because it gives to the students attending the camps, who have had valuable training, not only a practical education, but also an opportunity to exercise their minds in their own affairs, and develop their minds in a way that is altogether new. The training of the students attending the camps is excellent, and a great benefit to the students of the public schools. We have not only received the reports of these students, but have also received the reports of those who have had the training of the students attending the camps. The training of the students attending the camps is excellent, and a great benefit to the students of the public schools.
