Most of the actual work is handled by the University News Service, a separate organization which is an entire work in journalism. The task of The Iowan, however, is entirely separate and under the direct control of the editor, supervised by the board.

After three months under the new management, it is safe to say that things are working well. The Daily Iowan today surveyed by the standard of good journalism, is a much better newspaper than it has been for many years. It covers the news of university life better, its manner more carefully prepared, it has a better typographical appearance, reaches subscribers with more regularity, and has a higher general interest.

The subscribers are getting greatly improved service in a reduced subscription rate. And in spite of the heavy increase in cost of production that has been necessary, the business management has been so well conducted that the paper carried a slight profit in the first quarter. Details on the first audit will be published soon. Everyone may now realize how unprofitable the finances of the paper are being handled.

If it does improve progressively better, it will be to the good of students, and members are not cooperating with the immediate helpers of the local board. Right now there are several ways in which every reader of this article can help The Iowan.

Buy the subscription. Subscribe to the paper yourself, if you have not already done so. Persuade other students to subscribe.

Help the editor, the business manager, and their assistants. There will be pages opened and front pages where there should be a waiting list. Not only can you help in the actual work, if you have a good telephone and your address where a call should be made. If you have a good telephone and your address where a call should be made.

New Work Critic Praises Course

F. A. Lucas Says Taxidermy Course Here Is Best He Knows Of

Prof. Bierce Dill, director of museum training in the University, has recently received a letter from Prof. F. A. Lucas, director of the American Museum, highly commending the work done in taxidermy here. He speaks of it as being the best school of its kind that he knows of.

The American Museum of Natural History is the largest of its kind in America and is situated in New York City. The director, Mr. Lucas, is considered to be the highest authority on this kind of work in the country. He asks to know more of the taxidermy museum here, and requests Mr. Dill to send him any procedures or information he may have concerning it.

Although the division here was established only about five years ago, men have graduated from it and have gone out to fill positions. Charles Albrecht, 14, is now director of the museum in Seattle, Washington.

Arthur T. Bailey, 14, is now curator of the department of animals and birds in the state museum of New Orleans.

Letters of inquiry from the Ontario museum in Ottawa have been received and a man will be sent there in June.

A. P. Schmidt, 114 N. Gilbert, a freshman in liberal arts college, was called to his home near Keota by the death of an aunt, Miss Klett of that place.

Prof. Dodge will have on display his recent work, and certain instruments at which he is being situated. Dodge Design.

Mr. Dodge will read the 60th annual meeting of the American Physical society.

In connection with this meeting there will be an exhibition of scientific instruments at which Prof. Dodge will have to display his recent invention, the "Dodge Design" phonograph.

Prof. H. L. Curtice, assistant to Prof. Ernest Horn, will spend the Christmas vacation, at his home in Warrensburg, Mo.

Victor Hugh Tylor, who was graduated in the college of pharmacy last year, is a well-known of the Alpha Tau Omega house. Mr. Tylor was born in a club house in Kansas.

MANY EXCELLENT PICTURES SECURED FOR ART EXHIBIT

FOURTH ANNUAL ART EXHIBIT OF OLD PAPIERS IN JANUARY

Complete Exhibit Will Be Forty Choose Pictures from the Annual Exhibit of 400 at the Chicago Art Institute

Officers of the Iowa City Fine Arts association are delighted with the prospect of having an excellent list of pictures for the fourth annual exhibit of old paintings in Iowa City.

“Winter Glow” is the title of the sixteen Brownian work which will be among the forty paintings to be next held. Although, it is a recent composition, it has gained a reputation extending throughout the art circuits of the country.

Assurance has come that Edward Marlin’s “Four Days,” Canton, Ohio, will be held. Although the Edward has won both the Boston Palmer, gold medal and the Norma West Harris bronze medal. It is an oil picture at the Art Institute in Chicago, and, of course, one of the best known American painters.

Other interesting combinations which have been ordered are Mar­ vine’s “Death of Day,” Eliza P. Hatch’s “Portrait of Mrs. J. E. Wickham,” and Raymond Nolten’s “A Day of the City.”

A work which will doubtless interest, discussion is “Man and Monk,” painted by Randall Davey.

Walker MacKaye’s “Bliss and White,” Bruce Cran’s “Last Snow,” and others not so widely known will complete the exhibit.

The shows will be made in the building of the Commercial club late in January. It will open to all the members of the Iowa City Fine Arts association. Membership is the association made up of fine clubs in open to all persons interested. Probably special tickets will be offered to students or reduced rates, although this has not been definitely decided.

There will be forty paintings in the complete exhibit, all of them at the annual exhibit of the Chicago Art Institute.

A FEW THINGS A CHEMIST SHOULD DO

In passing through the chemical laboratory, one is struck by sensations and questions posted on some of the bulletin boards, and it has been interesting to obtain the student's version of them. The room and suggestions are not printed here, but they are derived from the following students' versions, as procured in their different classes there:

1. Never use the sink at your desk, because it might get empty, or
2. Never use the sink for its intended use, because it's not empty, or
3. Always borrow from your neighbors, for it is better to have borrowed and broken or lost, than never to have borrowed at all.
4. Never use flasks to test for availability for it is quicker to test the air space, or smell of solution. It is a waste of paper, and "conservation" should be the watchword in a laboratory.
5. Never bring your own key or more than once a week, for constant use will wear it out. Get an impression to open your laboratory. It's all right if you are here for anyway.
6. Never boil conical or globular, or other vessels, under " brooks" for fear of doing it at your desk you can kill off half the class before having more room to study.
7. Is it better to leave the plates out of the "egg-plat" (?) (8, 8, plat) or replacing the

IOWA PEOPLE ARE DEVELOPING TOWNS

PUBLIC SPIRIT OF CITIZENS LEADS TO SURVEY AND BUILDING UP

"The people of Iowa are excited coming to a realization that constructive town development pays wonderful dividends," declares C. F. Kertz, extension worker at the University of Iowa.

"The movement for town development is peculiar in many respects to Iowa," Mr. Kertz says. "Other states are working at it, but in Iowa the realization is full swing."

"When the question is asked, what is wrong with the towns? there is no answer; no organization, little public spirit, no knowledge of the responsibilities incident to citizenship."

"They assume the responsibility and then demand a knowledge of the resources of the community."

"The towns of Iowa are going through a reconstructive period. It is not to block the material changes or the improvements that will mark the meeting of the old town."

The Daily-Item thanks Mayor W. M. Makler of Cedar Rapids, Friday evening.
