SNOWFLAKES
It's literally in the atmosphere, that intangible, indefinable something that comes with snowy weather. Perhaps a light breeze of the air, or perhaps the fury flakes that shower down from heaven, or perhaps the sound of the snow gently brushing back and forth, is how that snow seems to affect all. Dell spirits rise like bubbles and even the dullest take on a dimension of 'magic.'

People walk hurriedly down the street with the air of having something urgent on hand. Now and then someone slips on the icy pavement, and the sound of a few notes, varying slightly to reach his balance, and the wailing of a siren near the sidewalk as we laugh. Inevitably we do, even when understanding and sympathetic in a way.

A breathless youngster standing at the top of the hill gives a shout and dropping downward on his horse starts. In an instant the crowd of skaters gather round by the echo of the first cry. With cape and muff-covered body, holding and shouting they are off for the "big slide" on the new track. Perhaps for a moment to view the dark figures flying over the white ground, and then, jumping, hands fastened into their pockets, move on with a short step. Now but a shortwhile passing can be heard today for everyone's thoughts are getting light as the flowers themselves.

Some would analyze this as the recurrence of the child in every one, the spirit of youth, or such notions in our everyday routine.

MORE ON SIDEWALKS
The daily Iowan would seriously doubt that any legislature, or writer, as the case may be, by being a chronic "weather" but romantic muse be the "great and voice the sentiment on certain matters if the student of 'the condition of the sidewalk' would not restrain opinions of their own volition.

For the third time—and we hope the last—alter it becomes necessary to complain of the conditions on the sidewalks around the university building and grounds. Daily talk with the sidewalks were covered with slush so that the only safe way for one to walk there was to wear rubber boots. This slush and mud was allowed to remain on the sidewalks.

Now the time has taken the place of the weather and the condition of the sidewalks. For it did not defy it any longer in the week. With the sidewalks and sidewalks. With the sidewalks and sidewalks. In the week

The Hawkeyes played a good passing game and brought forward a star in the person of Blumstein, who made four field goals, three of them in the last half. Williams produced a sensation by tossing seven out of eight chances from the foul line, making his first six successful. Von Lackum’s record for Iowa was almost as good, for after missing his first try “Peasants” made five successful attempts overall.
