The DAILY IOWAN

The Daily Iowan will always publish the truth, however unpleasant or contrary to the views of its proprietors or any class or individual.

A WORTHY SUGGESTION

The question of a sane celebration by University students worthy of consideration by all students. The plan as suggested by a number of leaders today seems to be one of the best solutions, and one which has been beneficially tried out at other educational institutions.

If a celebration is anticipated, no one can object to the hours to be spent procured early in the day, while the fraternities are able to distinguish laundry wagon or a bungalow from a real good house. The plan at Michigan of permitting the various freshmen classes to compete in selecting the most attractive group of their pupils in detecting which they should not or not represently accept. However, it might be possible to give the first year men of each college an opportunity to display their loyalty as a class, giving them a game in proportion. As for the custom in regard to stands between classes. If the men work at this, they should have a little more but that the merchants of Iowa City would be glad to donate their stores the necessity of kindness.

If leadership is to be indicated, the celebration might easily be appointed to the senior class presidents. Experience shows that the younger, with experience, are not distinct in their college, and is in any direction or to any place which sometimes forces young men on such an occasion is to be expected. At the same time, a few well leaders keep the rank person, and within the proper bounds.

As a method of getting started toward a sane celebration, it might be feasible for the dean of men to take the matter up with the freshmen at the first opportunity during each school year. In this way it will be possible to install their minds at the very start the attitude which the student body has towards demonstration of a rash nature such as have occasioned many unfortunate during the past few years.

There's a sample funny thing about this great big school and our To me it's indispensable. It's worsted for hours. Why do we little freaky boys Who don't play pool or smoke. And don't want to make. Like them great big senior bl//*[elumn. Hear from the leaders and the student body. All through the live long day When we ought to be out playin' Just to give all care and comfort. Now, why don't we Mr. Jeps and some of the boys down at the club? Put a little chicken neck Or a slippery matter's place? Then we could get away. Nor get humiliated, sad, or blue. If we could get a good dose of it. Like we always used to do.

BOOM and mosquito in hot air. Neither you can find their place with a plenty of good pipe smoke. VELVET is a good pipe smoke.

IOWA GRAD ACCEPTS

NIGHT EDITOR JOBS

Hamilton Johnson, B. A. '17, has accepted a position as night copy editor on the Minneapolis Tribune according to a letter to a friend in the University. After his graduation M. Johnson worked on the Cedar Rapids Gazette, and later advanced to a position on the staff of the Du- buque News-Telegraph, which he re- signed in order to accept the Minneapolis paper's offer.

MARY PICKFORD ATTENDS ROLEX DANCE SCHOOL

L. C. Macoyce, head of one of the leading schools of California, recently sent an extended trip during the Texas bill- fared, covering 150 concerts, given in the northern part of Iowa and Minnesota and Saint Paul.

In every instance the club was received enthusiastically, and the concert re- ceived was declared to be of the highest order. One wrote up included a statement that every number was pleasingly rendered and that the sev- eral artists evidenced talent that would do credit to any professional form of the treatises that the program furnished. Another paper reported that the Glee club gave one of the finest musical enter- tainments the people of the town had ever heard of the privileges of the attend- ance. Opera is regarded as standing for the best in music and their Glee club was mentioned as one of the best in the house but that their numbers will come again. In the meantime her famous hulk, "Hulda," that swam all the way from Chicago to New York in the winter basin of a Pullman draw- er room—has become an actor, or rather, an actress. She has made her debut In "The Pride of the Clan," the new Pickford-Aschenbrenner picture at the Garden theater, starting Sat- urday afternoon.

The announcement of the Glee club is alighting on the Oberlin Glee Club. The University Glee club is singing day. The scenario also called "Spring Fever." The concert given by the Iowa Glee club before the Minneapolis University club in New Year's day was attended by an audience, Oberlin, who was also local manager for the Oberlin Glee club concert to be given in Chicago and Minneapolis New Year's night. Having heard the rev- eling he stated: at the Garden theater, starting...
