LEGISLATURE MAY COMPLETE PROGRAM IN EXTRA SESSION

Speaker Suggests Adjourned Session Next Fall Or Spring

Proposal Assembly Authorizes Governor to Appoint Commissions to Be Made Early Next Term

Friday, Jan. 25.—Speaker Pitt Williams, after running through the summary of the legislation that will go to the governor at the close of the session, said that he expected the legislature to adjourn next session.

He said that the governor had requested the legislature to adjourn early next session, so that a special session might be called at the close of the session for the purpose of enacting legislation of a temporary nature.

"We have had a very short session," he said, "and the governor has requested that we adjourn early so that he may call a special session at the close of the regular one."

It was understood that the governor would then have time to act on such legislation that might be necessary to be passed.

In the meantime, the speaker suggested that the legislature complete its work as early as possible and adjourn next fall or spring for the purpose of enacting legislation of a temporary nature.

OPERATION ABDOMINAL

George E. MacLean, president of the Iowa university from 1899 to 1911, is slowly recovering from two serious operations at his temporary residence in Bournemouth.

Dr. MacLean became ill last fall and was taken to London where he was operated upon Nov. 12. This was only partially successful and a second and more complete operation was performed Dec. 14. The second was successful, and he was taken back to his Bournemouth residence to recuperate.

Friends at the University have just heard through a letter written Dec. 16, that he was improving rapidly but that it will probably be some time before his health is fully restored.

After leaving Iowa, Dr. MacLean went to Washington, where he was associated with the National Bureau of Education, and later, in 1913, went to England as the representative of that bureau to conduct an investigation of the schools and colleges in England and Ireland. At the time he became ill he had completed his mission, and he will return to America as soon as his health permits.

He came to this University from 1899 to 1903 from the University of Nebraska where he had been a member of the faculty of the school of education. He was regis-
