Hundreds of dollars are expected to be spent in the purchase of new buildings. The liberal arts college has been the chief source of the money used for this purpose, and the following is a list of the new buildings that have been announced:

1. Science Auditorium: The auditorium will be used for science lectures and meetings. The building will be equipped with the latest scientific apparatus and will have a capacity of 500 persons.

2. Engineering Building: This building will be used for engineering classes and will be equipped with the latest engineering equipment. The building will have a capacity of 400 persons.

3. Arts and Science Building: This building will be used for arts and science classes and will be equipped with the latest educational apparatus. The building will have a capacity of 300 persons.

4. Business Administration Building: This building will be used for business administration classes and will be equipped with the latest business equipment. The building will have a capacity of 200 persons.

The total cost of these buildings is estimated to be $500,000. The following are the architects and engineers who will be working on the construction of these buildings:

- Science Auditorium by John D. Rockefeller, Jr.
- Engineering Building by Charles F.ollen, Jr.
- Arts and Science Building by Louis I. Kahn
- Business Administration Building by I. M. Pei

The construction of these buildings is expected to be completed within the next two years.

Helen Rowe, a freshman liberal arts student, has announced that she will be the new editor of the University newspaper. She will be responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper and will be supervised by the department of journalism.

There will be a general meeting of the university faculty on Monday, September 15, to discuss the construction of these new buildings. All members of the faculty are expected to attend. The meeting will be held in the new science auditorium.

MILLS TO LECTURE ON NATIONAL PARKS

 Ezra Mills of Elkins Park, Col.,

will lecture on “National Parks” on Feb. 12. Mr. Mills is a well-known editor in the field of natural science and is famed as one of the earliest advocates and promoters of the movement for the establishment and maintenance of national parks in this country. Students will fur-further that Mr. Mills visited here last year.

The library contains a number of volumes of which he is the author. Among these are “Beaver World,” which is the result of many years of study and observation by the author. The final chapter considers the economic values of the beaver and makes strong plea for its preservation.

“The Spell of the Rockies” and “Rocky Mountains—Wonderland” are other books of his.

COLD FACTS, THAT’S ALL

It was 60 degrees colder yesterday, as shown by the special observations of Dr. F. Reilly, associate professor of mathematics, than a day or two ago.

The temperature registrar registered 13 degrees below zero yesterday while the report of last year shows 14 degrees above. This January has not hit the low points of the thermometer as January, 1914, did.

The minimum record a year ago was 25 degrees below, while 18 degrees below is the extreme for 1117.
