FRANCIS NEILSON FINDS ECONOMIC THOUGHT EASABLE

FORMER MEMBER OF BRITISH PARLIAMENT SURPRISED AT SMALL ADVANCE

"Socialism And Demogrophy" Subject of Lecture Given by American-Speaks Twice Today: Was Voluntary Cooperation in Public Utilities.

"To one who has been quite initiated with current political movements in the past fifteen or twenty years it is a strange thing to come back to America to find that you have advanced very little in the social sphere," said the Hon. Francis Neilson, former member of British parliament, speaking to a large conference in the liberal arts assembly room yesterday afternoon on the subject, "Socialism and Democracy." Mr. Neilson, who read three lectures on the second,"How Higher Education in America Will Be done,""The Problem of the Farm," and "Ideas of Life," received a long ovation after making his third and last demonstration of lectures.

"I do not know why it is that in this country everyone seems to be in so much confusion of thought and discussion of economic questions," said the speaker, "some people do not know what the proper conditions should be and others do not see how the people will follow any plan that is laid down for them by their neighbors." Mr. Neilson continued.

"I want not compulsory cooperation on the basis of social rights, but voluntary cooperation on the basis of social rights. The speaker said in regard to the insurance of a large class of public utilities, "The state is going to control all the factors of production, distribution, and exchange, it must control all land, labor, and capital. I am distinctly not in favor of state socialism."

"Why on earth private corporations should have the right to set the rules to the exclusion of the people, I cannot think of a thing I never understood."

"I do not like the idea of women's suffrage," said Mr. Neilson, "I am taking a stand against taxation of land values, for by this method you force it into the market for use."

"We ought to seek liberty and freedom. We are living in a world today where in Europe people have lost their liberty during this war, and this is time for you people who have always loved liberty and who without a word or a sign have always held fast to the principles of justice, to wake up and try to understand your position and understand the jealousy under which you stand today. Let us have a free discussion and a fresh review of the great social and political questions with deep religious convictions.""

WHAT MEN LOVE

These will appeal to this column.

1. Quotations from Modern Writers and Speeches, Letters from Alumni and Friends of the University.

2. Addresses of Outstanding Men and Institutions:

"In every great task a religious man is constantly thrown back on the use of all God—most of all in the greatest task of all. Eternal power are working with you every day. That state, that it is not reversed and that we cannot give up the faith in the collaboration and patience of God, today than such of the best spiritual achievement of mankind in every area, and we seek far away from a kingdom of love. "As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."—Anon.

FOOTBALL IS

ONLY SPORT THAT PAYS

PROFESSOR LAMBERT ESTIMATES POSSIBLE GAIN IN

ATHLETICS THIS YEAR

"Football is the only sport at the University which is paying for its self," said R. J. Lambert, chairman of the athletic board, last evening, "and the receipts for this season amount to approximately $7,500."

The football receipts for the past season totalled $12,324. This item includes $2 each on each of the 3,550 season athletic tickets, or 60 cents for each of the games on the home field.

Last year the minor sports, including wrestling, track, basketball, and swimming, lost approximately $5,150 for the Iowa athletic fund. With this as a basis for the present year's deficit in these sports, it is a possibility that the football profits may permit a gain of $2,000 in athletics for the academic year 1916-1917.

Including the season tickets at 60 cents a game, the gate receipts for the 1916 football season are:

Cornell ........................................ 1,387.60
Grinnell ........................................ 1,111.60
Northwestern ................................... 1,147.00
Minnesota ...................................... 2,651.00
Purdue ........................................... 2,535.00
Amon ............................................. 3,704.00
Nebrook ......................................... 1,894.00

TURK GOVERNMENT WILL BE CHANGED
RALPH S. BARLOW, RETURNED MISSIONARY, SAYS WAR MEANS CHANGE

When the present great war is over the government of Turkey will be entirely revolutionized, according to Ralph S. Barlow, returned missionary from Turkey who arrived in Iowa City yesterday before to speak to the T. W. C. A. this afternoon.

"All Americans in the Moslem empire agree that the day of the sick man of Europe is in the not distant future, in nearly every part," Mr. Harlow said. "A new government will be founded which will recognize freedom and liberty, and the leaders in the movement will be the young men educated in our American-founded schools and colleges. Discontent is already evident among the young men. It is only a matter of time until they will take the power from the hands of the few or the men who are now supreme. The terrible Armenian massacre, in which 151,000 Armenians have been murdered or driven into exile are not ends to themselves, but are common on the Salonian government at Constantinople."

Mr. Harlow met with the student volunteers of the University of Connecti cut last fall and met with the promotions of the T. W. C. A. at 7. Mrs. Harlow will speak at Clove hall at 4:15 this afternoon. At 7:30 Mr. Harlow will address the young men on "The Challenge of the Students of the University of the Students of America."

BORDWELL SPEAKS AT FRAT LUNCHEON
TELLS PHI DELTA PHI STUDY OF INTERNATIONAL LAW IS NEEDED NOW

Plu Delta Phi, the honorary law fraternity, held a luncheon in the Dutch room of the Hotel Jefferson Tuesday noon at which twenty-three members were present.

After a "sufficient quota of polish," a program of toasts was told, over which E. L. O'Connor, vice-president of the Law School Students' association, presided. A number of members were called on for toasts, among whom was Prof. Percy Bordwell, who talked on "Our Nation's International Exemplification."

"Never before in the history of the country," said Professor Bordwell, "has there been an opportunity or duty more necessary for the study of international law." His dis course portrayed the weaknesses of the world powers in enforcing international duties.

Other speakers were Prof. Claude E. Hareck, Professor Harding, Dr. Snyder, Norman Carroll, and Herbert J. Hoffman. Judge Martin J. Wells was to have been a speaker, but his duties as a federal judge kept him from attending.

The luncheon was made a bi-weekly affair from now on, meetings to be held on every other Tuesday noon.
