MUSEUM RECEIVES COIN COLLECTION

RECENT ADDITION GIVES GREEK HISTORY

The University recently purchased a collection of about 250 different ancient coins from Prof. H. F. Wick- man of the University's museum. The purchase was negotiated by Prof. William R. Underhill, curator of the museum.

The collection is unusually well classified and complete. The coins were collected by Professor Wik- man when he was a student in the University and later after he became a professor. They tell the history of the Greek and Roman Empire almost completely without break.

There are several Greek coins, both silver and bronze, and an Epy- nais coin which dates back to the time of Cleopatra. Several Parthian coins are included, and a large number of roman coins.

The news offices in the United States have not been kept from this fact that it is expected that they will send the same number.

The three rooms in the museum are being used at present by the Petersburg Art and Drama Society.

Professor Underhill's declara- tion that Friday's policy is that the modern girl is highly concerned with "bushy eyebrows" and that she is more or less concerned with the idea of appearing to the man in vigorously opposed by the woman and a very determined one here.

There was much discussion of the subject of Professor Bower's new book on his lectu- re. "I make him furious," Beaufee Bowerman said, and I made a comment that the best way to get at the heart of a freshman girl is to make her furry.

BOWIE TIE LETTERS FOR BIG FRATERNITY

The letter is signed by Herbert B. S., the editor of the Law and Political Science Association, and William J. S. of the University's Law School.

The meeting will be held for the purpose of making definite plans for the formation of an all-faculty sta- fice for further active service in the University.

The University has arranged for a meet- ing, which is to be held on the following Tuesday, to call out by a com- mittee the members of the faculty who are interested in a faculty association. The meeting will be at the University Club.

The committee will be composed of the following members: Professors J. R. B., J. R., and H. B. B., and the names of the members will be sent to the student representatives.

Signed by President.

4 Strategies that Face a Senior

1. Repayment of previous medical/financial commitments.

2. Creation of a saving capacity to maintain the family budget.

3. Health, present condition, or later.

Those tasks can all be helped by the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co., for less than interest on the principal. In case of early death all your debts are paid and an estate left to your relatives. If you live, the principal sum will be returned to you as a cash enrichment, which funds help the needs in later life.

IOWA WINS EIGHTH IN FOURTH SHOOT
WASHINGTON STATE MAKES THE FIRST PERFECT SCORE OF THE YEAR

Iowa marksman secured eighth place in the fourth match of the season in the inter-collegiate match between Iowa and Washington State. This is a drop of two positions as compared with the results of the third match, in which the total score was sixth place. A group of thirty-six colleges and universities, including West Point and Annapolis, competed in the match.

Michigan Aggies (255) held first place in the third contest until Washington State late reserves showed a score of 862. This is the first "blizzard" shot this year in the inter-collegiate matches. In the fourth match, Michigan Aggies, Iowa's old rivals, with a score of 862 crowd­ed Iowa out of fifth place by four points. Amos ranked fifth.

The fourth match showed the Michigan Aggies in the lead, with Washington State not yet heard from. Massachusetts Aggies still held fifth place and the C. S. Naval Academy with a score of 912 kept Iowa from seventh place by four points. Amos climbed to twelfth place at 1477, seven points higher than the Iowa score.

ENGINEERS AGAIN WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

BY DEFEATING I. A. S. 22 TO 22
TODAY'S GAME CLAIM IS DISPUTED

By defeating the liberal arts baseball team 22 to 22, the engineers won the Interdepartment championship of the university on the second floor yesterday afternoon in the finals of the series of games which has been played off this winter. Until yesterday the liberal arts team had not defeated this winter, and the victory for the engineers leaves their season's record.

There was a crowd of over 1,000 in attendance. The victory was claimed as the only victory of the day and the new score. In the second game of the series the students were going great guns when the undergraduate band marched, played "Auld Lang Syne," and was led by a line of students, and not sticking up the flag that it had made during the first week.

Brilliant Speaker for Vespers Today

Dr. Lynne Habbel Hough to Lecture on "The Imperial: Al: Religion"

The program for the vespers service in the aural temple authorizes this afternoon at 4 o'clock will include as principal speaker Dr. Lynne Habbel Hough, of the Garrett Biblical Institute, Illinois, who will give a sermon on "The Imperial: Al: Religion." Dr. Hough is a new speaker, a coming orator, Prof. G. T. W. Parker said yesterday. "He has had a series of brilliant successes in this line, going from one big church to another. He is a man of great literary ability and knowledge, and could give a lecture on Darwinism on as much ease as a sermon." The vespers program follows: Portland, Meidley in P. H. Ralston, University Orchestra, Invocation, The Rev. J. M. Houston, Gven, "Oh Worship the King," Scripture Reading.
