Did you know that if some one asks you which is the most popular of the plays which have been performed by the University of Iowa, you might name "A Doll's House," "The Devil's Disciple," or "The Importance of Being Earnest"? These are, of course, the most popular plays in the repertory of the University of Iowa, but they are not the only ones. There are many other plays which are equally popular and which have been performed by the University of Iowa in the past year.

The most popular play of the past year, however, is not one of the plays mentioned above. It is "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde. This play has been performed by the University of Iowa more times than any other play in the repertory.

The reasons for the popularity of "The Importance of Being Earnest" are many. It is a comedy, and comedies are always popular with audiences. It is also a witty and clever play, and it is easy to understand. The characters are well-drawn, and the dialogue is memorable. The play is also a satire on Victorian society, and this is a topic that is always interesting to audiences.

But the most important reason for the popularity of "The Importance of Being Earnest" is that it is a play that everyone can enjoy. It is a play that is enjoyed by both adults and children, and it is a play that is enjoyed by everyone who sees it. This is why it is the most popular play of the past year, and it is a play that everyone should see.
