COMPULSORY DRILL FOR ALL

With the announcement in this morning's issue of The Daily Iowan that an effort is being made to form a company among the faculty members who will drill under the super- vision of the University department, much interest will be shown among the present company of Cadets, for which the members of the instruc- tors are to be thanked.

Whether the members of the faculty will take the same indolent at- titude that the cadets have shown in preparing themselves to serve their own country as has been shown already by a large number of the cadets is yet to be seen; but, whatever their action may be at this time, we hope that not too much attention will be paid to our present mediocrity. The importance of military drill.

With a state of war existing between the United States and the Imperial German Empire, there is no reason for neglecting the importance of military training.

There is little doubt but that the hall will soon come for volunteers, and that with that and call there will come the need for trained officers as well as for "recruits." The University is now offering every man, whether the faculty or student body, the chance to make something better of himself than a "recruit." Present your point to the fact that there will be no large number of volunteers who will not find themselves to be ade- quate for the duties for which they have ought two of their strength.

As long as this is true, The Daily Iowan believes that the present ap- proach of "dilettante" military training is not to be considered the highest in the University. Many do not drill because they do not wish, but are required to do so as an essential part of service in our country. Under no conditions should every man now informed of this have the university rather than forks and encourage a curriculum, which fact is very de- pendent. It is certainly true of as said in the article "The Student's Right" that there will be some men who will never understand their gain in drill, and this number is now an- ciently on the increase and will con- tinue so untilmillilitants, which mon- ster that is causing such danger in Europe will be displaced once and for all.

Real patriotism is an excellent thing and should be encouraged by every legitimate means. I am most emphatically opposed to military drill for ever the cause in just and right but not for America lib- erties. Let's have compulsory military drill in the highest form of service to our country. Many men do not drill because they are conscientious and do not want to drill.

LAWYERS VOTE TO FORM VOLUNTEER COMPANY. Members of the law school association voted unanimously yesterday that the students of the law school should form a volunteer company to drill, to drill at least three times a week, the work to begin next week. Professor was the hour decided upon as being the most suitable for all the students. The president of the association was given the power to appoint the commanding officers to have charge of the drill. Law students assert that sentiment is so strong in the college for military drill that everyone will drill without the present's being made compulsory. Already suitable pathetic resolutions are being framed by the minds of law students for "slackers," according to student of the college.

WILL HAVE UNIFORM ACCOUNTING SYSTEM All Organizations Must Use Same Kind of Books, in Accordance With Recent Ruling.

The board of audit was authorized to require a uniform system for keeping the books of all University organizations under their jurisdiction at the meeting of the University senate last week, according to Prof. F. G. Higbee, chairman of the board. The audit committee was also given authority to require that treasurers of all organizations hold office for at least one year.

An approach to a uniform accounting has been employed for some time, says Professor Higbee, but it has been rather unsuccessful in several respects. The board of audit will work out the new system and it will go into use next school year. Several societies and clubs have already asked the board of audit for some system which will be more satisfactory than the systems now used. Requiring a term of office of one year for treasurers will require some of the forty or fifty organizations to modify their constitutions slightly, but this is done, the treasurer of that organization will run more efficiently, Professor Higbee thinks.

Phil Rapp will entertain at Masonic hall, Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Rales will chaperon.
