FAMOUS ORCHESTRA HAS REACHED TOTAL MUSICAL PERFECTION

Professor Kay Says All Students Should Hear Minneapolis Orchesta on May 8.

DIRECTOR IS NOTED MUSICAL FIGURE

Arms Will Be Awarded If Concert is Attended as It Should Be, Kay says.

"Very few of our students seem to realize," said Professor G. F. Kay, chairman of the Music Council, yesterday, "what a rare opportunity is offered them in the coming of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. The impression seems to be that even if it is a perfectly edited edition of a real orchestra, it is made up of trained and expert musicians. The fact is, however, that this orchestra is an orchestral institution. It is in the formation of many individual into as a whole that is made up as magnificent musical instrument. The conductor plays upon this instrument, and his skill as a conductor will make it a skilled and expert musician. Thus the students have a chance to take part in the music-making.

"The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra is a real orchestra, and the opportunity to hear them will be a benefit to the students in many ways. It is not only a good experience for them, but it will also be of considerable benefit to the University, as it will attract more students to music and will show them the possibilities of the profession.

"The University of Iowa has always been proud of its music program, and this opportunity will be a fine one for the students to take advantage of. The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra is a fine orchestra, and the students will be able to appreciate the beauty of the music that is being played.

"The opportunity to hear such an orchestra contains a master by the name of Mr. Charles Thomas Berry, who does not come to every community and every student ought to take advantage of this opportunity.

"This is a rare opportunity, and the students ought to take advantage of it. The University of Iowa is one of the few universities in the country that has a symphony orchestra, and it is a fine opportunity for the students to take advantage of it.

Government will Give Examination

Attempts to Be Made to Fill Va-

An examination will be held about the last week in June, 1917, by the Commissioner for the purpose of filling vacancies in the corps of as-istant patent examiners. The com-corps have for some time been reorganized and there are vacancies constantly occurring. Every man who has satisfied the requirements for assistant examiner is interested in the examination. The examiners are recruited mainly from colleges and universities granting of patents for inventions. In the corps there are now several vacancies and many other vacancies are constantly occurring. Any
examiner is interested in the examination. The

examiner.

The work done by patent examiners is interesting and instructive. It provides for examiners to search prior publications and patents relating to inventions disclosed in applications for patents to determine whether or not what seems the preftured inventions are new and useful.
In addition, there is afforded an excel-ent opportunity in work for the profession of law and especially the law relating to patent property. Washington, Stevens and several other examiners in each of the States receive $2,700 per annum, and four grades of assistant examiner earn $1,250, $1,800, $1,500, and $1,000 per annum. There are 65 vacant positions in each of these grades. Information can be had by writing to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or in a manual of examiners in each of these grades.

S. Spring, Minneapolis, spent two-weeks in Cedar Rapids, where she met her brother from Ottumwa, who was there on a short business trip.

Dr. Frank Stevens was in Detroit the latter part of the week finishing the portion of the survey, which was completed by the University hospital there.

Patriotic Meeting Was an Inspiration

So declared Prof. R. B. Wyile in describing the meeting at Chicago Saturday.

Prof. R. B. Wyile, of the botany department who represented the University at a meeting of the National Security League held in Chicago Saturday, announces that the whole affair was an inspiration.

The main meeting was held in the Rock Yards auditorium, and the people were kept late for hours before the meeting opened.

Revolution thousand people greeted Theodore Roosevelt as he made his way to the platform.

"The meeting was so great I could not hear the Naval band that was playing not twenty feet from me," Mr. Wyile said.

The plan made by Roosevelt was that America should vote the war because it "that business to his self." He also argued that the steps taken in France should be trusted on French soil.

The meeting was opened by H. E. Merrill, president of the National Security League. Governor Frank L. Hines, a graduate of this University and Governor W. L. Harding of this state were present.
