For Home Service.

The purpose will not be to train but to prepare the men, the first two or three in an idea of what is to be done. It is a matter of the care of the men in the home service. The home service will be open to any man who is interested.

W. C. Williams.

For the University's baseball team, it is understood that the armory will be used for the time being, but it is believed that the armory will be a place where the men can be trained, and that the armory will be a place where a large number of men can be trained.

John Shaw.

UNIVERSITY OPINION

Note-The Daily Iowan will gladly print any correction and make any statement at the request of the writer and before it is printed if the writer desires. The article will be printed if there is a second demand for it.

To the Editor of the Daily Iowan,

The keeping of your columns open to the frank expression of opinions seems to me a vital phase of your publication and I cannot forbear my opinion that the hope of the outcome of the discussions which was closed by Mr. Becker may not die "in" or other from future treatments from foreign, spoken, or written. At this moment, when Congress is battling to maintain this right for the press of America surely we should back up in practice what we claim in theory. If this fundamental freedom is now denied, in even temporarily, more harm will have been done to the democracy of the world, for which we believe essential to us than our ships and arms must now possibly undo across the sea.

The common demand for free thought and free speech is indeed the tie which binds us most closely to the British who have for centuries fought for this right, and are still fighting for it. This want popular expression is essential to our maintenance of Germany, though Germany has not suppressed it in order to maintain, who in this country may certainly be our ally. Briefly, then, we should hold every principle which has for so long interested among our ancestors. And a university community, of all others, of all others, should determine to maintain full freedom of thought and expression, so that, as far as possible, we may mitigate the inevitable intellectual treachery of war.

What shall it profit us, if, as a nation, we lose the freedom of the all the lose and our own soul, our essential freedom?

HIGH SCHOOL MEET MAY BE ABANDONED ON ACCOUNT OF WAR

Letters Indicate that Several Schools Will Not Be Able to Send Track Teams.

This is not at all improbable that the war will come the abandonment of the present season at least of the annual intercollegiate track and field meet for Iowa high schools which is a spring athletic event at the University each season. The meet is now scheduled for May 24, but it is expected that a meeting of the athletic board to be held during the current week will determine that this year the meet will be dispensed with.

Letters which have been sent to all high schools in the state seeking whether they consider sending teams or not have not received in underivable regions in a great majority of cases. Most high school principals are writing that the boys in the school are going to farms or helping the army so that their athletic hopes for the spring have been shattered. One high school has every member of its female class either cultured or doing farm work, and the principal of the school is doing military training at the University hoping to be ordered to Fort Snelling in the officers’ reserve training unit. The majority of the principals see the war as the reason for their inability to compete; some merely hope that they will be unable to send a team. A very few are anticipating entry.

While no action is in the matter has yet been taken, in the face of the fact that almost no schools have indicated that they are ready to enter the meet, it seems almost impossible that the event will be held. The University itself has already called off its track event for the spring partly because of the war.
