LAST FORMATION OF CADET REGIMENT TO TAKE PLACE JUNE 2

Competition for Junior, Sophomore and Freshman Prizes killed. The new cadet-ment will be a larger and better organized body than the present.

Because of the early departure of many of the officers and men of the Cadet Regiment, it is thought to be impracticable to hold the Cadet Competitions for the Coast Guard and the C. S. Liley Prizes at this time. The prizes will be awarded to the best man of the Commandant and to the best man of the two companies in the regiment. In addition, the Commandant will consider the results obtained by the cadets in the gymnasium practice now being conducted.

The individual competitions for the Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen will take places on Field 1 at 11 a.m. on Saturday, June 1st. This will include the usual competitions of the Cadet Regiment and all awards are to be presented under special order by the Commandant. Each company will conduct a preliminary competition for the selection of two sophomores and two freshmen who will take part in the final competition. All juniors are eligible.

Following these competitions there will be a military relay race and a tug of war for the cadets.

Rally race: One team of two men from the新鲜man company will take place on Field 1 at 3 p.m. This will include the usual competitions of the Cadet Regiment and all awards are to be presented under special order by the Commandant. Each company will conduct a preliminary competition for the selection of two sophomores and two freshmen who will take part in the final competition. All juniors are eligible.

STAY FOR COMMENCEMENT

At the beginning of this month, announcements for Commencement exercises have often voiced the sentiment that they would be here while the students were on the grounds. Accordingly, when the President, Dr. A. C. Snelling, announced that the University was making more elaborate plans than ever before to entertain the seniors and the Commencement guests, in the same manner, the students should also do their part in pleasing the seniors, their friends and the alumni. This year, by remaining in Iowa City and taking an active part in the celebration.

The students who have successfully met the requirements for graduation, have a great university such as Iowa affords, no small amount of recognition is due at this time. By remaining in Iowa City, they show their respect for the seniors and at the same time do their part for their University by making its commencement exercises a big event in the life of every student.

Personal advantages are also to be gained by the students. After a hard year's work, they should take a week off to really get acquainted with the University atmosphere outside the class room walls. During this week it would be possible for any to get a complete rest without the worries of lecturers; he could make those long-needed mid-summer trips; picnics delayed by rain could be held at that time in short, a week of purely pleasant and peaceable pastimes would be possible, instead of the Commencement exercises.

Although Iowa will graduate more persons from the Field School than any smaller college of the state will hold Commencement exercises for, yet no other makes a very small show in comparison to the 441 seniors about to graduate, all of whom, and who will be graduated at the University exercises this year. Present indications are that the number of alumni returning will signal that of previous years, but the percentage of students remaining should exceed the number of any previous year.

GRADUATE DIRECTORS OVER

Miss Gratuelle Van Wagenee, graduate student in the department of botany, has received an invitation from Dr. L. E. Mark of Harvard University to serve as graduate director at Harvard. This will be Miss Van Wagenee's first year at Harvard, and she has accepted the offer.

University High School
Second track meet

The University high school held its second track meet in history on the Iowa field Tuesday. Ninety-three track men participated in all but three of the numbers entered in one or more of the events. The athletes representing the Harvard class took first in nine events over the seniors who had 23. The sophomores got 22 points and the freshmen junior team got 19. Goodfield, a junior, and John Thomas, a freshman, with 15 points, were tied for first honors. White and Newport with 4 and 14 points respectively were next in the individual honors list.

E. E. Schrader acted as starter, and Henry Brozek and Walter Fos­her were timers. Frank Grubb handled the field events. The most consistent of ten events, among them being track and field.

A Proclamation

COMMEMORATIVE OF IOWA TO THE PEOPLE OF IOWA:

In harmony with the Proclamation of the President of the United States, dated the eighteenth of May, 1917, your attention is directed to REGISTRATION DAY, JUNE 5, 1917

It is not the intention or desire of this authority and of the state, with the responsibility of conducting this war to make June 5th a holiday, but rather that the ordinary daily activities, as far as pos­sible, be suspended and the day set apart for the purposes of conducing this war to make June 6th a holiday.

There is much work just a head for every person within this state, work that will mean sacrifice and self-denial. Let this day be one of resting rather than of feasting, of one of construc­tion rather than of leisure. Let the full meaning of the day and all that it bodes for our people be made a dominant feature in all demonstrations.

Therefore, by virtue of the power in me vested as President of the State of Iowa, and the Federal Law and Proclamation of the President, I proclaim, and give notice to all persons subject to the registration that the time and place of such registration shall be between the hours of 7 a.m. and 9 p.m., on the 5th day of June, 1917, at the registration places in the various places where they have their permanent homes. All males who shall have attained their twenty-first birthday and who shall not have attained their thirty-first birthday or on or before the day herein named are required to register, excluding only officers and enlisted men of the Regular Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, and the National Guard and Nat­ional militia, while in the service of the United States, and officers in the Officers' Reserve Corps and enlisted men in the Enlisted Reserves Corps in active service.

In TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State.

Done at Des Moines, this twentieth day of May, 1917.

The city SPEAKS on FIRST SEASON BETTER. LATE THAN NEVER

"One, we sure are big on 'em! Look at 'em go! and one little 'Portia kid', he came from the roof garden, he wore bright with the pleasure that he was not only one but two successful hits, he potted confidently to the two flies flying over across the avenue from the 'roof garden' where the crowded girls at the second annual place met to do the 'racy' one red and white and blue. It isn't a regular ordi­nary kid, you see this kind of a man. We had a lot too and today and it's the most fun! But, you're a girl, and maybe you know! One, but look at 'em go!"

The ornithological laboratories have found a difficulty in securing spec­imens for study. Most of these local luc­tions, bees and other local fauna are impossible to secure during the rainy and backward seasons; in fact most of these numbers are at least once a month late in development than it forgerous seasons. The collection of specimens has been very limited and unsatisfactory in fact we have had nearly a single day suitable for the securing of good specimens declared Mr. M. L. Barber graduate student in entomology.

"Flowers and plants are needed by the students who have registered for the Engineering building, according to Prof. E. W. Winter, vice president under the old regime, and president of the University Science Club. They are needed to brighten things up for the summer students who will be coming to the university soon."

"In view of the fact that an election has been held re: student officers, this one needs explanation. Mr. Winter thinks the facts are that the last election was uninformative, having been hardly arranged because of the departure of many students for Port Salut, and consequently the names were posted for only three hours instead of three days as the enumeration stipulates."

"These officers chosen at the recent election have been informed as to the legitimacy of their positions and are fulfilling all claims in good faith, so that the election this afternoon will be regular in every respect.

Paul H. Anderson was recently turned from four years service in China as private secretary to the ambassador to Japan to the post of secretary to the American resident in Peking. According to the little reporter, there has been speculation about several students who have registered for the Engineering building.

"Some plant and flowers have been provided by the University and some others may be in the process of being brought in by the students who have been assigned to rooms in the dormitories.

"Those who may wish to give flowers to their friends may do so by paying the tuition of the students who have registered for the Engineering building. Additional donations of flowers will be greatly appreciated.
