REGULAR WORK IN ALL COLLEGES WILL BEGIN TODAY AT 8

Added Day of Registration Proves Appetite for Completing Enrollment of Students

FRESHMEN CLASSES LARGE

Registration Will Not be Continued at the Ames Home. Registration Sale Will Be Carried on at Old Capital Building

This morning at 8 o'clock, students in the college of liberal arts, engineering, and agriculture, and the graduate college, will be given an introduction to their first week's work, when these colleges are opened for regular class work. The added day of registration has proven sufficient to take care of the overplus from preceding days of registration.

Registration has been going smoothly, and members of the administration have found it very well planned and with the new system thoroughly working. In many cases, although definite figures are not yet available for all of the colleges, there are enough students registered so that a number of registrants, which has had to bring the total enrollment for above any previous one.

Enrollment Started

Work in the college of liberal arts started off promptly at 8 o'clock. Of those colleges which began enrollment early yesterday, the enrollment of the freshman classes is reported to be over their respective forecasts over any other year is soared in the college of pharmacy, and the college of applied science passes with a hope to increase that enrollment to the college of dentistry. The dentistry college class enrolls expectations.

Former Students Return

The college of liberal arts is close upon the second year college curriculum requirement went into effect, is the report of the college being filled by the college, the college of education, the freshman class already has increased its enrollment over the class of last year by an average of 25 per cent increase over the freshman class of last year, and the total enrollment for the college is very high.

Many former students who have gone out of the University for a year or two years in the service and for other reasons, have come back to resume their work.

Registration will not be held at the Ames county, all students who have not registered may do so at the registrar's office in the Old Capitol.

DEBATING TROUBLES TO BE OCTOBER 13

Trottes for the inter-collegiate debating team will be held in the national debate held here by the Ames at 11 a.m. and 9 p.m. The quarter for debates will be announced at a later date.

The opening debate will be a triangular match with Illinois and Minnesota. The topics to be debated in details are to be seen Max Conard, president of the forensics league at Mr. Rule, coach of the inter-collegiate team.

MEN AND WOMEN'S GLEE CLUBS TO MEET

All former members of the Wmn's Glee club will meet in Prof. W. E. Hays' studio, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Men's Glee club will meet Wednesday evening at 7:15 o'clock. Both clubs are under the direction of the director and every member of last year's organization is requested to attend. Registration will be taken for candidates of both organizations to be made later.

2000 "T" BACKERS IS THE GOAL SET

"T" Campaign Will Continue Throughout Coming Week in Effort to Reach Goal

"An 'T' in every home is not too many to support athletics at the University for the coming year. Already it is estimated that the goal of 2000 has been sold and once the new student body gets into the swing of things we may have another abundant, additional collector. So far we have 1850 individuals, and many of the old students, and many of these women have been.

"It is of $6 in every liberal arts when it is remembered that it includes all the cents for the entire year at a cost of only $3 a cent, a with, for reserved season tickets. The tickets for the big football games this fall, those being the Northwestern and Kansas, will be at $2 and $3 respectively.

The campaign will continue throughout the coming week in an attempt to secure the 2000 'T's' without which the administration has not yet set out. One freshman dragooner he had said so much about the Ankeny-town game, when "The Homing game alone is worth the price of ticket." The freshman esquire is sedanizing the campus for the more Ames Men.

SHULTZ, HAMIL, PARTNERS

Former Students Purchase Law Practice at Newton, Iowa.

W. Keith Schultz, graduated from the law school of the University of Connecticut in 1899, has purchased the law practice of R. J. Hamil, of Newton, Iowa. Possession was given to the firm September 19. Hamil received his liberal arts degree in 1897. He was unusually prominent in University activities and was identified with many organizations on the campus. Furthermore, he was affiliated with the Alpha Psi Epsilon, Phi Alpha Delta, and Sigma Delta Chi. Professional

AN ALL UNIVERSITY DAY

A general over the campus the student situation the university council, the social committee, and for election. As the approaches for the various elections of the school year, the present offers an opportunity to inaugurate a method of sys-tematized elections at once.

Certain it is that the University is to fine use of a well regulated and motion of its president maintains the significance that it should. Students in the past have been inefficient toward elections and candidates.

The effort of a spirit which is general over the campus the student candidates' to the process of the university's mission requires a day apart for all elections which should be known as an All-University Day. The student council should command and guide the elections. On that day all class elections will be held, the student council should command, the members of the election committee should be chosen, and the officers selected.

Such a change might be respon- sible for a complete transformation in election, relative to interest and class spirit. At least should abolish an unlimited number of elections which continue throughout the school year under the present un-targeted methods.

Let the student council take the matter under immediate consideration and make way for All-University Day at the coming elections.

BE PATIENT

There is a tendency among students just entering a University to become discouraged because of an over.
nder normal conditions. The red-tape of registering, the disappointments in schedules, strange surroundings, and the general unsettled situation tends to lower the morale of students matriculate work.

The present period of registration is no different to the new students and to many of the old ones who are familiar with the University's surroundings. Despite the splendid organization of the administration the sudden influx of students has caused a momentary congestion at the Registrar's office and has taxed the running of communications of the city. The situation is abnormal.

Because of the unprecedented enrollment the results is to be expected. The administration warns the student body to adjust itself to the exceptional situation and exhorts the student body to patience. Students who expect to mean their way are advised to be especially patient against discouragement.

It is the duty of every student to assume responsibility for his own condition and be patient. Courses will be provided and rooms will be found for those who need them. The administration is handling the situation in a way which should satisfy the approval of the student body. Patience and optimism should guide the student body during the present abnormal condition.

PARISH RETURNS

to Iowa Campus

Author of "Old Gold," University of Iowa, Rynne, to Be with

Historical Society

Dr. John C. Parish, formerly of Iowa City and the author of "Old Gold," the University of Iowa, returned to the University campus September 1 to assume his former position as associate editor of the State Historical Society of Iowa. He will also assist in directing historical research of the society, particularly along the lines of the history of Iowa's part in the recent war. He will also treat Iowa history and government.

Dr. Parish is a native Iowan, born in Des Moines. He holds the degrees of master of arts and doctor of philsofih of the University of Iowa during the last two years he has been in the military service, attain-

University of Iowa, to the State Historical Society with much emphasis in historical research, having already made many contributions to its publications. Classily connected with his work in the field of Iowa history are his researches in the history of the Mississippi valley. Before the war this work took him to France and Spain, where he searched the archives for material relative to the French and Spanish occupation of the Mississippi valley in general and the Iowa country in particular.

A THOUSAND STORES IN ONE

There is no one line of merchandise quite so comprehensive as the line found in the drug store. A drug store may easily be called a thousand stores in one, because it sells things that everybody, man and woman and child uses. It is open longer than any other store: it offers better goods and better service methods than most stores attempt. Remember us for anything that any drug store anywhere can offer you. Remember our qualities—they are always the best. Our assertion is as good as could be expected or desired, or if at any time there is something that you do want that we do not happen to have it's easy enough for us to get it for you. Prices must receive your consideration because the drug store is frequently able not only to sell you better goods, but to save you money.
