APPROXIMATELY 4000 STUDENTS ENROLLED AT IOWA THIS YEAR

In Comparison With Figures Given Out a Year Ago, There Is 39 Percent Increase

5000 TOTAL FOR YEAR OF 1919
College of Liberal Arts and the Graduate College have the Largest Enrollment with Total of 2000 —Mary Tuskie Dominates

Approximately 3750 students have been enrolled at the University this fall, according to a statement given out at the Registrar's office last night. In comparison with the figures given out a year ago tonight, the registration shows an increase of twenty eight percent. It is predicted that the registration will reach 20,000 by the end of the week and as many students are coming into the university each day.

The college of liberal arts and the graduate college combined have the largest enrollment, including 5600 students. The maximum figure for the same colleges last year was 1,786. In the college of engineering there was an increase of 31 percent in the largest preenrollment with the exception of the three months of the S. A. Y. C. last year.

The law college shows the biggest growth in registrations, from last year. This year they have an enrollment of approximately 128 students, while last year there were only 14.

The dental college has the largest Freshmen class in the history of the university with an enrollment of 171. Although it is smaller than the class of 1909, it is the largest since the college was established.

The nurses school has about the same enrollment as it did last year when there were 172 registered.

The total registration for the year will exceed 1900 students as the enrollment of 1500 students was reached at the summer school registration. Students continue to register each day. The final day of registration will be announced if necessary.

Engineers Will Study Movements of Currents to Gain Knowledge of Fluids

The new hydraulic laboratory at the west end of the University campus is almost completed and will soon be open for this year's classes in hydraulics. It is a unique feature of the equipment of the college of applied sciences, and a model of a sand a power house similar to the old power house at the north end of the dam.

Prof. H. B. Storer, and the department of mechanics and hydraulic engineers, have been supervising the work on the hydraulic system for Prof. Storer since when construction was begun. In 1915, Prof. Storer took the University to become head of the department of mechanical engineering at the University of Illinois. His college at Cornell, Oregon, according to Prof. Storer, during the last two years, many experiments on the flow of water in channels and out doors will be possible in this new basin. Many problems of increased efficiency in getting water out of water will be studied. "It is a unique and important basin because it is designed to have large quantities of water give head or short flow," he said.

"We have built that basin and wish to have about movement of water on the earth and liquid without the expense of investigation," says Professor Drucker.

The superstructure of the laboratory is in brick. When completed it will be worth not less than $16,000 or $17,000.

MISS B中新est NEW ASSISTANT IN LIBRARY

Mary H. Desch of LeRoy is the only new assistant librarian at the University Library this fall. Miss Desch will be stationed in the Chemistry Department of the University, next to the Chemistry, receiving her degree in 1915. She received her Library training at the University of Illinois and comes from the University of Denver. Miss Desch has done work in the library there.

Figure Compiled of Ritual Teams Show that Nebraska Will Have Advantage

The stage is all set for the first football game of the Hawkeye season this afternoon on Iowa Field, with Nebraska as the Iowa opponent. Coach Jones announced, following behind barred gates last night for the final dress before the crystal ball. He lined the second string up against the variety in order to better the starting eleven and permit the players to the men who will carry the ball to the Cornhuskers this afternoon. John Heldt, cloudy regular center did not appear in a full team. Treatment was given on the variety on the veteran's being forced to run out of line with the state's will be given to the Cornhuskers in this game, andurinsly, and decided that the fighting pivot man was the Cornhuskers.

Nebraska over Iowa

According to figures compiled on the two rival teams, Old Gold will be slightly outweighed by the Hawkeyes. Coach Schuller's man average 187.5 pounds with a total weight of 187.5 pounds. Nearly six pounds is the man more than the Hawkeyes who will average 172.9 pounds and total 172.9 pounds. However, in recent years, the Cornhuskers have gained the advantage on the lines where the total weight is near.

Nebraska forward half. The Hawkeyes line average 175.1 pounds; Nebraska forward half, 181.3 pounds. In the backfield where the will make up for their line weight. Their backs will average 173.1 pounds or more than 17 pounds in the man more than the Old Gold backfield. The Hawkeyes also have a decided advantage in the matter of experience for every visitor has at least one year and most of them two and three years. Many of the men have played considerable professional service football. so that they will not be behind for their line knowledge.

Lineup the Score

It is estimated that the Iowa eleven will show up this afternoon as announced yesterday: Captain Lehn-

Caleb. The Detroit brothers at halfback, Holdt at center, Higdon and Mockmore at guard, Sheep and Stover at guard, and Ebling and Chalman at fullback.

Coach Schuller and his assistants invited Iowa City yesterday morning at the football field for a light workout on Iowa Field in the afternoon. A large delegation of players and school authorities accompanied by the big Bedford band of the Cornhuskers.

WELCOME NEBRASKA

In welcoming you to our campus an old friendly rival—a rival which it is proud to meet on the field at sport. Since 1893 Iowa and Nebraska have competed for honors on the football field and in that period Nebraska has been the most fortunate in obtaining victory, having defeated Iowa in forty-one contests. While Iowa has won but five games, it has tied the Nebraskans three times.

Today's contest will be the twenty-first time that the two teams have met on the gridiron. The peculiar history of the series show that Iowa has never been both the first and last paper. Will the state continue to be true after today's game? Iowa fans predict that it will.

With the return of a number of stars from service Nebraskan comes to Iowa strong, fast, and confident. Its success was not a by-product of the Iowa team, for it was made by the return of veterans to the varsity. The season opens with unknowns.

The contest this afternoon will divulge the secret. May the better team win. Iowa welcomes the visitors in a spirit of true sportsmanship—sportsmanship which will give its all for Iowa on the field of fair play. In friendly rivalry, the University welcomes you, Nebraskan.

CONCERNING HONOR

Honor is a combination of student, honesty, scholarship, and democracy and characteristics which we must re-member throughout our college life.

The above statement was made by President Jessup in addressing the student body in the first University convocation of the year yesterday morning. Mr. Jessup, in the history of education have the standards of honesty and fairness been so high as they are today, said Presi-dent Jessup. As showing the great diversity present day standards and the standards of a century ago, he read a brief extract from some of the regulations of Harvard university of about a hundred years ago.

To the modern student these rules and regulations appear ridiculous, we are so far removed from such relations between administration and students that it is hard for us to believe that measures such as these were at one time necessary. We who are infatuated in love with this world as sons too good, can well rejoice that at least the student body has a vast improvement over the student body of long ago.

Here a distinguished professor has been asked if he is just entering the Daily. Professor may assume a natural attitude.

If Iowa can raise its strength beyond the "Nth power, it will be the end of a perfect day.

 Apparently some students have the wrong interpretation. Its Conserv-a-tion, warm welcome to our campus an old

WIP Nebraska.

The weather man is all odds with the students.

Perhaps Chicago would like to change the old B.S. rule.

And the Reds aren't holier-than- other.

It might be called—pledged and mingled.

So be this summer.

FIRST CONVOCATION

OF THE YEAR

DRAWS AN IMMENSE CROWD

New English Head, Dr. Hardin Craig, Entertains With His Scotch Stories

WYLLIE WELCOMES FACULTY

President Joseph Bonds on Economy

From Disciplinary Regulations of Harvard in Century Ago, Given List of Misbehaviors.

Welcome and inspiration was given to both old and new students at the first convocation, which was held in natural science building yesterday morning. Every seat in the auditorium was filled, and many were standing the entire hour.

In his address of welcome to the new members of the family, Dr. Robert Bradford Wyllie, head of the history department, emphasized the idea that autumn is transitional time, the beginning of a new year for students and instructors.

Punish Welcome More

Responding to this, Dr. Hardin Craig, the New English head, expressed in behalf of the new faculty, a willingness to serve and an appreciation of the welcome extended by his family colleagues. The University welcomes, he says, like that of his Scotch host who served across the century as an servant. “Give me a horse good feed of corn and three a barrel of straw for the stranger’s horse.” His address was interwoven with Scotch, Scotch stories, and quotations from Burns, which were delightful.

A reading of the old method of discipline in Harvard university formed an interesting part of Presi-dent Walter T. Jones’ address. Three stipulations were the fine for many misbehavers, and punishment of undergraduates as he was permitted.

Prof. Hays Stages Solo

“Respect of fellow students, honesty, scholarship, and democracy are characteristics which we must remember throughout our college life,” said President Jessup.

The faculty were present in ac-ac-emic ceremony, marching on to the stage led by Col. Morton C. Mummel, marshal, while the student body received standing. The Rev. Bryan

ter E. Ellis, pastor of the First Methodist church of Iowa City, preounced the invocation and read a part of the scripture.

First W. H. Slay of the school of music sang “God created man” and his latest work and minor deal from “The Creation by Haydn. He was accompanied by Dr. Philip E. Chap, new head of the music department. “Old Gold” joined in by all, and benediction pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Ellis. Concluded the assembly.

MEET THE CROWD

The Camicopun club will hold a meeting in the liberal arts drawing room Saturday at 7:15 o'clock. All members are required to present.

Miss Hoffman to Chicago

Miss Alice Hoffman is a guest at the Pi Beta Phi house this week on her way to Chicago where she will enter school. Miss Margret Davy also of the Delta Chi and a student here two years ago will be a roommate of Miss Hoffman this year.

Is Studying Art

Miss Lilias Prentiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Prentiss of Iowa City, is studying art at the National Academy of Design in New York City. Miss Prentiss was graduated from the University last June. She left for the east the first part of September.

Ten Room Openes

A large program marked the opening of the Mad Hatter's Tea room above the Book and Craft shop Thursday noon when a special luncheon was served to the guests. During the afternoon many young women took advantage of the Tea room which fills a long felt need in the University and Iowa City life.

The Mad Hatter's Tea room which is conducted by two University graduates, the Misses Ethel Yard and Lilian Prosser, is attractively furnished with round wicker tables and chairs. Hanging baskets of green plants add to the cheerfulness of the rooms.

Private parties may arrange for use of the tea room. Daily luncheons will be served at noon and the afternoon hours come on Sundays when the Mad Hatter's will be open from 3 to 8.

NOTICE

The student body will find that only prompt delivery of their mail can be given with their cooperation. This can be done if every student and member of the faculty will notify their correspondents and publishers of their correct street address. Today we wish to announce that directory service, at this time with such a large number of students arriving, much of it is being delayed by directory service. All addresses have been left at the Iowa City, Iowa Office directory service in green boxes with the return there we have an address mail is closed in the GENERAL DELIVERY, whereas it has until expiration of their limit and other mail is written, or RHA LETTERS, often in many cases similar names appear in both directories. Those who are uncertain as to their correct street address, if not addressed the letter Marked NAME REPORTED IN DIRECTORY, AND RETURNED. The Iowa City, Post Office is desirous of giving the best service possible to all patrons and we can do it only if correct street addresses are given.

SPECIAL

CATHOLIC STUDENTS
The Rt. Rev. Bishop of the Diocese has provided a special mass for Catholic students every Sunday morning at nine o'clock in St. Patrick's church. Few hold­ers enjoy no special privileges at this mass and the stu­dents on entering may take any unoccupied seat. The instructions and sermons at this mass are arranged with the special view of meeting the needs of the students. Be­ginning next Sunday we shall have singing by our splendid student choir. All students who can arrange to do so should attend this mass in preference to other masses.
