Iowa City Industries are now receiving normal conditions after the strike of employees of the Iowa City Light and Power Company working to end the contract at the power house of Cornellville Tuesday, when the strike was called. After the strike Tuesday afternoon, the current was not strong enough to run machinery and The Daily Iowan was unable to print the regular Wednesday morning papers. The University has a separate electric plant, but the Chautauqua Printing Company, where the Daily Iowan is made up and printed, is under city power.

Return to Arbitration
Demanding arbitration now and taking the strikers' places and the plants are under the same hands they were under for a long time. The same conditions as the Iowa City strike of 1915 was referred to the War Department by Abraham Lincoln, after the strike of 1915 which was referred to the War Department by Abraham Lincoln, after the strike of 1915.

A worthy cause: Another worthy campaign has been launched on the campus. This time it is a plot for money for the adoption and education of Belgian orphans. The small sum of 25 cents makes you a member of the American school branch of the Belgian Orphan fund. The University of Iowa has always been with the foremost in Red Cross, Liberty Loan, and other patriotic activities. Let us not suffer defeat now.

Special edition: No issue was issued for Wednesday morning on account of the lights and gas strike. Today's issue is a special edition to take the place of Wednesday's paper.
