DENTAL COLLEGE ADMIRER

One of Best Equipped in Country

Says Dr. Fred of Michigan and R. J. Beale

"The dental college at the University of Iowa has the finest building and equipment of any dental college in the country."

This was the opinion expressed yesterday by Lewis R. Ford, Dean of the college of dentistry of the University of Southern California. Los Angeles.

Dean Ford has been making a tour of the country, inspecting some of the best known dental colleges in preparation for the building of a new dental building at the University of Southern California. He has visited Harvard and Chicago, among others.

"When I saw the equipment at Harvard, I was accustomed to the best in the United States. But I must say that the equipment here is the best. It's the best in all the United States. And in the dental laboratory, who'll be my mind," he said yesterday to Dr. W. K. McGee, assistant superintendent of the University. "I believe that Iowa has the best building for the dental college in the United States."

The “Constitution” of Today—Electrically Propelled

The U. S. S. “New Mexico,” the first battleship of any nation to be electrically propelled, is one of the most important achievements of the scientific age. She not only develops the maximum power and, with electrical control, has greater flexibility of maneuver, which is a distinct naval advantage, but also gives greater economy. At 10 knots, her normal cruising speed, she will soon on less fuel than the best turbine-driven ship that preceded her.

The electric generating plant, totaling 38,000 horsepower, and the propulsion equipment of the great super-dreadnought were built by the General Electric Company. Their operation has demonstrated the superiority of electric propulsion over old-time methods and a wider application of this principle in the merchant marine is fast making progress.

Six auxiliary General Electric Turbine-Generators of 400 horsepower each, supply power for nearly 500 motors, driving pumps, fans, shop machinery, and kitchen and laundry appliances, etc.

Utilizing electricity to propel ships at sea marks the advancement of another phase of the electrical industry in which the General Electric Company is the pioneer. Of equal importance has been its part in perfecting electric transportation on land, transforming the potential energy of waterfalls for use in electric motors, developing the possibilities of electric lighting and many other similar achievements.

As a result, so far as the applications of electricity to the needs of mankind that scarcely a home or individual today need be without the benefit of General Electric products and service.
