Hugh Rossmann, Martin Fleischner, and H. M. Carlson in Charge of Campaign Among Professional Colleges Take Active Part

In the professional colleges, and in the various classes of liberal arts, the campaign among students for funds for the Memorial building is being carried on with an energy which assures its successful conclusion during the near future.

Hugh Rossmann, president of the law students' association, has handed out cards to all the students in the college, and a report will be turned in on Monday.

Martin Fleischner, president of the association of the students of applied science and engineering, has also turned out cards among his constituents.

Reports in Thursday's "Leader" indicate that active interest is being shown in the campaign by all the classes.

LEGION MAY BECOME ACTIVE HERE AGAIN

Reorganization of S. U. I. Members Is Being Considered, Says Edgar J. Goodrich

A club composed of members of the American Legion in the city, if the movement to that effect which is now afoot, can be carried through, is expected to be in existence here before the close of the year.

The movement is the result of talks between a number of members of the local legion and Edgar J. Goodrich, a member of the national board of the American Legion.

The local legion is under the command of Col. H. A. Busch, of the Nebraska district and is reported to have considerable interest in the project.

It is understood that the local legion will take charge of the movement if it is reorganized.
