Yesterday was Independence Day, a most important day, I believe, to all Americans. In 1776, the United States of America were proclaimed free from the oppressive rule of the British. It was a day of patriotism and pride, of freedom and the right to govern ourselves. Today, we celebrate our independence, remembering the sacrifices made by our forefathers to establish this great nation.

The Fourth of July is a day of celebration, a day of family gatherings and outdoor activities. It is a time to enjoy the company of friends and loved ones, to celebrate our freedom and the values that we hold dear.

Today, as we mark Independence Day, let us remember the significance of our nation's birth and the principles upon which it was founded. May we continue to uphold these ideals and work towards a brighter future for all.

As we enjoy our day, let us also remember the importance of democracy and the rights that each of us holds. Let us strive to make our country stronger and more prosperous, for the benefit of generations to come.

YOUNG MEN are keen for style; and we know it so well that we prepare for the demand and with greatest care.

There are no clothes more stylish, more dignified, of better taste than these new ones from these makers.

One, two and three button single-breasted suits; coats a little longer; square notched lapels; lapels a little longer; openings lower.

Then there are the smart double-breasted; you ought to see them all.

It isn’t less important to remember that these clothes are all-wool and perfectly tailored. Young men realize as well as any of us the economy of best quality
