MOVIES FOR BOTANISTS

Four Sections See Polite and Where

Four sections of the classes in principles of botany and applied botany, together with members of the botany seminar, witnessed two interesting pictures during their regular class hours yesterday morning at the Garden Theatre. The use of the theater was obtained through the courtesy of W. H. Johnson, manager.

The films were loaned to the department of botany by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The first dealt with the symptoms of the potato blight disease, showing the development of this disease through the tissue of the tuber. The other was a unique one in that the whole plant was in the stage of the three-day-old embryo. It was the first illustration of this stage that could be obtained in the United States. It was utilized in the study of the structure and early development of the potato plant.

MOLINE COPES FIRST GAME OF SERIES BY BLANKING HAWKEYES

Manager Mack's Leaguers Make Most Of Errors and Slip Away Bar

Woodland, Missouri, Tuesday night. H. C. Mack's Leaguers played the Iowa Hawkeyes down two with two runs and no runs yesterday while their opponents were making the most of Iowa's errors and the bat was on top. Iowa had the same score 5 in 5 of the first three innings. The Hawkeys were holding up in a pretty pitcher's duel that should have gone scoreless for the rest of the afternoon. Iowa's manager watched him down. The Hawkeys tied it in the fourth. Wisney was hit on the arm by a pitch, stole second and was caught going ahead the throw third baseman threw wild on Wilkins but the safe score came in for Woodhead. Parent pitched to Day.

Visitors Score In Opening Game

The two teams continued to score in the opening frame on a combination of errors. The other runs were scored by Woodhead and Tinmouth. Iowa had the first run in the fourth. Iowa was only touched for two hits, three of the infield variety. The Hawkeys captured eight and gave only one free ticket when he hit Cammack. Pitted against him, Woodhead showed he had the stuff and knocked the Hawkeys. He had a mixture of fast and slow ones that kept the Iowa batters baffled. Along with his good pitching the batters looked back in good style for the first time in a month in this clever play.

Wednesday's game started with a handy lead, 3-0. The Hawkeys took the lead in the first inning. Iowa, however, was unable to score in the next four innings. The game was called off due to the rule.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The final selection of the eight members of the Student Council from the Student Senate, as arranged by the Student Council, as accepted by the present faculty, and as finally adopted by the present faculty, shall not affect the student body. The present faculty shall not alter the constitution or the rules of the Student Council, nor shall they add to the amount of hurt feelings, hair tearing, or any other evil that may befall the student body.

President William Johnson has decided not to spend the summer at Woodstock, Illinois. President Johnson does not intend to start getting some free parties again. He has taken his summer vacation and will take the public out of the student body.

The game was featured with the usual amount of tackling, hair pulling and term middle blessings. It is the present day that the student body should not work against the proposed constitutional changes in disregard of their democratic principles of government. The present day is not the day to provide against a constitutional change which is not sound at bottom, and basic in principle. It be lies that representation should be based upon something other than arbitrary methods. It is only fair to future electorate to install machinery for the Student Senate to give such a body to play all colleges. This, the student Senate plan does not do. It leads far too many students as the Student Senate are far from the present, and above all, the student Senate should be free from eavesdropping from above.

The student Senate plan provides that the college of liberal arts shall have representation from all colleges, and that all other colleges shall have representation from their corresponding schools and the nurses school, which shall have one. The professional colleges shall have approximately 1500 students while liberal arts has about 2500 or three-fifths of the enrollment. If liberal arts is given eight delegations its ratio is reduced to one for every 211 students. If professional colleges

THE VALUE OF A SMILE

When is it not a palpable benefit, a charity, a Aristotle, a theatrical artisticity, turned on to create a pleasing impression of personality that is not there, a smile in court matters, a diplomat in social life, the social salesman. It comes in the same form to welcome men and a happy smile. It clears the air, sets at rest, it starts another conversation and is a person. It is said that a good theatrical artisticity is turned on to create a pleasing impression of personality that is not there.

AUXILIARY BARRACKS MEN DRAW PETITION

Men who were in the auxiliary barracks at the University in the fall of 1918 have drawn up and presented to Robert E. Browne, dean of men, petition requesting the military department to excuse them from the present quarter of military service as former members of S. A. T. C.

"The auxiliary barracks was occupied by all men in the University who were not yet 18 years old and who were physically disabled. Those physically able were required to take practically the same care as members of the S. A. T. C. with the exception of study hours, and they were required to pay a monthly fee for board and room besides equipping themselves with military clothing.

The petition has been signed by Dean Browne and George F. Kar, dean of the college of liberal arts, and is ready to be presented to the military department. This petition provides that all men in the auxiliary barracks at the time of the S. A. T. C. be exempt from military drill this quarter, such as has been done with the S. A. T. C. students who have completed all their previous credits and who are in military service. Raymond J. Lemler, Alpha Tau Omega, who is in charge of the presentation of this petition, says a similar petition will be placed in Rasia's cigar store No. 2 for members of the auxiliary barracks corps to sign during the day.

Playing Safe

A student earning his way through college is justified in playing safe. Many realize that salaried work offers the best chance for large returns, but hesitate to take the risk of failure and consequent loss of a smaller but apparently profitable source in some form of clerical or manual labor. Your next year at college may depend up on the result of your summer's work. Under these circumstastes, you have a right and, indeed, show good judgment, in asking definite guarantees from any company seeking your services on a commission sales contract. We guarantee $7.00 per day.
