The thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Iowa Academy of Science opened in the lecture room of the physics building, the first stunts of the year, with scientists representing colleges and State Teachers College in the state. The meeting was called to order by T. C. Stephens of Moline, president of the academy. Reports of officers and committees followed.

The three outstanding features of the afternoon's program were the presentation of the annual prizes for the outstanding work on the compensation of college teachers, the presentation of the Carle murel- Kyle prize to the graduate in the State Historical Department at Des Moines, and the annual banquet of the University of Iowa Barnacles.

REGIMENT TO START INTENSIVE DRILL

All Instruction Periods Will Close May 25, After Inspection by War Department

Early morning drill from 6 to 7 o'clock has been scheduled for five days a week, all but Sunday, beginning Monday, May 10, and continuing until May 25, instead of three mornings a week as has been the practice the past two years. This change has been made because of the demands of military instruction each morning drill continues to leave no time for school work to intersperse with examinations as is usually the case. It will also put the regiment in better condition, said Major Monroe C. Hurst, for the war department inspection board which will be here May 24 and 25. In the morning the university with other military organizations in colleges of the state.

Immediately after this inspection and the close of drill, uniforms and equipment will be turned in for inspection. This step makes it necessary to dispense with the military review which was entertained on May 11 as Governor's Day.

OVERALL CRAZE FAILS TO MAKE SENSATION

Devin Clothing Has Only Might Increase in Popularity Among Students

While there are some indications that the overall and bikini past movements are expanding among the students, as evidenced by a slight increase in the number of those who have adopted the sailor billy bobs, the trend to population the part of this fadling has in no way reached the height attained in other companies.

At Columbia university overalls and bikini trousers have been made the only official dress for the football game, while the character of Kansas university started the movement by donning the blue denim billy bobs. Finally any school that has been untouched by the movement, although not all have completely adopted the idea.

This has been suggested as an explanation for the failure of the idea. In this superstitious era, the theory that any movement that many of the students were unwilling to give up wearing regular clothes during the school year. Some of these in sympathy with the idea claimed to be unable to adapt the movement because of lack of the 50 necessary to buy a suit. Nevertheless, those who have adopted the overalls and bikinis have found good reason for the idea. In the long run, not all of the students should stop in while the stores still have a supply.

At least one prominent clothing store has taken advantage of the movement by prominently displaying bikini trousers in its main windows. The proprietor stated that a reduction in price has been made to encourage the rumor that an increase in prices would be the result of an excessive wearing of overalls.

TO OREGON FROM TEXAS TO JAVA AND BATTLED TO IOWA SUMMER FOLK COME

Since 1916, the University summer session, is far as figures are known, has included at least one or more colleges or universities in the United States, having an increase of 91 per cent. Oklahoma is second with 81 per cent, and Harvard, third with 65 per cent.

Last summer 1200 session summer students registered or were enrolled in schools more than once. Of these, more than half are in the University and summer session, comprising 1895-1896. Seven hundred and sixty-five of these students attended the summer session of the summer class, and 455 were in the school following fall.

Representatives of twenty-one other states besides Iowa, ranging from Oregon to Texas, and from Missouri to Oregon, were enrolled. Chins, Kews, Porto Rico, and the Philippines also had representatives in the summer session.

This summer more than 1400 students will attend summer session.

Professor C. M. Walker, director of the summer session, or as many as attended both the University and summer school only fifteen years ago. This year over 110 instructors will have charge of the 360 courses in the 36 departments. In some of the departments, the largest half of any college or university in the United States.
