NEXT BAND CONCERT
NOT VESPER PROGRAM

Only Best of Selections Will Be Given Place on May 2

Says O. E. Van Deren

The next concert to be given by the University band, on Sunday, May 2, in natural science auditorium, will not in any way be a reaper program. Neither will the principal numbers on the program consist of jazz or popular airs, as some people have the impression, according to Dr. O. E. Van Deren, director of the University band.

The program will be selected from the best those in band music. We will present an hour of music which we feel sure will not offend the most sensitive lover of band music." Director Van Deren continued. "The Iowa band probably plays of the so-called "jazz" music than any college band in the west."

Talling as their topic "Twentieth-Five Years Hiss," they presented a living album of the various members of the class. "Thanks" and "Ears," impersonated by Margaret Brown and Ralph E. Overshander, read from the great book.
