No profits accrue from first iOWA

But Festival Will Be Given Again Next Year, Says Rep. General Committee

Although the iowa festival, which was in aid of the army and women's gymnasium on Saturday evening, was not a financial success it will be continued next year, according to a statement given out by the committee in charge of the festival. Until a sum unguide is made, the committee will not have a hard time of it. That is the purpose of these funds.

="While we had expected to receive a small profit from the festival, we are not discouraged over the showing we made," said Pauline Pickle, chairman of the general committee. "We're sure that practically every one who attended had the opinion that the iowa was a success from the viewpoint of profit and the same."

Hesperus-Zelagalia Society

Hesperus-Zelagalia Society had its first meeting of the year, which was held at the Zelagalia clubhouse. Dr. Y. Koizumi, president, of the society, and Prof. J. K. WILL SHOW GIRL SCOUT MOVIE SATURDAY MORNING

The "Golden Eagle," the latest girl scout film, will be shown at the Gordon theater Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, under the auspices of the playground club of the women's department, physical education.

The film will show the stages of development of the girl scout from the tenderfoot to the first class scout. The "Golden Eagle" is the highest honor awarded to the scout. "If the arrangements can be made," said Milton Martin, instructor in the playground club, which is in charge of the event, "several active troops of the girl scout club will be in attendance to give the ceremonies in addition to the picture show.

The purpose of the picture is to create interest in the girl scout movement and give an idea of the real ideas of the national organization in a way it cannot be gotten except through the screen.

PRETTY ARTISTS SEARCH FOR MAN OF QUIET WAYS

As even dozen of the pretty maidens of the University are in search of a man. And they are not particular about the kind of a man either. If he is tall, he will do; if he is short, he will do just as well. If he has light hair, he will pass the requirements; or he will be accepted if his features are black.

But this sought-after man must be patient; he must not be nervous. He must be quiet, almost passive. In his duties he will be expected to do for fifty minutes at a time with this bevy of beautiful girls. And he must not smile; rather he may be somber on the weather or make marks about his critics and admirers.

For ten minutes out of every hour he will be allowed to talk with the dones, perhaps to say not a word this time with one of the dones. Then and only then may he make suggestions for the next fifty minutes.

The donor promises to provide an ideal atmosphere for the man of his quest. They will surround him with a setting of beautiful colors, crimson and yellow and lavender; greens and purple and gold. And his portrait will be painted in natural colors to hang in the room where in he must pose. He will have the fun of his work, the company of the artists and the memory of the atmosphere as a partial reward for his posing. In addition there will be paid to him in coins of the realm—a good sum for each hour of work.

The class in portrait painting in the department of graphic and plastic arts wants a model. Now, fellows, don't crowd.

SOCIETIES CLASH IN DEBATE

Fred Stone will debate Irving negative in Zet hall; Irving affirmative will debate in Irving hall and Philomathian affirmative will clash with negatives in Phi hall, and according to the present schedule is changed from 8 to 11: 15 o'clock.

There will be but one judge for each debate. Prof. Herbert P. Goodrich and Prof. Rollin M. Perkins of the college of law are two of the judges. The third has not yet been announced.

GRADUATE COLLEGE ISSUES NEW BULLETIN

Phi Delta Kappa has just issued a new bulletin. No. 21, new series, as a record of the work performed and a brief summary of the work accomplished by the students in the freshman college. Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy have contributed articles on their subjects of interest in education. Contributors are Groves, H. Alderman, Harold J. Camp, Carl O. F. Franson, Charles E. Gurney, Harriett C. Hanes, James L. McCurry and Gerald A. Youman. In addition it contains recent summaries of studies, and a bibliography of studies from 1900 to 1915 compiled by Frank D. Hecker.

BRake Dean GIVES ADDRESS

"Legitimacy in Religion" was the subject of an address given by Dean F. O. Norton of Drake university at the Humanist society at the Humanist society, Des Moines at the Humanist society.

NEW BULLETIN ISSUES

The new bulletin of the American Humanist society will be held this evening. Ms. Mary W. Sargent, Dr. E. Germane, Charles H. Benge and Rollin M. Perkins will debate the proposition, "Resolved: Philematian affirmative will debate in Phi hall, and Philomathian affirmative will clash with negatives in Phi hall, and the screamingly new furniture, the screamingly new rugs, and the latest pictures of Parrish, Taylor and Smith. Then in the midst of all this you catch sight of a Coret or some old master. Oh! Now you know you are in a home.

With leading merchants of Iowa City donating window space in the third student campaign for subscriptions to the Iowa Memorial Union, which opens tomorrow morning, considerable interest is being manifested. Several merchants have already granted space in their display windows in the campaign.

One of the leading exhibitors is Yeater's store on Washington street. It is the city model of the Memorial Union which was done by Allen Livingston, auditor of Alumni Stewart and Kenneth Lamberti, students in the department of plastic and graphic arts. Bulletins on the progress of the campaign will be displayed each day at Whetstone’s drug store.

Other merchants who have donated window space are townsman’s Court, Broome’s, Havana and Ely, and Smith and Clean. “We would like to have every merchant in Iowa City donate space in their windows towards the campaign,” Miss Ruth Rogers, foot secretary, said yesterday.

BAND AND SPRING COMPETE
University Musical Organization Holds Its Own on Sunday

Competing with perfect spring weather Sunday afternoon, the University band was able to fill the natural science auditorium fail to overflow with their regular program of music. And it was generally conceded that the music had the weather complemented in every way.

Beginning with a poem inspiring March, “The Stars and Stripes Forever,” the upper paper numbers held the constant attention of the audience until the last selections of “The Star Spangled Banner” announced the close of the entertainment.

The most colorful numbers on the program were “The Mortish Spies,” by Chopin “Valse in the Black Forrest,” by Verdi, and the symphony in F minor by Tchaikowsky.
