"The Listening Post"

For a long time a good many of us including the athletic board, have been talking about going in an athletic way, but just now it seems that the plan is to go slowly and let things develop.

The road to happiness does not always lead to the altar.

Had President Wilson read "The Eu-

New Palimpsest Tells

OLD MILITARY ROAD

The February number of the Palimpsest, the magazine published monthly by the State Historical Society of Iowa devoted to the dissemination of Iowa history, contains three articles on the old Military Road which extends from Iowa City to Davenport.

The articles are written by John C. Purich, editor of the magazine, Marcus L. Hansen, M. A. T., who is now attending Harvard, and John E. Briggs, of the department of political science. Mr. Hansen and Professor Briggs liked all the way from Davenport to Iowa City on the road last summer, and their articles, "Phaetons on the Old Road" and "Along the Military Road," tell of their experiences on their hike.

An introductory article, "The Old Military Road," by the editor, tells something of the history of this road which was laid out over eighty years ago to connect the mining town on the river with the new territorial capital.

HIGH SCHOOL MEET, MAY 7

Iowa Track Men Most Northwestern Same Day—Benton Invincible

May 7 has been set for the date of this year's high school invitational track meet. Iowa meets Northwestern in a dual meet here the same day, so that the events will be run together. Preliminary for events will be held at Iowa field on the morning of May 7. Last year thirty-six high schools entered, and every effort will be made to increase this number. Medals and cups will be given for places in all events.

Another discouraging way to the track team's last defeat. In spite of noticeable deficiencies, Cecil H. Brown of Mason City, a promising upstart from last year's freshman track squad, has been declared fit for the opening of this spring.
