WASHINGTON'S ADVICE TO A NEPHEW

(From a letter to George W. Washington, March 23, 1789)

"If you have no arrival at that age, which is the fitting time for the quitting of offices of a boy, and assure the posterity of the useful properties of one. At this season your conduct will attract the notice of those who are about you; and, if you please, mark the leading traits of your character through life."

WASHINGTON AND US
One of the world's largest and best known nations stands the grind of its machinery today to honor the birthday of George Washington—born, doubted, a loving, quaintly ironic figure, the symbol of a cause, a common common name, and a position in the world a fact in history. Persuing for a moment the predominance of reason, and a position in the world of about this individual, another human like us, and a certain attempt to conquer our history. The above is the spirit of his personal life.

Washington did one possible thing; he ordered his life squarely.

Another thing about Washington...

Not A Secret

We aren't trying to keep it a secret why our new Ice Cream is so delicious.

It's the excellent flavors, the pure cream and our new process of manufacture that gives it such a good taste. Judge for yourself.

CHEMISTS PLAN APRIL MEETING

Society Met Saturday At Coe College — 12 University Professors Attend

The next meeting of the Iowa section of the American Chemical society will be held this week at Simpson college in Iowa in connection with the Iowa academy of this section of the society and last Saturday in Cedar Rapids. About twelve people from the department of chemistry of the University, including Prof. Edwin Burt, head of the department, attended. Dr. Perry A. Besd is the chairman of the section and Dr. C. Charles Baden, secretary. The meeting was spent in visiting the Quaker Oats company and the Cedar Rapids water works.

In the afternoon a scientific program was given in the chemistry laboratory of Coe college. The following papers were read: "Electromotive Forces and Free Energy of Solution of Potassium Bromide" by Mr. H. B. Hall of the University, "Nature of Sodium Chloride in Rain and Snow" by Dr. Nathaniel Knight of Cornell college, "The Absorption of Tyros by Pleurocrys Cylis" by Prof. James F. Finnes of this University, "Utilization of Potassium for the Use of Intimate Forces and Free Energy of Dilution of Plaster" by George P. Fay, and the other by President Walter A. Jessup.

Professor Shimek stressed the true value of friendships, and warned the men against trusting in the friendship of a crowd, citing as an example the cheering of a football crowd, whose friendship fluctuates with the success according to the ends of the players. According to Professor Shimek, a man's best friends are his wife and his mother.

The next meeting of the Iowa section of the society will be held the last week in April at Cedar Rapids. About two remaining lectures are: the seventh lecture on the Quadrangle lyceum by Mr. James N. Mortensen, the next by President Walter A. Jessup, and the other by Dean George F. Kay. Lectures are given, one by Dean George P. Fay, and the other by President Walter A. Jessup.

SHIMEK LECTURED SUNDAY, TO MEN AT QUADRANGLE

Prof. Bohumil Shimek, of the department of botany, lectured to the Quadrangle men Sunday as "The Value of Intimate Friendship." This was the seventh lecture on the Quadrangle lyceum series. Two more will be given, one by Dean George P. Fay, and the other by President Walter A. Jessup.

HUNDREDS OF THE NEW 1921
Hart Schaffner & Marx Suits Ready for Your Inspection

Never placed an order for spring clothes as late as this year. Waited till prices hit the bottom. Never in the past have goods been so early in coming. Lucky—for such weather has never been known in the month of February.

Here we are—ready with the most complete stock of new goods, and weather conditions just right to sell them. All of the latest style ideas are here—coats are more loosely draped; shoulders are more square; coat openings are lower. The lines are simple but distinctive. As well as domestic fabrics—plenty from Scotland, Ireland and England.

It's more important to us to give satisfaction than to get money; but one leads to the other.

Our prices are lower than you will find anywhere for good clothes. You ought really to see them now.
