IOWA DEFEATED BY ROCK ISLAND

First Baseball Contest of Season Lost to 6 to 3 in Slave Game

Manager George McQuillan's Rock Island team carried away the Iowa city area on a 6 to 3 game on Iowa field yesterday afternoon, after the completion of a two-game series.

The Indians failed to show any league class but as the Hawkeyes were in at time very ineptly, the Indians were not forced to surrender, for they might have lost. For hours the contest was a fairly close game with the Hawkeyes holding the领先s at all times, but the last few frames saw McQuillan's team hit in four runs, enough to win the game.

George Pfeifer's starting the game for the Hawkeyes and pitched a fine good game up to the end of the third. When he was taken out for Anderson Griswold's first hit and struck out a pair of hitters. Anderson works at these three rounds but the Longhorns took a liking to his offerings and nailed him considerable, getting two runs of the delivery. He was out to try out most of the time and good fielding was all that saved him.

Becker took up the second game after Anderson finished and led his best of the teams who worked, although the Islanders connected for a total of four hits. Iowa scored in the fifth when Anderson moved on his own double and a crack by Michaelson. Michaelson scored as he reached second a sacrifice, missed in a couple of times and, with no hits, was allowed to advance. Feick also scored in this inning as he reached second through an error. Iowa had a good chance certainly a chance, but Iowa had been held in fourth place.

Iowa could not score in the ninth, for the Hawks might have a chance of it, but they finally lost when Quillan when they batted in two runs.
