EXCUSE JUNIORS FOR BREAKFAST
Women May Miss 8, 9, And 10 O’clock Classes Tomorrow
Excuses for non-attendance at eight, nine, and ten o’clock classes tomorrow morning will be granted to all Junior women in order that they may attend the breakfast to be given by Dean Adelberte, Berges at 8:30 o’clock Thursday morning in the commercial club rooms. “Twenty members for next year’s Staff and Circle will be selected by the three best women who will present at the breakfast” said Dean Berges.

The Breakfast has been given every year since 1912 for the purpose of bringing the junior women together in order to nominate from among their number twenty new members for Staff and Circle, but has always been too close to the beginning of the spring term and as that has always been the time to choose the spirits of the spirit of the University. Vote for Twelve.

At the close of the breakfast, each woman will be given a list of all senior women, and will vote down the twelve whom she thinks best fitted for the honor of membership in Staff and Circle. All women must have an average of C for their first three years in the University. The twenty women who receive the highest number of votes will be voted upon by the junior women on Thursday, May 18, for the purpose of being chosen for the Staff and Circle. The Election will take place in the hall of liberal arts from 8 to 10 and from 1 to 4.

Women voted May 18. Members elected to Staff and Circle will be announced Thursday, May 18. At seven that evening the women of the junior and senior classes will meet in the rooms of the old Capital and march to the president’s point. The procession will be led by both the old and new members of the society. Old members will form a circle around the downtown bench, and Dean Berges will stand in the center to welcome the new members into the circle. Each old member will give her place to the new one by passing a rose on to the new member and leading her into the circle.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE TO CARRY ON SENIOR DAY INDEPENDENTLY
Senior students in the college of commerce are also to put in a start on Senior Day and will have a separate place in the parade. The college of commerce seniors have not been represented in the senior association, but yesterday petitioned the association to be recognized as a college separate from the college of liberal arts.

The petition, signed by a group of college women, pointed out that the petition of the college of commerce is in a storm and is held in a separate place in the parade had been granted.

The question of admittance to the senior association of the seniors of the college of commerce will be discussed at a luncheon of the senior president and the petitioners, and the petitioners have been granted.

FREDERICKS IS RICH IN PRAISE

Editor of Midland Press
Michigan and Indiana

John Towner Frederick, former bachelor in the department of English at this University and now editor of "The Midland," visits the University of Michigan.

Ann Arbor, Michigan—"Midland gazette certainly puts out the best student paper that I've seen," android Mr. Frederick, Editor of the Midland, he says, adding that also he goes around the busy Daily office.

All here was a gentleman in,
courtly I could not but agree with courtly I could not but agree with him. "The Sunday Magazine notices especially good," he continued. "It is a unique feature among college dapers. A first idea.

It becomes perfectly obvious that Mr. Frederick was a person of perception.

He commended appropriately on the literary activity evidenced at the University of Michigan, attributing it partly to the presence of Mr. Frost, his largely to the influence of a general wave of interest in writing throughout all over the country.

As Mr. Frederick intimates a publicacation in which the work of undergraduate and those recently graduated appears, Mr. Frederick is interested in the large enrollment in the English department here, and said that he often wondered why this was. He suggested that it might be due to the stimulating influence of one member of the English faculty there, Mrs. Marie Finley Parsons, a graduate of the University of Michigan who is a woman of rare charm and a teacher of outlets. Mr. Frederick intimated that the rhetoric department here, and was interested in the large enrollment in the Short-Story course. He is hearty in favor of limiting the total number of students in all rhetoric courses, and considers it very important that this be so seldom possible.

Mr. Frederick is himself a member of the English Faculty of the University of Iowa, to be spoken with feeling. He conducted a critical reading of one of the Modern Poets, which was closely allied to another course in the same department, writing of verse.

He was greatly surprised to learn that there are no creative prose positions given at Michigan, and won-drew how soon that need would be supplied.

He was told with a good of a new particulor feature at the University of Iowa, whereby announcements in the English department is given on the basis of creative writing as well as because academic research.

The Midland will be glad to share the new move, so fair and reasonable that one can not help but be successful in attracting gifted young writers to the faculty ranks to replace some of the poetic daffodils of the golden age.

Mr. Frederick said that he found his work with the university students exceedingly interesting. It was clear, however, that his chief delight is in the Midland magazine.

The Midland publicizes manuscripts from all parts of the country, but the preference is for Middle Western material and Middle Western maternal. Much of the work published is verse, usually prose fiction, because verse appears in each issue of one, and one number every year is published, setting apart the other Middle West. Mr. Frederick states that this year he intended to give the poetry number over to the work of the verse and fiction. The poet who contributed, time giving out, could write in any style he

CONNELLEY TALKS ON PAST OF HURONS AT MEETING YESTERDAY

William E. Connolley of the Kansas State Historical Society and president of the Missouri Valley Historical Association delivered an address on "Historical Conceptions of the Modern Indians," at the sub-committee section of the Missouri Valley Historical Association meeting held at the Jefferson hotel last evening.

He told of the history of the Hurons from the time when the Hurons were connected with their settlements along Lake Huron and Lake Michigan. The Hurons were in contact with the French during the French and Indian War and the Revolution. The Huron tribe was destroyed in the French and Indian War and the Revolution. Woods and Wilson fund gets start at Nebraska.

Woods and Wilson, the great state of Nebraska, have been the subject of much discussion in recent years. The state is well known for its agricultural production, including corn and soybeans, as well as its rich history and culture. The Woods and Wilson fund, established in 1916, has been used to support various educational and cultural initiatives across the state.

The fund is managed by the State University of Nebraska, and its purpose is to support educational programs and academic activities at the university. The fund is used to support scholarships, fellowships, and grants, as well as to support research and collaborative projects.

The Woods and Wilson fund is an example of how the state of Nebraska has supported education and academic excellence over the years. The fund has been a valuable resource for students, faculty, and staff at the University of Nebraska, and it continues to play a significant role in the state's educational landscape. The fund is a testament to the state's commitment to excellence in education and the value of higher education.

MICHIGAN HAS 331 FOREIGN STUDENTS

The University of Michigan, according to the latest reports, has 331 foreign students enrolled, making it one of the leading universities in the United States in terms of foreign enrollment. These students come from various countries, including Japan, Philippines, Argentina and Great Britain, to name a few. The University has one representative in each country.

The University appoints a director in each country to handle the affairs of its foreign students. The director is responsible for the welfare of the students and for keeping them informed about the various events and opportunities on the campus.

The University of Michigan foreign students are encouraged to participate in all University activities, including sports, music, drama, and student government. The University also provides language courses and other support services to help foreign students adjust to life in the United States.

The University of Michigan foreign students are an integral part of the campus community and contribute significantly to the diversity and richness of the University's cultural and social life.

THREE STUDENTS TO TAKE PARTS IN GRAND SCHOOL PAGEANT ON IOWA FIELD

Three University students, Blanche Burdette, John L. Adam, and Miss A. Brown, will take parts in the all-Buffalo pageant to be held Friday, May 19, on Iowa Field.

The pageant is being staged under the direction of the members of the pageant committee and is part of the program of physical education and will include the role of the students from the three University departments of the Buffalo, New York, and New York City programs.

The University of Buffalo pageant will be presented in the presence of the students and guests of the University and the price of admission will include an all you care to eat meal at 11:45.

CONFERENCES OF HISTORY HEADS CLOSE TODAY

The conference of history heads closed today, leaving the University with a wealth of new ideas and a strong sense of purpose.

The conference was held to discuss the future of history education and the role of historians in society. The participants included historians from around the world, and the discussions were lively and thought-provoking.

The conference was a success, and the participants left with a renewed sense of purpose and a commitment to the future of history education.
