ONE HOME

I was told that the summer months were a good time to visit the city. I wanted to visit the city as promptly as was possible. In the meantime, I went to a stampede in City Park.

It is hardly probable that anyone would be interested in this. However, I thought it might be a good idea to mention it. I believe that the best way to approach our history is very different from the way in which it is usually taught. The temperature during the summer months is very much higher than during the winter months. It is clear that the average temperature in July is much higher than in January. For this reason, I think it is advisable to limit the study of history to the summer months.

One of the benefits of the summer months is that there is less heat and more sunshine. In addition, the days are longer, which provides more time for study. It is clear that the average number of hours of sunlight in July is much higher than in January. For this reason, I think it is advisable to limit the study of history to the summer months.

MANY People were surprised to see us frank an advertisement as we did yesterday morning. Said it was too truthful. We didn't think so—we thought our trade would appreciate the low price.

On the most famous clothes in America among men, they have just now what they were advertising.

At ten—three hours past that hour—nine-thirty A.M., we have been open a full hour and a half for the twenty-five cents deposit, and have the privilege of sending them off to top, and can't say what you will do for them. The best way is to turn them in to be

FEATURING:

AN OLD LEGION
In an interview with a Daily Iowan reporter yesterday, Herbert Quick displayed the fact that he, as a writer, has learned a lesson that few of us ever learn. We may know the text of the lesson, but only by actually putting the lesson into practice that it becomes understood. This lesson is, "The things seen and heard are not the things concerned."

Another step towards greater appreciation of the things concerned is the elimination of unnecessary analysis, but there will be time for that after June first.

An anachronism of a student life of Edgar Allen Poe, who seems one term at the institution.

The society takes care of the room occupied by the author, and serves the Poe room, and others feature the memory of the famous American. This is all the more unique since it is known that Poe left the University because his foster father found his behavior was not consistent with his conduct there.

It is probable he has found something to dissipate his time for the next few months, but if so, there will be no more volume. In any case, he spent much of his time in the library.

These last days will be hard, and you know the text of the examinations; but you have acquired something that has been expressed in the pages of this magazine.

You are not expected to thrive in the face of failure, but the examinations; and found that there were other examinations.

In such cases wi) fact that one examination is to clinch the things that are done. The Western Conference was held Friday and Saturday at Minneapolis another step towards greater co-operation between the publishers of the Western Conference. The Western Conference Editorial Association, which held its first convention last year, is organized to promote interest in miscellaneous endeavors and so far it has served in establishing newspapers throughout the middle west colleges that come up to the standards set by the larger city publications.

Last year one of the important topics under discussion was the plan of radio news service. This year the results of this service were good and the continuation of the work was heartily agreed upon.

One of the most important topics this year was the fact that co-operation among the printing offices of the different states was necessary in order to effect the most efficient use of news materials.

Various plans were outlined for the various offices that have been adopted. The printing office for each was supposed to announce a committee of his superiors who would be responsible for such efforts.

With the inauguration of such a plan, the duties of the office in obtaining all information that is likely to be greatly reduced.

The work of the association is to be commended and a continuation of the policy endorsed by the Executive Board of the Western Conference.

CLASS OF '17 PLANS REUNION THIS JUNE

The following letter has been received by the Daily Iowan from Alvin Dupre, chairman of the class of 1917, telling of the big plans the graduates have for a reunion at the Alex Muter Commence-m... .

"The University class of 1917 are making big plans for a reunion in June. It has been five years and they feel that their time has arrived. We plan to have a reunion and to have it during the first week of June.

The official call for this reunion comes from Colorado as the University of Denver.

STUDENT S SLEEPY THIS MORNING AFTER FIRST DAY OF FINAL EXAMS
Students with exams coming,
other students with care-free expressions, all were up at 7:30 a.m., and many students pasty appearing with dead fighters were much in need of rest. Many of the old hands are expected back for this the first year reunion and they will have many varied experiences to relate.

With best wishes in the Daily Iowan, Alvin D. Furtch, 1917 class member.
