The Essays are Pouring In
Who Will Be the Lucky High School College Girls to Win the $100 in Gold in Prizes
All Theses Must Be Mailed Before Midnight of Friday

Any essay bearing your name later than midnight of next Friday, the 13th, will not be eligible to consideration in this contest.

The prizes, we repeat, will be six in number, three of which will go to College Girls and three to High School Girls.

In each class the prizes will be, respectively, $25.00, $15.00, and $10.00.

All College and High School girls are eligible to compete for a prize, no matter where they may live, only provided they are attending a School, College or University within the state of Iowa.

It is not necessary to buy any merchandise in order to compete for a prize, but it is an obvious fact that if you visit the store you are likely to purchase something in addition to the essays you mail.

"Patricia Pettie" Bazaar
and request Miss Ruth Howard, who is in charge of the Bazaar, to enter you in the contest. You will be better qualified to prepare your theses under her supervision.

Your paper must not exceed 100 words. It may contain the name of the girl who believe would be the best bazaar manager, but it must not be an expression of opinion as to the chances of your being selected for the prize.

The essays must be typed or written clearly, must be signed, and must have your name and address, the name of your school or college, and the class in which you are a student.

You will receive a card from Miss Howard, telling you the award has been made.

Mail your theses at once. Address "B" Department, Killian Co., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

YOU may buy higher priced clothes, but you can't buy better clothes than those "Tailored to Measure by Born".

The wear resisting wool fabrics in your eye, you may have unselected choice of color and pattern; the prices will win your approval.

Evidence of the finest needle work may be seen in the appearance of the completed garments; in the fit; the style; the wear; the neatness;

You can ask for nothing money need you accept nothing less.

In an article entitled "The Election of Good Men," the Daily Iowan of December 4th comments on the political situation of the state of Iowa, stating that the candidates should be "good men," and that the election should be "clean" and "free from corruption.

"There is a great deal of talk about the "clean" and "honest" election, but the real question is whether the candidates are 'good men.' The election is not a contest between two parties, but between two sets of people, the 'good men' and the 'bad men.' The 'good men' are those who have the best interests of the state at heart, and who will work for the welfare of all, regardless of party. The 'bad men' are those who are only interested in the personal advancement of themselves and their party. The election should be a contest between the 'good men' and the 'bad men,' and the people should vote for the 'good men.'"

The Daily Iowan also comments on the "pig-man" story, stating that it is a "joke" and that it should be taken for what it is, a mere joke. The newspaper also urges the people to vote for the "good men," and to reject the "bad men," and to vote for men who will work for the welfare of all, regardless of party.

Within the span of a human life the Rock Island has grown from a idea to one of the great rail systems of the world.

The clang of its first engine bell, back in 1852, was the herald of an Empire Builder.

Slowly, surely, inevitably—in the face of obstacles and ontimes ridicule—its sturdy pioneers extended the rails to the West and South.

Across the Mississippi and through Iowa, the Rock Island was first with its rails.

And with it came the refinements of life—civilization, learning, culture, prosperity.

Today the Rock Island serves fourteen states with its 5,122 miles of track. Seventy years of accomplishment! What is more fitting at this time than to commemorate the achievements of its founders—to re-dedicate that memorable anniversary of the Rock Island.

October 10th has been set aside as the day of celebration—the Seventieth Anniversary of the Rock Island.
