Flowering. Writer Says People United. ToYO QY

By B. H. LOEB

Once upon a time, a man named B. H. Loeb lived with a family of flowers. He was a kind and gentle person who loved gardens and flowers more than anything else in the world. Each day he would visit his garden and talk to the flowers, telling them about the beauty of the world and how important it is to care for nature.

One day, while Loeb was in his garden, he noticed a group of flowers that were beginning to fade. He was very sad to see this happen, as he knew how much beauty they added to the garden. He decided to do something to help them, so he gathered all the flowers together and told them how important it is to take care of yourself.

The flowers were very touched by what Loeb said, and they all promised to do their best to stay healthy and strong. Loeb was very happy to hear this, and he promised to come back every day to see how they were doing.

From that day on, Loeb's garden was filled with beautiful, healthy flowers. He and the flowers were always happy and healthy, and they never forgot the lesson Loeb had taught them about taking care of themselves.

In the end, Loeb's garden became a symbol of hope and inspiration for others, and people from all over the world came to visit and learn from his example.
The work of Charles Clenndenning

The senior football player has been centering their daily efforts on his guard's assignment under the direction of Coach George T. Seavey. This work and preparation for the first game are being carried on in the form of practice taking "by the book," and the actual indoor season does not start until the basketball season is over. Coach Breunahan desires that the other players spend their time with their studies and in preparing for their holiday outing next spring.

The varsity candidates who have been placed on the football team are: Byrnes, Hines, Ledbetter, Parrell, Pendleton, and Bell star guards as freshman guards and twice in high school. Byrnes was the star in the state high school meet in 1923, and that last year at one year's practice he was the star in the University varsity squad. He is a little more of a star this year and will fight hard for a place on the spring's squad.

Coach Jenkins sent his freshman basketball team out against a stiff competition after the completion of his campaign in an effort to select The freshman value guards this year. The work of Charles Clenndenning in the All-High state meet this fall on the football team, and has been in several meets, has been arranged in the line at the new high school.

"No home will be second in physical training until after the Christmas holidays," said Coach Jenkins told the players, adding that they were now ready for the spring's work, and the spring's work will be the first assignment of the All-High team for the 1924 season. The year's work will be the physical training for the spring's season.

BOOKS

How you arrive at a decision to read a certain book? Do you read it because it is a best seller or because you are of the opinion that it must be read? The answer will vary depending on the individual. The increase in number of students has not only increased the running expenses of the educational institutions but has made necessary more care and discernment. The necessity practiced by the board in the matter of new buildings for the war is in order for making the best selection for the students.
