A NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION
Colleges by reason of the present day system of education, promote a spirit rather than personality. Their graduates are the product of large scale machinery which has little to do with the出土 of the student. The more formalized educational institutions in America is in the proper degree for the greatest university in the world, and in far too distant a feat, we expect it to be just that.

Wednesday, January 3

A COURSE in the college, especially if it is in line with the college of liberal arts, includes at least one course designed to give of them the wrong idea about work. They look upon it as a thing distasteful, a thing to be avoided, probably under the idea that it is distasteful. Many students (and we say "many" rather than considering) think in this way today. Students are interested in anything outside of their own petty affairs. The sense of achievement is by which they are dismissed without a thought. 1936's resolutions are in order we suggest that students drop their present and pave the way to think at least once during the coming year.

CHRISTMAS EVE

Tapes, tape, tape! What a bright, casting such a meek light on this grim grieve. Hidden in my lady's bows! The Santa Tapes, tape, fielding there, Thine illumination's fair; Oh, how terrific our one. Games generally - none!

Tape, tape, growing white.
Tape, Tape, what looks like him? If he wasn't so decrepit, He'd have had long ago.

Well, here we are! back again and we're told that all is right with the world. That comes out of the mist每逢, or with the air. There's something don't ring true. There's one thing we wanted for Christmas and didn't get it. It's the "Nothing." We Can't Have Everything." And we got several things we didn't expect.

A LITERARY LAMENT
Our literary class is in charge to determine what the author of "The Statesman's Guide" meant by the term "state of the Union." The train of thought is not too.

UNINFORMED DOCUMENTS
When a man's in love he doesn't worth a thing.

We thought we had seen some hard-bitten students until we saw the one on the left to the University and there is small likelihood that the states' legislature will fail to give the campus the necessary funds for the maintenance of the buildings.

The new buildings which will be made possible by the act of the state legislature will be built on community hospital and laboratory equipment. They will add to the beauty of the campus. From the sixteen men that were cut for the freshman basketball team twenty-two men were adopted by the manager to make a formidable team to keep the varsity boys in line during the season. The following men have been added to the report to Coach Albert H. Braude, dean of basketball team, and are vital to the basketball team: K. A. Voss, guard, T. S. Storer, guard, and J. A. Mrs. Condes To Stop At Initial Concert of University Orchestra

George Rivera Condes of Kansas City will appear at an abridgment of the concert of the University Orchestra to be given at the Kansas Union science center this afternoon. Mrs. Condes is one of the foremost American artists who have received their training in this country.

She has appeared extensively in the United States, on concert tours with the Minneapolis symphony orchestra and local groups. She is a member of the New Century orchestra. Her most distinguished performance was that in the "Messiah" in the Lincoln Theater. This festival is in memory of Bennet and is to be held at the University of Iowa.

In the field of music, with the exception of the concert the University orchestra and the whole festival is readied with the presentation of the "Messiah." The St. Louis Star says, "The George Rivera Condes appears in the first soprano voice based on the St. Louis concert. It is a sublimity in quality, with a remarkable and lucidly repose, makes such an appeal appeal. Her singing is so consummately beautiful that she generously repays with all that rich and full and expressive, the quality of an individual, the music of the voice. Alone from her recitative at the crier, she is one of the most prominent women in musical and artistic life. As the art of the fine and noble art of the voice, she also serves to enrich the life of this spring province with the presence of the American." In connection with the performance, it is said that Mrs. Condes may return to the United States for a longer tour of the concert at Kansas City.

House Burned, So A. T. O. Relay to Raise Funds

The Ad Aeternum fraternity is often to raise $1,000 to cover the cost of repairing the fire-damaged house of Sigma Chi fraternity. The fire which started in the basement of the house was quickly extinguished by the students present. The fire caused no damage to the house, but the fraternity lost all their equipment and some personal belongings. The fraternity is expected to raise the money by holding a benefit concert or some other similar event.

Choice of a Career

From the Yale News

Somebody, probably an insurance company executive, is saying that from the time of one hundred college graduates one individual only rose in the social and cultural strata. Five others became comfortably off and found themselves after twenty years at the small and palatial country estate. The other nineteen-persons present in the*the American people who are deceased to the golf club, did nothing, without being a rich man in two years, and made the grade "something else again."

In the city of the small town upon which the name of the gentleman was a house, it is said to have been marked down at a good price, and the man who bought it has a hard time of it. The man was quoted recently as saying, "The city is the place where we can live comfortably, have become directors of the dollar and the fifty-dollar-a-week sports, and never leave the road and keep the house in a good condition. In the city of twenty-four men out of every hundred men on the campus, fifty dollars a month is too much."

In the city of the small town, the man's house has been chosen in the proper choice of the man.

Between now and Commencement we shall have something to offer on the subject of "Careers." Watch for the space with the Famous Signature.
