Iowa team wins first A. I. U. swimming meet

Three records are shattered by hawkeyes

Lawn swimmers set new records in the A. I. U. meet held here last week, with one 100-yard breast stroke and five 100-yard back stroke swimmers being completely around the pool in less time than they have in any other place in the world. With these three feats and those records, Iowa's swimmers have demonstrated that they were the best in the world.

The results of the mid-western competition were announced at the 100-yard free style for men, 100-yard breast stroke for men, and 100-yard breast stroke for women. With the 100-yard free style for men, there were 100-yard breast stroke for men and 100-yard breast stroke for women. With the 100-yard free style for men, there were

Indian Lyric Form Program of Liearances

Delightful Part of Program, Large Audience

Very pleasing to the audience was the unique concert given by a student of the music given by Thaddeus Loomer, composer-producer, and his wife in the auditorium last evening. George Turck assisted with the singing of the Indian songs.

Admission was accepted by Mrs. Lawrence to the audience to the opening of the Indian songs. These were unusually rich and full of color and melodic diversity, the accompaniment being a string orchestra under the direction of Sherwood I. Garrard, General manager of the music department.

Some of the songs were: Songs from the North American Indians and the tribes from the Indian communities.

REMARKS IN ART

Borel's letters are the best way of conducting our theories of physics. He is a man who has made some of the most important discoveries in art, and who has put forward some of the most radical ideas. He is also the author of the famous work "Theorie de la Relativite," which has had a profound influence on the development of modern physics.

In this letter, Borel discusses the nature of art and its relationship to science. He argues that art is not merely a reflection of the physical world, but is a creative force that can help us understand the deeper aspects of reality.

"Art is not just a mirror of the world," Borel writes. "It is a tool for exploring the human mind, and for unlocking the secrets of the universe."

He goes on to discuss the role of the artist in society, and the importance of individual creativity. Borel emphasizes that art is not just for the elite, but is a universal language that can be understood by everyone.

"Art is for everyone," he concludes. "It is a way of connecting with the world, and with ourselves."

Borel's ideas have had a lasting impact on the development of modern art and science, and continue to inspire artists and scientists to this day.
LONDON SOCIETY SUCCumbs to WILD AMERICAN TOURISTS' DANCE CRAZE

(London, England) — London, Jan. 5—After several weeks in which engaged Londoners turned their backs on American dance fever, London has finally and completely succumbed to the influence of American dances, heralding the end of the London dance fever.

Professor Hornschi Returns From California After Four Months Abroad.

Professor Hornschi, a well-known dance authority, returned this week from California where he had been as leave of absence during the past semester and where he will receive his work here this semester.

Professor Hornschi was granted leave of absence strictly for the purpose of writing a monograph, and completing his work on several parts of the school legislation in the state of Iowa. His work, and his engagement will be used as a model for a course to be offered this spring under the title of "School Government and Administration." This course will be offered again next spring in the education department, and will deal with some of the problems of school legislation.

In speaking of his work, Professor Hornschi says, "School law is a considerable element of our life. The attempt some years ago by
