JESSUP ACCEPTS CARNEGIE POSITION

Higher Education Owes Great Debt to Carnegie Foundation

"To provide retiring position for the leaders of universities, colleges, and related institutions in Canada and Newfoundland" and "is general to do and perform all things necessary to promote, aid, and directly or indirectly benefit the cause of higher education within the United States, its territories, possessions, and countries of the American continent, and in Canada and Newfoundland." - Excerpt from the original charter of the Carnegie Foundation.

President William A. Jessup has accepted a new position with the University of Iowa, effective May 1, 1963. Jessup will become the 12th president of the university, succeeding President Chester A. Field, who is retiring after 10 years of service.

Prominent State, City Personages Express Regret at Jessup’s Leaving

Dr. Jessup, a well-known figure in higher education, will be sorely missed at the University of Iowa. Many prominent state and city personages have expressed their deep regret at his departure.

Jessup Takes Position of Close Friend

President Jessup has decided to assume the position of close friend in his retirement. He will be joined by President Field, who will take on the role of close confidant. Both men have expressed their intention to stay in close contact and support each other in their new roles.

S.U.I. President Will Leave May 1 to Begin New Work With Eastern Organization

"The appointment of the president was made yesterday by the board of trustees of the university. The new president, Dr. Jessup, will succeed Dr. Field in the position of president of the university. He will begin his duties on May 1, 1963." - Announcement from the University of Iowa.

Jessup Distinguished By Long Tenure in Office

President Field, who has served the university for 10 years, has been a cornerstone in the university’s development and growth. He has held various positions, including that of president, and has been a strong advocate for higher education.

Jessup Takes Position of Close Friend

President Jessup has decided to assume the position of close friend in his retirement. He will be joined by President Field, who will take on the role of close confidant. Both men have expressed their intention to stay in close contact and support each other in their new roles.

THE DAILY IOWAN, IOWA CITY

OFFICIAL DAILY BULLETIN

For a Greater Future

So GREAT and so varied have been President Walter A. Johnson's accomplishments during the 20 years in which he has been associated with the University of Iowa, that it is impossible to measure them then. For, even though one might be able to measure some accomplishments and new buildings and increases in faculty, it would be impossible to measure the most important effect which has come.

The university has grown in size, and demertively that by comparison of report at the beginning of the second alternative, new buildings are noticeable. First, the new library, second, the new music building, third, the new chemistry building, and fourth, the new physics building. In the past, there was a taste of report in the growth of the university which has been, under his headsip, far greater than the university of America.

One of the reasons for the thought of President Johnson's being the fact that he had proved himself, not simply the growth in educational lands in America, to teach the Centennial Foundation, but to increase the interests in the interests of America education.

Four years previously President Johnson will find an opportunity to carry the pool worldwide as the University and the state a wider field. The Carnegie Foundation has been able to gather in one of the greatest educational figures in the world.

In the past the foundation has been able to accomplish in the United States in 1939, Iowa will have the satisfaction of knowing that the University of Iowa was a major factor in the breadth of the great institution.

wrote, "The only success that Carroll's album didn't need was the success that it didn't need. It didn't need to be as good as it was, but it didn't need to be bad either. Carroll was smart enough not to put out the album the way it was but he put it the way it was.
And he has a very great advantage that the majority of the public doesn't have. It's that he's the only one who knows what he's doing."

St. Mary’s Wins Over Powerful St. Ambrose Quintet, 18 to 8

Air-Tight Defense Holds Saints Basketless Until 2nd Half; Win Fourth Straight for St. Mary’s

By Vic Belger With 9 Points, Bradley, Connaught, Mahler With 4 Each Help Tranman Lasers For Second Time in 13 Years

The air-tight defense that carried the Spokane in their last game failed to materialize tonight in West Liberty when the St. Mary’s Lasers, under Vic Belger, completely shut out St. Ambrose until the second half of the game. The Lasers won 18 to 8.

Irish Rough Alumni Win 27 to 22 Win

By DENNY KANEY

St. Mary’s played a little house. St. Ambrose played the city. St. Mary’s played a three-year veteran. St. Ambrose played a rookie. St. Mary’s played a small, quick team. St. Ambrose played a big, slow team. St. Mary’s played a team that had just been whipped by a tough opponent. St. Ambrose played a team that had just won a close game.

Despite the rough description, St. Mary’s played with fire and determination. The Irish Rough Alumni showed that they had just played a tough game and were tired. The St. Mary’s team played with a great deal of heart.

The game began with an championship atmosphere. The Irish Rough Alumni took the lead early and held it throughout.

The game continued with a series of exciting plays. The Irish Rough Alumni played with great determination and skill.

The game ended with a series of nail-biting moments. The Irish Rough Alumni held on for the victory.

Little Hawks Plan Strong Zone Defense

Positioning of a new defense formed a key element in the victory of the Little Hawks over the Saints tonight. Coach Bill Jones, who has been instrumental in the formation of the new defense, said that the key was to have the whole team playing as a unit.

The defense was successful in preventing the Saints from scoring until the second half of the game. The Saints scored two points in the second half.

Colleges For Football Men

By Maj. Griffiths Principal Speaker; Stewart Coachmaster

The Saturday night football banquet in memory of the late William H. Griffiths was held at the St. Mary’s College of Commerce. The banquet was attended by a large number of students and faculty members.

The banquet began with a prayer, followed by speeches by Maj. Griffiths and Stewart. Maj. Griffiths spoke on the importance of football in the college community, while Stewart spoke on the history of football at St. Mary’s.

The banquet ended with a dinner, during which the students and faculty members had the opportunity to socialize and enjoy each other’s company.

DIXIE DUGAN—Home Again

Dear Dixie,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to express my sincere gratitude for all the joy you've brought into our lives through your performances. Your recent concert was nothing short of spectacular, and the audience was absolutely thrilled. The energy you bring to the stage is contagious, and it's clear that you truly live and breathe your craft.

I've been reflecting on the impact your music has had on me, and I wanted to let you know how much it means to me. Your songs have become a regular part of my day, and they lift my spirits when I need them most. Your voice has a way of cutting through the noise, and finding peace in the chaos.

I'm looking forward to the next concert! Your fans are eagerly waiting for your next performance, and I know it will be as memorable as the last. Keep shining that light, Dixie, and keep spreading happiness and love through your music.

With love and admiration,

[Your Name]
