China's Lifeline Endangered By Nippon's Army

Generalissimo Chiang Exercites Former State Leader

Shanghai, Jan 14 (AP) - Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's army, apparently reinforced and after killing 2,000 Japanese in desperate lastminute battle at Taiping, has killed 1,000 more Japanese in its efforts to hold the line against Nippon's drive to the south.

At most the Japanese generalissimo appears to have attempted to carry out orders to contain the advance and meet the Chinese forces at Taiping.

Chinese and Japs, both of which have more men than the other, engage in pitched battles every day and neither side has the advantage in numbers.

Every Home With Children Has Its Feeding Problems

By JOHN CLEVERDEN, M.D.

Young parents often are given to the notion that they can feed their babies and youngsters as long as they wish to. They may wish to do this because of a desire to keep their children as well-nourished as possible. But there are changing and regulating which the American countries.

In the spring will be hoped that they can, in the spring, return to their own country.

Three Artists to Interpret Traditional Jewish Art in Concert Here Monday

Three painters artists will be featured on a program of traditional and modern Jewish art Monday evening at the Iowa Human Relations Center. The program is sponsored by the University chapter of the Jewish National Fund and is part of the Jewish Year celebration. The artists are all members of the Jewish National Fund and have been selected for their outstanding contributions to Jewish art.

Three paintings by S. S. Tannenbaum, a painter who has been active in the Jewish National Fund for many years, will be featured on the program. The paintings are "The Hebrew School," "The Synagogue," and "The Jewish Home." Each painting will be accompanied by a brief talk by the artist about the work of the painting.

Hospital Patients Select Books

Hospital Library on Wheels

Thousands of patients in University and children's hospitals have had their reading interest stimulated through the University's "Hospital Library on Wheels." The service has been a success and the hospital library has been able to accommodate the needs of the patients.

Two patients in children's hospitals have been visited by the hospital library. One patient was a girl who had been bedridden for several weeks. Her father, who was a registered nurse, brought the girl to the hospital library and she was able to choose a book to read. The other patient was a boy who had been injured in an accident. He was able to choose a book to read during his recovery.

The weather outlook for the region is generally favorable for continued growth. The temperatures are expected to remain above average, with moderate winds. This is good news for the agricultural industry, which relies on consistent weather patterns for optimal crop development.

For the week ahead, the forecast predicts clear skies and sunny weather conditions. The daily temperatures will range from 65°F to 80°F, providing ideal conditions for various outdoor activities. The absence of precipitation will allow for better outdoor gatherings and activities.

In addition to the weather outlook, there are several key developments in the local community. The recent appointment of Prof. E. B. Keeler as the new head of the School of Journalism at WSUI is a significant milestone. Prof. Keeler, with his wealth of experience, is expected to bring a fresh perspective to the school and enhance its academic offerings.

Furthermore, the school is planning to expand its facilities and improve its equipment, which will undoubtedly benefit the students and faculty. The community is looking forward to the future under the leadership of Prof. Keeler, confident in the school's continued success.

The event you mentioned earlier, which took place yesterday afternoon, featured a special guest, Mrs. Gladys Mooney of Detroit, who spoke about the importance of women in the workforce and their contribution to society. Mrs. Mooney's speech was well-received, and the attendees appreciated her insights and wisdom.

The reception following her talk was a vibrant event, with guests enjoying refreshments and engaging in lively conversations. The organizers were pleased with the turnout and hope to continue hosting similar events to foster community engagement and learning.

In conclusion, the community is looking forward to the upcoming months with optimism and enthusiasm. The combination of favorable weather conditions and promising developments in the local community is creating a positive atmosphere.

Local Parties Present Cases In MOL Fight
Appeal Continues After Des Moines CIP League

The state supreme court prom

ounced judgment in the case of the MOL appeal of the last manu facturing item, which was heard on February 2nd. The court ruled that whether the 40 CIP councilmen who had challenged the MOL's existence would be allowed to proceed with their case had not been decided yet. The court scheduled the case for further hearing. MOL's lawyer told the court that the case had been filed in the MOL's name and that it had been opened for the benefit of the public.
