Long-Delayed PWA Projects To Begin Soon
Grants and Loans Will Aid Government Construction

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP) — The government will start pouring money into a long-dreaded national recovery program tomorrow when the first $350,000,000 in $8,000,000,000 worth of loans will be made to municipalities in 50 states and the District of Columbia.

Despite the delay, the government has worked to keep the pressure on the states to get the public works projects started.

In the past two years, the government has spent more than $4,000,000,000 on a variety of projects, including waterworks, roads, and schools.

The $350,000,000,000 will be divided among the states in proportion to their population, and the states will distribute the money to the municipalities.
